MARSHALL TALKS WITH VANDENBERG AND BRITISH ENVOY ON BERLIN CRISIS

Conferences Held as London Sources Report Western Powers Plan Appeal to U.N. Unless Stalin Acts.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11 (AP)—Top British and United States officials, including Senator Vandenberg, a chief Republican policy-maker on foreign policy, conferred today on the Berlin crisis with Russia.

Secretary of State George C. Marshall talked with Vandenberg and the British Ambassador, Sir Oliver Franks. He engaged in a series of conferences with the top leaders, talking with them separately rather than in a round-table discussion.

Franks visited the State Department twice. After his second call Franks made clear to reporters that the unusual Saturday conferences dealt with the crisis in negotiations of the Western allies to get Russia to lift the blockade of Berlin.

Vandenberg Noncommittal.

Vandenberg, asked by reporters whether he and Marshall conferred on the Berlin situation, replied: "Your imaginatoins are not amateur. I'm not saying anything."

The chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee has been a constant participant in fashioning the bi-partisan foreign policy. He came to the Marshall conference from a New York meeting with Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, the Republican presidential nominee, last night. The New York conference was attended by John Foster Dulles, Republican foreign policy adviser and member of the United States delegation to the United Nations.

In his first State Department visit of the day, Ambassador Franks talked about 45 minutes with Charles E. Bohlen, State Department counselor and Russian expert. Then he drove to the Embassy and returned for a meeting with Marshall.

U.N. Plea Reported Planned.

The Washington conference came amid reports by Western diplomatic sources in London that the United States, Britain and France will ask the United Nations to investigate the Berlin crisis if a new direct bid to Russia for a settlement fails. These sources said the envoys of the three Western powers in Moscow had been instructed to request an immediate new meeting with Prime Minister Stalin to reach a settlement.

The State Department termed "purely speculative" this report of instructions to the Western envoys.

A Moscow dispatch quoted a reliable source as saying the envoys were exchanging important messages with their home capitals on the next step in the four-power talks on the Berlin problem. United States Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith was roused from his bed at 3 a.m. to reply to messages from Washington. However, indications are that there is little chance for four-power talks this weekend, the dispatch said.

(The United Press said "a well informed official in the United States" indicated there might be no further attempt to negotiate with Russia before the problem is laid before the United Nations. The official said he expected that a joint "white paper" will be issued by the three Western powers within 48 hours stating that Russia is at fault in the Berlin crisis and the Western powers are carrying it to the U.N.)

If the Western powers resort to U.N. machinery, the step could be taken either through the Security Council or the General Assembly. The Security Council is scheduled to meet in Paris

Miner's Daughter to Wed Wealthy Polo Player, Francis Hitchcock

STEPHANA SAJA

Girl Who Left Small Town to Be Wall Street Secretary Tells Mother of Betrothal.

WINDBER, Pa., Sept. 11 (AP)—A coal miner's wife today announced the betrothal of her daughter, Stephana Saja, 23 years old, to Francis Hitchcock, wealthy polo player.

Mrs. Mary Saja Turk, 58, whose first husband died a few years ago of miner's asthma, looked up as she did her household chores and said, "I don't think 'Steffie' was happy in Windber. I don't think she'll ever return."

She said her daughter, who went to New York to become a secretary of a Wall Street brokerage firm immediately after her graduation from Windber High School in 1943, told her of her betrothal when she returned home on a visit last weekend.

(The United Press quoted Miss Saja at Daytona Beach, Fla., as saying marriage would take place "this week." She declined to answer other questions. Hitchcock could not be reached for comment.)

Hitchcock, a brother of the late Tommy Hitchcock, famed polo player, was divorced in 1934 from the former Mary Atwell and later married a model, Mary Grammer.

The Rev. John Loya, pastor of St. Mary's Greek Catholic Church, said Stephana had visited him to obtain special dispensation to marry Hitchcock, who is a Roman Catholic. (The United Press reported the priest said he told the girl that "under no circumstances could the church allow her dispensation" to marry Hitchcock.)

Mrs. Turk said her daughter had invited her to attend the wedding but declined, because she thought it was too far to travel at her age.

Mrs. Turk married Steve Turk, a 60-year-old miner, last year. They live in the same neat, small house in which Stephana was born Jan. 9, 1925. It is located on Railroad street in the "Mine 36" section of Windber, so named for the gaunt mine tipple of the Berwind-White Coal Mining Co., 300 feet away.

The gray house stands behind an unpainted picket fence and faces a 200-foot tall pile of "boney," a mine refuse, across the street. Coal-dusted maple and birch trees stand in front.

Stephana Saja, who, with her marriage will step into a life of ease and security, had a childhood in which the necessities of living were of prime importance.

Her mother said Stephana's four sisters also have left Windber to work in New York.

Stephana's is the second rich man-poor girl romance this year involving a Pennsylvania coal miner's daughter. A few months ago the wealthy Winthrop Rockefeller wed the former Barbara (Bobo) Sears of Noblestown, another coal mining community some 60 miles west of Windber.

JOINED TWIN GIRLS WEEK OLD, KEPT IN OXYGEN TENT

LANSING, Mich., Sept. 11 (AP)—A pair of joined twin girls were reported in poor condition today at Edward Sparrow Hospital where they were born Sept. 5. They are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rick of Holt, Mich.

Hospital authorities at first said the twins were born Tuesday but Dr. Thomas M. Spaulding, in charge of the case, said the rare birth occurred at 4:35 a.m. Sunday.

"It is necessary to keep them in oxygen constantly," the physician said. "The babies are joined at the pelvis and lower abdomen. They have a separate upper abdomen, chest, head and arms."

Usually, the doctor pointed out, joined twins are joined at the shoulder.

They weighed together nine pounds and one ounce, Dr. Spaulding announced. He declined to discuss the possibility of separating them by means of an operation.

The hospital said the mother was recovering.

The first case of joined twins occurred in 1811 when the famous Chang and Eng brothers were born in Siam.

BUYING ONLY NEEDED FOODS WOULD HALVE COST, SAYS BANK

"However, People Do Like to Eat Well," Monthly Review Observes.

BOSTON, Sept. 11 (UP)—Consumers could cut their food bills in half if they reduced eating to simple necessities and robbed it of many pleasures, the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston said today.

Even at current high prices, such a reduction would still afford an adequate and healthful diet, the bank's Monthly Review said.

"However, people do like to eat well and they can now afford to buy all the quality food that currently can be produced," the review said. "Everyone is complaining about high prices but no one seems to be able to do anything about them, except pay them."

Migrating Birds Fall by Hundreds In Darkness in New York Streets

NEW YORK, Sept. 11 (UP)—A huge flight of migratory birds, flying over Manhattan, was felled early today and for hours the bodies of the dead and injured "literally rained" down into the streets surrounding the Empire State Building.

Police theorized they apparently crashed into the tower of the building, the world's tallest skyscraper, in the darkness.

The incident was duplicated in Philadelphia where hundreds of small birds fell dead to the streets during the night after striking tall buildings.

In New York, hundreds of bodies were picked up, most of them on Fifth avenue, by Department of Sanitation workers and employes of the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

Hundreds more rained down onto the parapets of the building, but police said most of them were only stunned and revived a few minutes later.

Police said the birds began falling about midnight and the "shower" continued for more than four hours.

Police said the flight apparently contained thousands of birds, and office workers in skyscrapers near the Empire State Building could hear them chirping plainly above the hubbub of downtown Manhattan.

There were six or seven different species of birds among the bodies found in the streets.

An ornithologist from the Bronx Zoo said most of the birds in the flight apparently were oven-birds. Others were Maryland warblers and redstarts.

He said the species involved were "day birds" which cannot see in the dark but once they get in migratory flight "keep going through the night unless they hit fog, rain, or an air disturbance."

A policeman investigating the phenomenon said it was "literally raining birds." He said the birds began dropping in the streets about midnight. One officer reported that "you can scoop them up by the shovelful on the parapets" of the buildings.

Motorists driving along Fifth avenue stopped and picked up live birds and took them home.

SLUM BOND DRIVE OPENS; HOUSING PROJECT FOR AREA NOW 'VERY CLOSE'

Ford Tells Meeting of 180 Leaders of Proposed St. Louis U. Campus, 'Monumental' State or U. S. Building.

A project for construction of apartments or hotels in the general area between Chesthut and Olive streets, from Fourteenth to Eighteenth streets, is "very close to development," James L. Ford Jr. announced yesterday at a meeting opening the campaign for passage of the $16,000,000 slum clearance bond issue.

Ford also disclosed at the meeting in Kiel Auditorium that St. Louis University has under consideration a suggestion that it purchase ground from the city to create a campus in the proposed slum clearance area, along Grand boulevard from Lindell boulevard to Laclede avenue and extending eastward an indefinite distance.

Ford, described as the "father of the bond issue proposal," reported to 180 leaders of civic, labor, religious and business groups at the meeting that "negotiations are on now for construction of a monumental state or federal building" on the south side of Market, just east of the post office, between Fifteenth and Seventeenth streets.

Warning on Difficulty.

Passage of the bond issue—to remove the city's No. 1 eyesore from Fifteenth street to Grand and from Market to Olive-Lindell—will be "no easy task" because two thirds of the voters at the Nov. 2 election must approve the proposal and their attention will be largely on the presidential race, Richmond C. Coburn, chairman of the Citizens' Committee for Slum Clearance, warned the committee.

Many pertinent questions about the slum clearance program were raised by the committee members at the meeting. Their questions brought assurances that no one would be moved out of the area until satisfactory temporary housing was available to them; that the bond issue should not result in any increase in taxes; that the assessed value of new housing to be built in the area will be higher than the present value of the property, thus giving the city more revenue, and that churches which want to remain in the area will not be disturbed.

St. Louis U. Proposal.

Regarding the campus proposal, Ford said: "I am not a Catholic but I take great pride in the accomplishments of St. Louis University. A face-lifting like this (in the area just east of the university) would mean a great deal to the school.

"We asked Father Holloran (the Very Rev. Patrick J. Holloran, S.J., president of the university) why St. Louis U. should move west on Lindell and West Pine. Would they not prefer a campus extending to Laclede or farther south, with athletic fields and new buildings?

"Father Holloran replied that he knew of nothing that would be of greater interest to the university."

Ford said today that a university campus at the west end of the slum-cleared area would give a "monumental entrance" to the district. Regarding the public building on Market street, he pointed out that the state has space in buildings scattered through the city and said the question has come up whether the state should

PILOTS' UNION BARS PARTY FOR TROPHY WINNER

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 11 (AP)—A hero's welcome for Johnny Johnson, winner of the Thompson speed trophy at the National Air Races in Cleveland, was called off yesterday because of "union pressure."

C. Jack Roberts, president of the Miami Springs council, said a luncheon planned tomorrow in honor of the young pilot was canceled "due to terrific pressure brought to bear by the pilots' union."

Johnson, whose regular job is pilot for National Air Lines, won $18,000 top money in the Labor day speed classic. The AFL Air Line Pilots' Association is on strike against National Air Lines.

Capt. W. T. Babbitt, regional vice president of ALPA said he "couldn't see making a hero out of a scab." He added that the ALPA "will do everything in its power to prevent any official of Greater Miami from greeting the so-called hero."

Johnson was not available for comment.

INDIAN TROOPS ARE REPORTED TO HAVE INVADED HYDERABAD

Official Says Action Occurred After Nizam Refused to Permit Them to Enter City.

KARACHI, Sept. 11 (AP)—The office of Hyderabad's agent general in Pakistan tonight quoted the Hyderabad radio as saying that Indian troops are reported to have entered Hyderabad territory.

The invasion was said to have occurred after Hyderabad's Nizam rejected India's demand that Indian troops be stationed in the city of Secunderabad. Indian units attacked from the Sholapur district of Bombay province and captured the village of Afzalpure on the India-Hyderabad border, the account said.

The agent general's office also announced that Hyderabad had been cut off from all telephonic and telegraphic communications.

STATE SUSPENDS ACTING HEAD OF SALES TAX OFFICE, 3 AUDITORS HERE

Evidence of Payoffs Reported in Irregularities Which May Have Cut Collections From Firms by $1,000,000.

Four employes of the St. Louis sales tax collection office, including the acting head, have been suspended following an investigation of alleged irregularities, it was announced today.

Those suspended are:

Raymond S. Webbe, assistant supervisor and acting head, 2637 St. Vincent avenue.

Ralph Pepoon, an auditor, 1422 Andrew drive, Warson Woods Village.

William I. Savage, senior auditor, 2653 Eads avenue.

Eugene Calcaterra, junior auditor, 5146 Pattison avenue.

"Evidence of Irregularities."

Col. Hugh Waggoner, chief of the Missouri State Highway Patrol, which made the investigation at the direction of Gov. Phil M. Donnelly, told a Post-Dispatch reporter his men had found "evidence indicating gross irregularities in the St. Louis office."

He estimated that more than $1,000,000 may have been withheld from the state in its sales tax collections due to the irregularities.

"We have uncovered evidence indicating payoffs of $300, $400 and $700," Waggoner said. "How many there have been we do not as yet know. In some instances firms were solicited to enter an arrangement for cutting taxes."

How Payoff Worked.

The usual procedure, he said, was for a company, with the knowledge of the state employe, to report lower gross sales than the correct total, thus reducing the sales tax payment. The state employe participating in the arrangement would receive a "kickback" or "payoff."

It was learned that investigators are seeking to determine if any accounting firms are involved in the irregularities. There were indications the Federal Government may enter the inquiry on the basis that firms reporting false totals on sales to the state may also have done the same thing on their federal income tax returns.

G. H. Bates, state collector of revenue, said that, out of 25 cases checked here on the collection of sales taxes from business establishments, it was decided to file additional assessments, plus penalties, against two of the firms. The total amount sought, including penalties, will be about $15,000.

Hearing to Be Held.

Bates wrote to the four suspended employes today, advising them they will have an opportunity to make an explanation at a hearing to be held later. He informed them their suspensions resulted "from developments in the office" and would remain in effect pending the current investigation.

The state collector said no specific charges had been made against any individual. The employes under suspension could not be reached for comment.

The Highway Patrol's inquiry went back as far as Jan. 1, 1943—the latest date when violations could be prosecuted under the statute of limitations.

Letter Charged Payoff.

Recently Bates received a letter stating that an employe of the St. Louis office of the State Department of Revenue had accepted a $700 payoff in return for reducing sales taxes charged against a St. Louis concern several years ago. It was subsequently reported that an investigation failed to corroborate the information.

The sales tax division is in the State Revenue Department building at 2730 North Grand boulevard.

Webbe receives $3600 a year, Pepoon and Savage $2520 each and Calcaterra $2200. Pepoon, son of the late State Senator Percy Pepoon and a brother of Mrs. Mada Wood, Democratic committeewoman for the Eighth Ward, was suspended as a deputy circuit clerk in 1937 after he was accused of accepting $100 to get a St. Louisan a job with the Police Department. He later was employed in the city assessor's office.

IRKED TO TUNE OF $20,500 BY SUIT ON ROOSTER'S CROW

Fowl's Owner Seeks Damages From Woman for "Malicious Prosecution."

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 11 (AP)—If a rooster has "a constitutional right to crow," the rooster's owner apparently believes he can sue anyone who seeks court action against him.

Hugh Browning filed a suit for damages here yesterday against Mrs. Thelma Blevins, asking for $20,500 for what he claims was her "malicious prosecution" of him.

Browing was in police court May 25 on a warrant signed by Mrs. Blevins. She declared that his rooster crowed so much she had not had a good night's sleep in several weeks. Judge Homer McLellen said at the time that a rooster has "a constitutional right to crow."

The judge dismissed the case, however, after Browning's attorney told him that Browning had taken the offending fowl to his farm near Anchorage. In his damage suit filed yesterday, Browning alleged he was humiliated and embarrassed by the prosecution by Mrs. Blevins.

$20,000 Reynolds Painting Stolen.

LONDON, Sept. 11 (UP)—An unfinished painting by Joshua Reynolds, valued at $20,000, was cut from its frame in the home of the Earl of Carlisle early yesterday, authorities reported today. The earl, an art connoisseur, was away from his country mansion at the time.

PETITION FOR GRAND JURY INVESTIGATION OF GRAFT AT SPRINGFIELD IS FILED

'AMERICA UNITED AGAINST AGGRESSION'—VANDENBERG

World Put on Notice After Talk With Dewey That Campaign Won't Divide U.S. on Basic Rights.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11 (AP)—Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg (Rep.), Michigan, said last night there will be no controversy during the forthcoming presidential campaign "over the basic fact that America is united against aggression and against the foes of freedom."

He made his comments in a statement following a conference here with Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, Republican presidential nominee, and John Foster Dulles, foreign affairs adviser to Dewey.

Vandenberg said the three had "canvassed the foreign policy problems which confront our country, including the situation in Berlin."

Vandenberg said regardless of political differences at home "we are serving notice on the world that America is united to protect American rights everywhere and through firmness in the right to seek peace with justice for ourselves and the other peace-loving peoples of the world."

Vandenberg, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, added:

"It is of the greatest importance that other nations which do not understand our political system should not be misled by our political campaign at home.

"We shall be in internal controversy regarding many phases of foreign policy. But we shall not be in controversy over the basic fact that America is united against aggression and against the foes of freedom."

Today it was announced that Dewey will campaign for the presidency in Colorado, New Mexico, Arizona, California, Oregon and Washington this month after opening in Iowa.

Dewey's swing to the Far West, after opening his campaign in Des Moines Sept. 20, will keep him hot on Truman's trail through the same area.

Dewey's first public appearance in the campaign will be at Rock Island, Ill., Sept. 20.

After speaking in Iowa two days after Truman's address at Dexter in the same state, Dewey will make major speeches in Denver, Sept. 21; Albuquerque, N.M., the next day; Phoenix, Ariz., Sept. 23; Los Angeles, Sept. 24, and San Francisco, Sept. 25.

After a Sunday layoff Dewey will make three speeches Sept. 27—at noon in Portland, Ore., before the Republican state convention; in the afternoon in Tacoma, Wash., and in the evening in Seattle.

3 SMALL BOYS HIT, KILLED BY AUTO IN EAST ST. LOUIS

2 Brothers and Cousin, Aged 6, 7 and 8, Reported Apparently on Way to Carnival.

Three small boys were killed in East St. Louis today when they were struck by an automobile as they were crossing State street at Twenty-ninth street.

They were John McPherson, 8 years old and his brother, Jerry, 6, sons of Mr. and Mrs. John McPherson, 2906 Jefferson avenue, East St. Louis, and their cousin, Ray Schmitt, 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Schmitt, 2617 Ridge avenue, East St. Louis.

Witnesses said the boys apparently were on their way to a carnival held by the East St. Louis Junior Chamber of Commerce on one of the corners of the intersection.

As they stepped from the curb, they were hit and knocked to the street by the machine driven by Murlin Bannister, 27 years old of 1 Indiana avenue, Belleville.

Bannister was held for the coroner. The three boys were taken to St. Mary's Hospital, East St. Louis, but they were dead on arrival.

Police said Bannister told them he was driving west on State street and the children stepped in front of his machine as he approached Twenty-ninth. He said he could not stop in time to avoid hitting them.

MOTHER, MISSING BOY, TRACKS HIM TO WELL, SAVES HIM

GIBSON, Ga., Sept. 11 (UP)—Protection of her child is considered a mother's expected duty and not heroism by Mrs. Taylor Logue.

Mrs. Logue neglected to mention to anyone outside the family what happened Thursday. She missed her two-year-old son on the Logue farm and tracked him in wet soil to the brink of a deep well. Her worst fears were confirmed when she saw her child's hands thrashing above the surface of the water, 35 feet below her.

Without a thought she plunged down the shaft into the 16-foot waters and held the boy above the surface while she clung to the slippery sides of the well.

Her husband, attracted by her screams, threw down a rope. He pulled his wife and son almost to the surface and the rope broke, plunging them into the water again. On the second try, with a strong length of clothesline, they were rescued. They were uninjured but suffered from shock.

Only a chance remark brought the incident to light.

GEORGIA NEGRO WHO INSISTED ON VOTING IS KILLED

One Man Held, Another Sought After Election-Night Shooting at Alston.

MOUNT VERNON, Ga., Sept. 11 (AP)—A Negro father of six children was shot and killed because he insisted on voting in Georgia's Democratic primary election, Sheriff R. M. McCrimmon said today.

The Negro was identified as Isiah Nixon, 28 years old, of Alston, Ga. Sheriff McCrimmon said the man died in a hospital at Dublin, Ga., from three gunshot wounds received the night of the election Wednesday.

McCrimmon said he was holding Johnnie Johnson, 22, an Alston logger, on a charge of accessory to murder and is seeking to arrest his brother, M. A. Johnson, on a charge of murder.

The sheriff said he was told Nixon went to a polling place in Alston Wednesday and asked if he could vote.

Nixon was told, McCrimmon said, that he had the right to vote but was advised not to do so. He said Nixon insisted, however, and was allowed to cast his ballot.

McCrimmon said the two Johnson Brothers went to Nixon's home that night and that M. A. Johnson fired the fatal shots in front of the Negro's wife and children.

According to the sheriff, Johnnie Johnson said he and his brother went to the house to get Nixon to work for them and that his brother fired in self-defense.

Georgia's Democratic primary for Governor was won overwhelmingly by Herman Talmadge, who campaigned on a platform of "white supremacy" and opposition to President Truman's civil rights program.

Nixon died in Claxton hospital at Dublin, the same hospital in which Talmadge was confined for several days before the election when he received a fractured leg in an automobile accident.

SAILOR HELD, $50,000 IN OPIUM SEIZED ON VESSEL AT BOSTON

BOSTON, Sept. 11 (UP)—Customs agents arrested a seaman and seized 25 pounds of gum opium worth $50,000 early today in a shipboard raid of the Saginaw Victory.

Led by Deputy Collector Duncan Grant, the officials boarded the ship at its berth in East Boston after a port officer had seized the seaman while he was leaving the vessel with some of the narcotic.

Search of the ship, he said, revealed the packages of narcotic were hidden between the decks of the vessel. The ship reached here Thursday from Antwerp by way of Rotterdam and New York.

Burglar Tickles Feet of Sleeping Woman as He Flees With $35 Loot

A playful burglar took $35 early today from the trouser pockets of Gene Broadway as he and his wife, Mary, were asleep in bed at their home, 5039 Kensington avenue.

The burglar entered the house by cutting a hole in the latched front screen door, took the money out of Broadway's wallet and replaced the wallet without awakening either Broadway or his wife.

Before he left, however, the burglar could not resist the temptation to tickle Mrs. Broadway's feet. She awakened and screamed, arousing her husband, but the man fled before either of them could stop him.

MONDAY HEARING SET BY COURT ON YOUNG BUSINESS MEN'S REQUEST

Good Government League's Plea Backed by Other Civic Organizations, Asks for Special Prosecutor.

By ROY J. HARRIS
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Sept. 11—A petition for a special grand jury and a special prosecutor to investigate gambling and graft in Springfield and Sangamon county was presented in circuit court today by nine leading citizens under the auspices of the Good Government League.

Judge Dewitt S. Crow, who received the petition from Charles H. Northrup, attorney and president of the Good Government League, suggested that Northrup appear in court on Monday for possible arguments on the action called for in the request. The petition was accompanied by affidavits attesting the accuracy of Post-Dispatch stories on gambling and the collection of $10,000 weekly by a gambling syndicate for "protection"; by clippings of the Post-Dispatch stories and by resolutions by other local organizations calling for grand jury action.

"Widespread Violations."

The petition stated the grand jury action was needed "to inquire into alleged widespread violations of the criminal code, particularly violations of laws prohibiting gambling and lotteries, and the alleged combination of persons, reported to include some public officials, who are reported to extort and accept money in exchange for permitting such illegal activities to continue."

A special prosecutor was sought, the petition stated, "to conduct and control the investigation, and to prosecute all indictments and informations returned by the grand jury, and with all powers and authority of a state's attorney."

State gambling laws were violated, the petition stated, "through the operation of gambling devices and games known as punchboards, crap tables, dice games, card games, bingo games, horse racing handbooks, lotteries, raffles, football pools, baseball pools, tip boards and other devices." The gaming devices were installed in "drug stores, restaurants, hotels, taverns and night clubs."

Sheriff Is Quoted.

The petition added that on Aug. 11 the Post-Dispatch printed an interview with Sheriff Meredith J. Rhule in which the sheriff was quoted as saying "he was well aware that illegal gambling activities were being conducted within Sangamon county, and that he did not intend to prohibit such activities." The petition quoted Rhule further as "intimating that he might accept gifts from night club operators known to be conducting gambling activities."

Signers of the petition, besides Northrup, were: G. W. Bunn Jr., president of the Springfield Marine Bank; Fred K. Lawson, printing firm owner; the Rev. Dr. Richard P. Graebel, pastor of First Presbyterian Church; Dr. Fred Fink, medical director of the Franklin Life Insurance Co., G. E. Stickney, principal of Lanphier High School; G. C. Walbaum, assistant trust officer of First National Bank; Kurt T. Bretscher, investment broker and Mrs. Zepha Clowd, secretary of the Good Government League.

Younger Business Group.

Presentation of the petition for a grand jury was voted Thursday night by the Good Government League, composed of the younger business men and attorneys of Springfield. The action followed a resolution adopted by the organization Aug. 27, calling for "a thorough-going inquiry looking to the indictment and conviction of any public official of the city or county who may be found guilty of accepting bribes for the violation of his oath of office."

The resolution was adopted following publication in the Post-Dispatch interview with Sheriff Rhule, in which the sheriff acknowledged he was permitting open gambling in the county and said he would continue to do so. The sheriff refused to affirm or deny that he was accepting graft from gamblers, asking "if some night club owner wants to make me a present, why shouldn't he?"

On the day preceding the Good Government League resolution proposing a thorough inquiry, Rhule announced he had ordered the shutdown of gambling, both commercial and in private clubs. Asked about his change of attitude, Rhule said: "I think there has been a change of public feeling about gambling. I don't believe the public wants it any more after the publicity here and in Peoria."

The Good Government League resolution was sent to the Springfield Ministerial Association, which sought advice from the Sangamon County Bar Association on a proposal for grand jury action. The lawyers voted to appoint a committee of three past

SENATORS TRACING EXCESS EXPORTS OF CAST-IRON PIPE UNDER FAKE LABEL

Charge Enough for 2700 Homes Went Overseas as 'Concrete Pipe' for Which No Permit Is Required.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11 (AP) —A Senate investigation of export frauds centered today about a 1947 overseas shipment of enough cast-iron pipe to have supplied 2700 homes.

Senators wanted to know how Robert Mistrough of New York managed that. They claim the much-needed pipe was exported as "concrete pipe"—which requires no export permit.

Mistrough is due to tell his story when the Senate investigating subcommittee headed by Senator Ferguson (Rep.), Michigan, winds up hearings Wednesday. The group is in recess until then.

"It's like investigating a sieve," Ferguson said. "We can check on a few holes, but we can't check all of them."

Testimony on Forgeries.

Witnesses have told the committee of forged export licenses, altered licenses and shipping declarations, phony signatures, and altered records in the Commerce Department's Office of International Trade.

William Rogers, committee counsel, insisted OIT must adopt a "get tough" policy and jail some of the violators to stop the fraud in overseas shipments.

OIT Counsel Nathan Ostroff and Wallace S. Thomas, OIT director of export operations, said controls will be tighter now that Congress has supplied funds for policing European recovery program shipments.

Admits Aiding Friend.

Peter Lektrich, one-time OIT licensing officer, acknowledged under oath that he granted two licenses to his friend Mistrough to ship excessive amounts of scarce materials such as cast-iron pipe and bathroom fixtures.

Lektrich said he became nervous about the licenses when he saw that Mistrough was advertising in a trade journal he could supply the scarce goods with licenses for shipping. Lektrich said he thought Mistrough had already received orders.

Lektrich said he altered the duplicate licenses on file with OIT and tried to get Mistrough to return the originals. However, he said, Mistrough had shipped most of the goods by the time he could talk to him.

Lektrich said he resigned from OIT after the license scandal was uncovered.

MANY NATION'S BUCHMANITES ASSEMBLY IN SWISS TOWN

CAUX-SUR-MONTREUX, Switzerland, Sept. 11 (AP)—Hundreds of delegates have arrived at this small Swiss town for a world assembly of Dr. Frank N. D. Buchman's moral rearmament movement.

A special plane brought 40 representatives from the United States and Canada, including Senator Cain (Rep.), Washington. Other planes brought delegates from the Scandinavian countries, France, Great Britain and Holland. Fifty British coal miners will arrive tomorrow to join German miners from the pits of the Ruhr.

For the next 10 days, the delegates will enxchange experiences and listen to addresses. The agenda includes such questions as how to project on a world scale an answer to warring ideologies; how to increase coal production in Great Britain; how to find a basis for European and world unity; the future of the great socialist parties of Europe and new incentives that bring increased production to European coal fields.

SEARS SPENDS $19,134,400 IN NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING

CHICAGO, Sept. 11 (AP)—Sears, Roebuck & Co. spent a record breaking $19,134,400 in newspaper advertising last year, Editor & Publisher, trade journal, said today.

The big mail order and retail merchandise house hiked its newspaper advertising by $4,065,524 over 1946, the previous record year. Its record expenditure was spread among 1099 dailies and weeklies and represented an estimated 199,009,000 lines of advertising space.

Editor & Publisher quoted T. V. Houser, Sears merchandising vice president, as saying, "Sears has become an increasingly good customer of the nation's newspapers. . . . Our present evaluation of their effectiveness is based entirely on day-to-day sales results in Sears stores (625 in every section of the country) and by this yardstick we find their pulling power as great, if not greater, than ever."

TOWN GETS ITS BELL BACK, BUT SOME DON'T LIKE IT

RICHMOND, England, Sept. 11 (AP)—A German bomb destroyed the striking mechanism of the town clock here in 1940.

For eight years Richmonders longed to hear the bell again. Two weeks ago, the striker finally was fixed.

Now a group of residents has petitioned the Town Council to have the bell silenced. It keeps them awake nights.

Pauper's Oath for L.S.U. Ex-Head.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 11 (AP) —Dr. James Monroe Smith, former president of Louisiana State University and a leading figure in the Louisiana political scandals, took the pauper's oath yesterday. The action relieved him of paying a $5000 fine levied against him in 1939. In addition to the fine, Dr. Smith and four others were sentenced to 30 months in federal prison on conviction of fraud in connection with the sale of hotel property to L.S.U.

Found Shot to Death in Home

MR. and MRS. LEONARD C. SCHOFIELD, who were found shot to death Thursday in their apartment in Worcester, Mass. Mrs. Schofield, former wife of Victor J. Miller, who was Mayor of St. Louis from 1925 to 1933, was killed by her husband, who then ended his own life, police reported. Letters referring to their serious financial difficulties in 1941 were found. Mrs. Schofield received half of Miller's $160,000 estate when they were divorced in 1934.

ERP NATIONS REACH ACCORD ON ALLOTMENT OF U.S. AID

First Year's Schedule Gives Bizone $50,000,000 Less Than Clay Requested—Currency Agreements Yet to Come.

By JOSEPH E. DYNAN

PARIS, Sept. 11 (AP) — The nations of western Europe have reached the first milestone in working together for mutual recovery when their delegates agreed on the division of $4,875,000,000 in American aid funds. The decision for the initial year of the European Recovery Program still has to be filled out by an agreement on currency exchanges.

The council of the Organization of the European Economic Co-operation organization prepared these agreements in a six-hour session last night. Work on the scheme for currency payments will continue today.

As soon as the council agrees on the currency proposals it will go to work on the details of the 1948-49 recovery program for submission to the American Economic Co-operation Administration. Each participating nation is to alter its program to conform with the aid allotments drawn up last night. The complete program should be ready by Sept. 25.

Bizonal Dispute Resolved.

The council's action apparently settled the dispute over how big a share should go to the British-American bizone of Germany.

Gen. Lucius D. Clay, United States commander in Germany, is reported to have asked about $465,000,000 for the bizone, $100,000,000 more than the OEEC at first assigned to it.

The council decided that the bizone should get $364,000,000, plus an additional $50,000,000 which was taken from funds allocated to Britain, France, Italy, Holland and Sweden. The extra $50,000,000 thus was one half of the additional funds Clay had been insisting on. Another $40,000,000 was set aside to purchase sterling in Britain for the bizone. The French zone of Germany will receive $100,000,000 under the schedule.

The proposed division of American aid for the first year, as revealed by the council, gave Britain the greatest amount—$1,223,000,000. This was a cut of $10,000,000 from the British share in the schedule originally drawn by the council's subcommittee of experts. This reduction, along with cuts of $20,000,000 for France, $10,000,000 for The Netherlands, and $5,000,000 each for Italy and Sweden, made up the $50,000,000 extra granted to the bizone of Germany.

$989,000,000 for France.

France drew the highest amount after Britain—$989,000,000. Other allotments included: Italy, $606,000,000; The Netherlands, $496,000,000 of which $84,000,000 is earmarked for the East Indies; Belgium, $250,000,000; Austria, $217,000,000; Denmark, $110,000,000; Norway, $84,000,000; Eire, $79,000,000; Turkey, $50,000,000; Sweden, $42,000,000; Trieste, $18,000,000, and Iceland, $11,000,000.

Greece was allotted $146,000,000, but reliable sources said both the Greek and Turkish delegates have attached reservations to their approval of the schedule. Both contended their shares were not sufficient, the sources said.

No allotments were made for Portugal or Switzerland, since it was agreed neither country is in need of American dollars.

Under the proposed intra-European assistance program, six "creditor" nations — countries which are expected to export more than they import—are to open credits in their own currencies to other nations in need of imports.

The six nations which are to set aside $555,000,000 in their own currencies are Britain, the bizone of Germany, Belgium, Sweden, Turkey and Italy. The beneficiaries of these funds are France, The Netherlands, Austria, Greece, Norway, Denmark and the French zone of Germany.

Britain is the chief contributor—$285,000,000—and France the main beneficiary—$323,000,000.

Problem of Currencies.

The chief problem remaining before the council is a system of currency exchanges for ordinary European commercial exchanges. Belgium wants to be able to use a balance in one country for purchases in another, a system which implies free convertibility of European monies. Britain opposes making the pound freely convertible, at least not when the pound is "weak" compared with the hard currencies of Belgium, Switzerland and Portugal.

The Economic Co-operation Administration yesterday allotted $10,000,000 for a loan to Sweden for the July-August-September quarter. The announcement said that when terms and conditions of the loan have been agreed on, Sweden would use the money to buy essential goods and services in Western Hemispheric and other countries not participating in the Marshall plan.

$3,500,000,000 in Goods Expected to Be Bought in U.S.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11 (UP)— Arthur G. Syran, director of the Economic Co-operation Administration's transportation branch, said today American and foreign flag vessels will split the tonnage on $3,500,000,000 worth of United States recovery goods for Europe during the first year of operations.

He indicated in an interview that at least that amount of recovery purchases would be made from firms in the United States.

Under the so-called "50-50 flag rule" laid down by Congress, at least half the gross tonnage of ECA purchases made in this country must be carried to Europe in American vessels. The rest can be transported in ships bearing the flag of any of the recovery nations. The rule has been under attack by some foreign nations which feel that it is discriminatory.

PETITION IS FILED FOR SPRINGFIELD GAMBLING INQUIRY

presidents to confer with the ministers on the matter.

In its resolution, the league declared that "illicit activities have in the last two years become so widespread in the community that prostitution has become flagrant and gambling devices have crowded into all public places, all to the degradation and shame of the Community."

Twenty-five Springfield ministers, in a separate action, wrote Gov. Dwight H. Green that there were "alarming indications of gang activity and mounting evidence of widespread political corruption and involvement of public officials." The ministers, who asked that state highway police be turned loose on the gamblers, have an appointment with Gov. Green for 4 p.m. Monday for a discussion of the situation. The ministers' group will be headed by the Rev. E. E. Bollinger, pastor of Harvard Park Baptist Church.

Investigation by Post-Dispatch reporters revealed that payoffs collected by the Zito syndicate, for distribution to leaders of the syndicate and to city, county and state officials amounted to the amazing sum of $10,000 a week, until the recent "lid" was clamped on by Sheriff Rhule. Activities which paid off ran the gambling gamut, from dime punchboards to handbooks and casino dice games. Gambling casinos included in the payoffs were the Orchid Lounge, Pad, Lake Club and Countree Club. Eight handbooks and eight commercial poker games operated openly in the city.

In addition to the proposed county grand jury inquiry into gambling and its attendant graft, a full-scale inquiry by the Federal Bureau of Investigation into reports of systematic kickbacks on Illinois state highway contracts will begin here next week. The inquiry was announced Thursday by Howard Doyle, United States attorney, who said Justice Department officials had approved his request for an investigation of "alleged irregularities in the use of Federal road funds in Illinois." Any evidence that the Government was defrauded as a result of the reported kickbacks and political "luga" will be presented to a federal grand jury to be impaneled here Sept. 27.

'APPRECIATION OF PERILS TO OUR INSTITUTIONS LACKING'

HOUGHTON, Mich., Sept. 11 (AP)—Senator Ferguson (Rep.), Michigan, said today "there is a lack of appreciation of the peril to our institutions from within by those in control of our destiny."

Ferguson, in an address at the dedication of the Houghton county international airport, said Canada has done a better job than this country in guarding against Communist infiltration.

Ferguson is chairman of the Senate Investigations Committee which has been inquiring into the Government's loyalty program. He has repeatedly criticized President Truman and the Justice Department for refusing to give the committee information on the program which he says it requires.

FUGITIVE HAS GOOD RECORD, GEORGIA WAIVES EXTRADITION

WAUKESHA, Wis., Sept. 11 (UP) — Chester Owens, who escaped from a Georgia chain gang after serving eight months of a three-to-five-year term for auto theft, considered himself a lucky man today.

Authorities discovered that Owens was a fugitive when he was arrested recently on a speeding charge. Officers here told Georgia authorities that Owens had been captured, but they also told of his good citizenship record as a resident of Waterford, Wis., since his escape.

On the basis of that information, Georgia officials said they would not seek to have him extradited. Owens was freed yesterday after he pleaded guilty and paid $100 fine on the traffic charge.

EMPLOYER FRONT FALLING APART IN N.Y. TRUCK STRIKE

285 Operators With 2278 Employes Sign Up—West Coast Dock Tie-up Unbroken.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11 (AP) — Striking AFL truck drivers today continued their inroads against a once-solid employer front, signing additional operators to their modified wage demands.

The agreements, reached individually with the trucking concerns, further loosened the 11-day tie-up which had threatened the metropolitan area's supply channels.

John E. Strong, the striking local's president, said today that 285 operators, employing 2278 of the union's 9400 struck members, had signed contracts accepting the scaled-down terms.

More than 120 firms agreed to terms yesterday, some within an hour after the strikers decided to lower their wage increase demands from 25 cents to 17½ cents an hour.

The companies signed up under the new contract are among some 1812 trucking concerns with which the union, Local 807 of the AFL International Brotherhood of Teamsters, had contracts before the strike began.

Major Employers Stand Pat.

Although union officers appeared confident that many of the other firms would soon agree to the terms, a spokesman for the major truck employers associations didn't agree. Joseph Adelizzi, chairman of the employers' labor committee, said the truck owners will refuse to budge beyond their offer of a 15-cent hourly pay increase.

This was turned down by members of Local 807 Sept. 1, and approximately 10,000 of them walked off their jobs. The strikers had demanded a 25-cent hourly wage boost, plus an employer-financed welfare plan.

The scaled-down demands, adopted at a mass meeting of strikers yesterday, call for insurance, accident and sick benefits, special pay differentials, in addition to the 17½-cent hourly increase. Previous pay rates ranged from $53.90 for helpers to $71.40 for trailer-truck drivers.

Pacific Coast Developments.

Meanwhile in San Francisco CIO Longshore Leader Harry Bridges has passed to shipowners the responsibility for working Army cargo in the strikebound Pacific coast ports.

Bridges "stepped out from under" yesterday after Secretary of the Army Royall announced in Washington that Bridges had agreed that his union would load Army cargo during the strike for pre-strike pay and "working conditions."

Royall said the matter has been referred to the Army's stevedoring contractors. Bridges termed Royall's statement an "ultimatum" to the shipowners.

He declared: "It is the shipowners who now must give the Army an answer."

He added the Royall statement meant Army work "would not be done under conditions demanded by the Waterfront Employers' Association, namely compliance with the Taft-Hartley law." He asserted the Army was primarily "concerned with moving cargo."

An employer-spokesman said the Army statement was not necessarily an "ultimatum." The spokesman said pre-strike "working conditions" would include activities by longshoremen without their officers signing non-Communist affidavits. The association has announced it would have no further dealings with the longshoremen until such affidavits were signed.

Union Rejects Demands.

Bridges also told the association in letter late yesterday his union had rejected, "by secret ballot," employer demands that the union's leaders sign the affivadits. The vote was taken of longshoremen on the Pacific coast, Bridges said, with 10,740 voting against their leaders signing the affidavits and 376 voting in favor of signing.

He said the longshoremen also voted, 10,780 to 236, to reject the employers' last offer. (The employers previously had said the last offer had been withdrawn; therefore, the employers asserted, there was nothing upon which to vote.)

The tie-up has been on for 10 days, with 28,000 men on strike, a total of 50,000 affected, and 160 ships tied up.

The longshoremen are asking for a 13-cent-an-hour wage increase with, or 15 cents without, retroactivity. The employers have offered 10 cents without retroactivity.

The CIO oil refinery workers' strike against six major California producers entered its second week today with no settlement in sight.

An oil industry allocation committee announced after a meeting in Los Angeles that motorists would get three-fourths of their normal supply of gasoline. As the pinch began to be felt, California assumed a new role and began to import gasoline from Oklahoma.

Negotiations continued in an effort to end the strike of 16,000 workers. The strike started Sept. 4 and has threatened to dry up gasoline stocks in the five western states, mainly dependent on California production.

FLORIDA'S NEXT GOVERNOR LIKES CALIFORNIA ORANGE JUICE

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., Sept. 11 (AP)—Well, Florida, it happened. Your next Governor sipped a glass of California orange juice yesterday and said: "Wonderful."

How did it compare with Florida orange juice?

Fuller Warren parried: "It meets the taste test"—standard on acid, sugar and solid, he explained, set by a United States Government horticulturist.

Warren, 42 years old, who won his state Democratic primary and is therefore a safe bet as the next Governor, held a champagne press conference. (He stuck to California orange juice.)

The Floridan said he's here to find out how his state's growers can sell citrus at a profit, as Californians do, rather than at a loss.

UEW DENOUNCES MARSHALL PLAN, REBUFFS CAREY

Convention Refuses to Record Local's Exoneration of Anti-Red Secretary-Treasurer.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11 (AP)—The CIO United Electrical Workers closed a five-day convention last night with condemnation of the Marshall plan.

A resolution to that effect was passed over opposition from a minority led by CIO Secretary-Treasurer James B. Carey.

The last convention act of President Albert J. Fitzgerald was to refuse to enter into convention records an exoneration of Carey by his local Philadelphia union.

The local had asked for inclusion of the proceedings of its board Thursday. It exonerated Carey of charges contained in a convention resolution that he defamed the union by criticizing alleged Communism in it before a House labor subcommittee last week.

Fitzgerald ruled the hearing could not be considered part of the convention.

Other actions of the session included a resolution against the Taft-Hartley Act.

The Marshall plan resolution said the American foreign aid program should be administered under United Nations control instead of through the Marshall plan.

The resolution charged the Marshall plan was causing "a war economy" in America and "interference in internal affairs abroad."

Carey was voted down on a substitute foreign resolution calling for support of the Marshall plan, rejection of dictatorship in all countries and full recognition and arms for Israel.

Carey said he had discussed European recovery with President Roosevelt and the Marshall plan represented the late President's program. He opposed the "bickering and discord" of the United Nations.

Ernest de Maio, a UEW vice president from Chicago, charged the Marshall plan was being run by and for "big business." He said it included shipping non-essentials to Europe for business interests.

YUGOSLAVS PROTEST KILLING OF TITO'S SOLDIERS IN GREECE

LONDON, Sept. 11 (AP)—Yugoslavia protested to Greece yesterday over the killing of its soldiers in what Greek War Minister George Stratos said was a Yugoslav invasion. The note, reported by the Yugoslav news agency Tanjug, said the soldiers wandered by accident into Greece during a dense fog "without any intention or desire to violate the Greek frontier." The Greeks said 20 were killed and three captured.

The Yugoslavs asserted a Greek soldier was killed in a skirmish on Yugoslav soil and that others left behind some mortars and ammunition. The Greeks have been fighting Greek guerrillas near the Yugoslav border in the Vitsi triangle.

(Dispatches of Tass and Tanjug, the Soviet and Yugoslav news agencies, quoted Albanian news agency reports from Tirana today that Greek artillery fired into Albanian territory 22 times Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.)

VISCOUNT GREENWOOD DIES; FIGURE IN IRELAND STRIFE

LONDON, Sept. 11 (AP)—Viscount Greenwood of Holzourne whose name was once one of the most hated in Ireland, died yesterday. He was 78 years old.

As Sir Hamar Greenwood he was cabinet chief secretary for Ireland during the anti-British disorders of the early 1920s. He held the post during the stormy days of the "black and tans," the police force sent into southern Ireland to combat the underground Irish Republican Army.

Greenwood's life was threatened frequently and long after his retirement from active politics in 1929 a police guard was maintained over his home.

$5000 SUIT OVER GOLF INJURY

WILMINGTON, Del., Sept. 11 (AP)—A suit was filed in United States District Court yesterday asking for $5000 damages for injuries received from a golf ball.

J. Homer Houston of West Grove, Pa., filed the suit against John B. Escott of Lancaster Village, Del. Houston charged he suffered a left leg fracture when struck last Sept. 21 by a ball hit by Escott as he teed off on the eighteenth hole at the Kennett Square (Pa.) Golf and Country Club. Houston said Escott failed to give "a timely warning."

Confiscated Brandy for Sale.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 11 (UP) —Customs officials want someone to take 1161 gallons of Portuguese brandy off their hands. The Customs Bureau seized the brandy four years ago after it was imported by a Chicago firm. Revenue tax has accrued to $10,545.40. No bids were offered on the 484 cases when the brandy was offered for sale two weeks ago. A second sale was set for Sept. 28.

Wallace Stirs Revival Meeting Fervor in Yankee Stadium Rally

Crowd of Nearly 50,000 Leaves Singing 'Battle Hymn of Republic' After Hearing Him Say He Tasted Fascism in South.

By ALVIN H. GOLDSTEIN
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11—Nearly 50,000 faithful followers of Henry A. Wallace paid admissions to Yankee Stadium last night to hear him report on his crusade against racial discrimination in the Solid South. The reception the former Iowan received in his adopted city belied the Biblical proverb that a prophet is without honor in his own land.

The rally, held in the immense baseball plant, resembled an old-fashioned religious revival meeting more than a political demonstration. To spectators in the press box who have seen many of both, it was reminiscent of the days of Billy Sunday and the sawdust trail.

As the vast audience filed out of the stadium shortly after midnight, after more than four hours of oratory, voices were lifted in almost reverent fashion to the tune of "Battle Hymn of the Republic." As they sang, they smiled.

A Look of Exaltation.

No one hurried; no one pushed. They moved slowly and happily toward the exit to the nearest subway—their faces disclosing a complacency that comes only with the conviction they had been "saved."

"From the village, from the city, all the nation's voice roared," they sang. "Down the rivers, 'cross the prairies, like a torrent it has poured. We will march like Gideon's Army. We will fight with Gideon's sword, for the people's march is on—Glory, Glory, Hallelujah" the triumphant singing could be heard long after leaving stadium doors.

It was evident from the relatively brief speech of the Progressive party candidate that he will make his fight in New York on the civil liberties issue.

"If there is one message above all other messages which I bring you as a result of that southern trip," he told his enthralled audience, "it is this: Fear arrives from passive acceptance of evil and the greatest remedy for fear is to stand up and fight for your rights."

Says He Tasted Fascism.

He compared treatment of the Negro in the South to fascist practices abroad, adding that now, Fascism was to him "no longer a second-hand experience." Prolonged applause, greeted his declaration that having tasted Fascism "I have reinforced my solemn resolution to fight it wherever and whenever it appears as long as I live."

A deeper significance, however, could be found in the result of his tour, he said. It was less important that he was the target of eggs and tomatoes at some points than that he spoke at peaceful, non-segregated meetings elsewhere.

"In the steel towns it is profitable to keep labor divided," he said. "North against South, race against race, farmer against worker—the profits of the men who own the South are multiplied by keeping the people divided. But their days are numbered."

In a dramatic gesture, he summoned a Negro supporter to the stand. "I will never rest" he said, "until this man can sleep in the same hotel that I occupy when he accompanies me on a trip."

Jim Crow may be readily abolished, he asserted, by enforcement of the fourteenth constitutional amendment, requiring reduction of congressional representatives in states where the right to vote is abridged.

Views on Berlin.

At the outset Wallace departed from his text to declare he condoned "neither the German stoning nor the Russian shooting" that has marked rioting in Berlin this week.

He urged that America be the "peacemaker, not the warmonger" in Europe, and said 'the quicker we make peace" with Germany and Russia, "the better for all of us."

The former Vice President said his party is made up of "those who stand against the course which leads to war."

He said "it does not matter if they call us red or black, if they lie about us or egg us or stone us. We will not join the Republican-Democratic poker match which governs out of the backroom—from the bottom of the deck."

When Wallace left the platform, surrounded by a smartly uniformed police escort, a cheer arose and the cry of "We want Wallace" was resumed until, with a final wave of the hand, he disappeared from view.

Crowd Mostly Youthful.

Then the crowd, laughing and singing began to file out. Young faces were predominant. There were surprisingly few Negroes. It had the general appearance of a group that might be found attending a high school athletic meet which attracted alumni, students and their parents. A sprinkling of elderly people was observed, but this was no Townsend plan audience.

The meeting, postponed Thursday night because of rain, got off to a slow start. Nearly 20,000 were in the triple-decker stands that night when the downpour began about 7:30. Last night at the same hour fewer than 5000 had arrived and skeptics were beginning to wonder if Wallace's hypnotic hold on his adherents had been weakened.

An hour later seats were comfortably filled in the 65,000 capacity park and boosters were predicting a standing-room-only crowd of 70,000 would appear. Wallace's own Progressive party and the American Labor party, his only other organized adherent, had boasted their candidates would fill the park with paid seat-holders.

Oddly enough, the 50-cent bleacher section was the most sparsely filled part of the stadium. The $3.60 seats seemingly were nearly all occupied. The only other outstanding vacant places were at the extreme ends of the upper tier of the grandstand where it joined the unprotected bleachers.

Terrific Build-Up.

By the time Wallace appeared—after 11:30 p.m.—the build-up had been terrific. Notable Broadway performers, including Paul Robeson, Negro, had furnished entertainment, most of it consisting of songs with a socially significant slant.

Leo Isaacson, A.L.P. Congressman from New York; John Rogge, former assistant United States Attorney General and chairman of the New York State Wallace-for-President Committee, and Lee Pressman, former CIO counsel, steamed up the crowd.

Vito Marcantonio, left-wing congressional leader from the Harlem district, delivered the finishing touches with an inflammatory if-that-be-treason-make-the-most-of-it type speech in which he likened the policies of the Wallace Progressives to his own A.L.P., described by some critics as Communistic.

Appeal for Funds.

For the next hour, William Gailmor, radio commentator, wheedled donations from the audience, obtaining sums ranging from $10,000, contributed by a local furrier's union, down to small change. An amazing spectacle was presented when he asked the audience to wave $1 bills for ushers to collect. It seemed that the entire audience arose as one person, flourishing currency.

The money was speedily gathered by attendants in the stands. One of them naively entered the press box in commendable zeal when he saw a woman correspondent open her purse. The reporter, however, intended only to powder her nose.

A sophisticated member of the Progressive party public relations staff chased the usher out. The total take was not announced, but from the rapid enumeration of gifts over the loudspeaker, it was evident the sum was considerable.

Wallace's Entrance.

After the money was in, Marcantonio solemnly declared that Wallace was the next speaker. A line of uniformed policemen formed at the field entrance. Photographers assembled with posed cameras. The band struck up a triumphal tune. The huge audience began to chant: "We want Wallace."

When he appeared several minutes later, bedlam broke loose in the stands. Torn bits of paper served as confetti.

Cheers and shouts were deafening. As he made the long walk from home-team dugout to the speaker's stand erected at second base, Wallace waved a greeting which stirred the audience to greater efforts.

The chorus of "We want Wallace" continued for nearly 10 minutes until Marcantonio called for quiet on the ground that delay would mean payment of extra rental for the ball park.

WALLACE MEN LOSE ROUND IN ARKANSAS

Secretary of State Says Ballot Petition Does Not Meet Requirements of Law.

LITTLE ROCK, Sept. 11 (AP)—Supporters of Henry A. Wallace, presidential nominee of the Progressive party, have lost in their first effort to place electors on the November general election ballot in Arkansas.

They filed a nominating petition for seven presidential electors, designated as independents, a week ago yesterday, during Wallace's visit here.

Secretary of State C. G. Hall announced yesterday he was refusing to accept the petition because it did not meet requirement of state laws—specifically acts passed in 1935 and 1941 which bar "un-American" parties from the election ballot.

The law further requires state officers of any newly organized political party to file an affidavit that "it is not directly or indirectly affiliated by any means whatsoever with the Communist party of the United States."

Hall said these affidavits have not been filed.

Hall said he was not at this time "barring Mr. Wallace's electors from the ballot," although he said months ago that he would if he could do so legally.

Illinois Progressives Take Fight to Supreme Court.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Sept. 11 (AP)—The Progressive party's fight to get state and national candidates on the Illinois Nov. 2 election ballot reached the State Supreme Court today.

The Progressives asked for the court's permission to seek an order compelling the state certifying board to OK their ticket.

The certifying board refused to do this after the state electoral board ruled the party's nominating petitions invalid. The ruling sustained Democratic objections that the Progressive petitions did not have the legally required 200 valid signatures from each of at least 50 counties. In their court plea the Progressives contended the signature requirement was unreasonable.

Until yesterday, Supreme Court action was blocked by a technicality rendering Gov. Dwight Green, a member of the certifying board, immune from mandamus proceedings. Yesterday he waived immunity.

Progressives Fail in Effort to Qualify in Nebraska.

OMAHA, Nebr., Sept. 11 (UP)—The Progressive party failed today in its last-ditch attempt to qualify for a place on the Nebraska general election ballot.

When the state founding convention reconvened here today only seven persons were in attendance. Nebraska law requires that at least 750 electors be present to found a new party.

Edward Sloan, Progressive party organizer from national headquarters, conceded defeat.

The Progressive's first attempt to establish the party in Nebraska at the opening of the convention last night also ended in failure. When the convention adjourned at 11 p.m., an official count by Secretary of State Frank Marsh showed only 283 persons had signed the roster.

DEMOCRATS MAY DROP FIGHT TO BAR WALLACE SLATE ON STATE BALLOT

Indication of No New Action After Nelson Rules Petitions Qualify All but Two Third Party Candidates.

By BOYD F. CABROLL.
Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 11—An indication that the Missouri Democratic organization will refrain from making any further attempt to keep the Progressive (Wallace) party ticket off the ballot in the November election was given yesterday in a statement by Forrest Smith, Democratic nominee for Governor. Henry Wallace is the Progressive party's candidate for president.

Following the announcement of Secretary of State Edgar Nelson that the Wallace ticket, in large part, would be certified to city and county election officials, Smith said:

"In my opinion, the people should be permitted to vote for whom they wish. This is a democracy."

Nelson, who three weeks ago refused to accept the nominating certificate presented by Progressive party officials, and who required the filing of petitions by the new party, ruled yesterday afternoon that the petitions had a sufficient number of signatures, and said he would certify the names of the presidential electors and the state candidates.

Two Candidates Ruled Out.

He found the signatures supporting congressional candidates in the Second and Twelfth Districts insufficient. Therefore, Nelson said, he will not certify the candidacies of Clarence E. Bingaman, 4717 South Compton avenue, St. Louis, Twelfth District, and Bruce Watkins of Centralia, Second District.

Nelson qualified his announcement by saying that he would act as stated "unless otherwise ordered by the court."

The only case now before the Supreme Court is a mandamus suit filed by the Progressive officials after Nelson ruled against the nominating certificates. Since he has now ruled that the petitions are sufficient to place the third party ticket on the ballot, the question of the certificate apparently is of no importance.

It would be possible for the Democratic objectors to bring an injunction suit against Nelson, attacking the validity of the petitions. Such a proceeding would have to originate in circuit court.

H. P. Lauf, Jefferson City Democratic politician and former legislator, who filed the original objections to the Wallace candidacies, said he was not ready to say whether any new legal action would be taken. He nominally represented Bert Koester, Democratic collector of Cole county.

Mrs. Margaret Bush Wilson, Negro lawyer and vice chairman of the Progressive party in Missouri, expressed hope, in a statement issued today, that Democratic party forces would "give up their efforts to deny free elections."

Pleased With Ruling.

Asserting that the Progressive party leaders are pleased with Nelson's ruling permitting their candidates names on the ballot, Mrs. Wilson added:

"We are waiting for word from Mr. Nelson also to certify the two official nominees of the Progressive parlty in the Second and Twelfth Congressional Districts. The right of these two candidates to a place on the ballot depends not upon the nominating petitions; it depends upon the fact that we have fulfilled the law in regard to becoming a party and that these candidates filed for these two offices as all other candidates for other parties did."

Nelson said that the Progressive petitions, with 53,109 signatures by his corrected count, met the requirements of the law, which calls for a number equal to 2 per cent of the vote in the last state election, or less than 22,000.

Nelson apparently accepted the argument made by Progressive speakers at Thursday's hearing on the petitions, that the signers need not be registered voters. The law requires signatures of "qualified electors" and there was no showing by the objectors that the signers did not meet that requirement. Nelson did not discuss the objection made to registered voters who were shown to have voted in the Republican or Democratic primary.

East Side Wallace Chairman Quits in Party Dispute.

Mrs. Beatrice Kadas of East St. Louis yesterday announced her resignation as chairman of the Twenty-fifth Congressional District chairman of Henry Wallace's Progressive party because of "organizational difficulties."

Mrs. Kadas refused to discuss her resignation, but Fred J. Nebgen of Belleville, Progressive candidate for state treasurer, said she had differed with state leaders and had resented the assignment of a new organizer to her district. Conrad Komorowski, field representative, said Mrs. Kadas had assured him she had not altered her convictions and would continue to "boost and vote for Wallace."

Komorowski said the office of the Illinois Citizens for Wallace at 403A Collinsville avenue would probably be closed because it was leased in her name. Mrs. Kadas is the wife of Dr. Louis Kadas, 1417 State street.

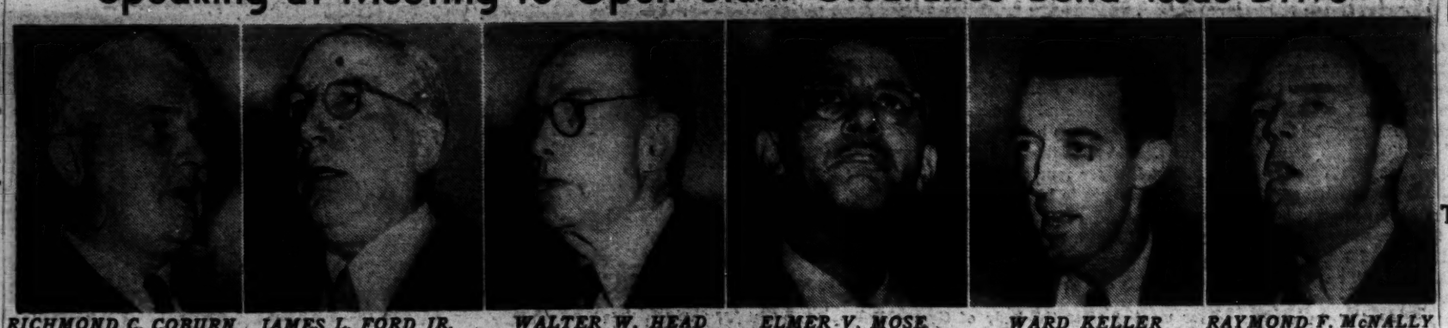
Speaking at Meeting to Open Slum Clearance Bond Issue Drive



RICHMOND C. COBURN JAMES L. FORD JR. WALTER W. HEAD ELMER V. MOSE WARD KELLER RAYMOND F. McNALLY

—By a Post-Dispatch Staff Photographer.

MAYOR ALOYS P. KAUFMANN addresses meeting officially opening slum clearance bond issue campaign.

Slum Bond Drive Opens; Big Projects Described

not erect a building of its own in the city. A proposal for an additional federal building on Market street also is under consideration. No commitments have been made, however.

No Tax Rise Likely.

When the meeting was thrown open for questions, George B. Gannett, president of the George D. Barnard Co., printing firm, said: "I am 100 per cent for this proposal. But in the back of my mind I have this thought: The first question that will be asked of us will be, 'What will it cost me in taxes?'"

Chairman Coburn replied: "The Governmental Research Institute said that, because St. Louis has a relatively low funded debt, if this issue is properly amortized it should not result in any increase in taxes."

Then Elmer V. Mose, superintendent of People's Hospital, for Negroes, reported he had had at least 15 calls from Negroes who were disturbed about the proposal. "They are a potent factor," he said. "They remember 1923, when all bond issue projects were completed except those affecting the welfare of the Negro.

"Among the phone calls were a number from persons concerned about historic churches in the area. And Negro citizens to be displaced should be assured that their relocation will be given consideration. Negro men are having to pay $17.50 a week for rooms in this area. These people are concerned. The proper answer to them will bring their votes."

Repeated Pledge on Shelter.

Chairman Coburn replied that the Mayor and all others active in the campaign have given assurance that on one will be dispossessed until other housing is available.

A resolution will be introduced in the Board of Aldermen next week, Coburn announced, stating that the city's policy will be that no person in the area will be dispossessed until other housing is made available.

Ward Keller, president of the North St. Louis Business Men's Association, said business men were particularly interested in financial aspects of the proposal, knowing that the city is not in the "best financial position." He thought that the city's financial condition was "aggravated by destruction of property on the riverfront," adding: "Now you will destroy a great deal more of income-producing property."

He said he knew some of the property to be built in the area would produce tax income for the city but, he asked, "How do you expect to build when construction costs are so high?"

Says Assessed Values Will Rise.

Coburn explained that the assessed value of the property in the slum area is "a little under $10,000,000." He continued: "It is proposed that housing be erected there by private capital. I think that will increase the assessed value of that property."

Turning to Mayor Aloys P. Kaufmann, seated behind him on the platform, Coburn asked: "Is that right, Mr. Mayor?" The Mayor replied that it was correct.

Bige Wyatt, Negro taxicab operator and board chairman of the Pine Street Y.M.C.A., declared: "We would like some assurance that the people in the area will be able to move back in. Those people are wondering if they can get back in."

Answer on Negro Housing.

Coburn replied: "It is fully recognized that the people in the area can't afford to pay higher rents. We hope private capital will be able to build housing for them. But it may be necessary for public money to be used since private money is not interested in that type of housing."

Answering questions that had been raised about churches in the area, Ford said: "The committee assures everyone that the churches will be preserved. One or two churches, we understand, would like to move to new locations.

"As for the Pine Street Y.M.C.A., I am not so sure. It might also like to have quarters elsewhere."

Negro's Housing Plight.

Nathaniel Sweets, managing editor of the St. Louis American, Negro newspaper, said: "We want to carry the ball for the bond issue but many of the vital points have not been put over to our people. The program must be carried directly to all the people.

"We as Negroes have long since been forgotten in housing projects. We are forced to pay $40 rent for dwellings which rented for $19 to white persons previously."

Speaking for veterans, Raymond F. McNally, chairman of the Conference of American Legion Posts in St. Louis, suggested that if the committee succeeds in clearing the slums, "and it will succeed," it is strong enough to recommend to the government that the homes torn down be replaced by homes that can be sold or leased to veterans at reasonable prices.

Veterans' Housing Plea.

"Most ex-service men," he declared, "left their prewar homes either because they had been drafted or because they volunteered. Once in service, a man could not use his home for himself and very few could afford to maintain one for their families on their service pay. The result was the necessary sale of the house. For the ex-service man, there was no calculated risk, no better job to go to, no freedom of choice. He simply did what he was told, moved out and sold out.

"It would be well within the abilities of the members of this committee to complement the slum clearance plan with a veterans' housing plan; one unit constructed for each unit destroyed."

In opening the meeting, Coburn said: "No reasonable-minded person expects that the area will be cleared overnight. The program is a progressive one which will proceed step by step. The very acquisition of property by the city is not a speedy process.

Room for Extra Homes.

"There are numerous bald spots in the slum areas of our city where housing can be constructed without demolition of a single dwelling. Private capital will be given the first opportunity to construct such ow rental housing. But if it is not interested, I am confident the next session of Congress will provide federal money for construction of housing for the man in the low rental bracket."

Walter W. Head, chairman of the Anti-Slum Commission, related that members of that group for two years studied methods of converting slums into healthful neighborhoods and first attempted to interest private capital in the projects.

He continued: "We were then—we still are—in the grip of a spiraling inflation which forced prices, including the cost of clearing land and constructing suitable buildings, to a level far beyond that which private capital could safely cope with, from an investment standpoint.

"Nevertheless, a number of citizens endeavored to interest large eastern insurance companies, as well as other financial institutions, in financing such projects. In each instance their efforts were ultimately unsuccessful. It became apparent that if this job were to be carried through within the foreseeable future, it would require the assistance of public funds."

Mayor Kaufmann described the bond issue plan as "bold but realistic." He continued: "Its principal objective is to get the price of this ground down to a reasonable or 'use value' level so that private capital, instead of fleeing to virgin territory on the periphery of the city and miles beyond will be induced to invest, once again, in our original residential sections."

A Boy for Every Girl.

KOKOMO, Ind., Sept. 11—School-sponsored dances should turn out pretty well this term, Kokomo High School officials said today. The 1948-49 enrollment list showed 728 boys and 728 girls.

60 WOMEN WANT TO WED MAN TOO TALL FOR ARMY

One Says She's Going to Divorce Husband, 5 Feet Tall on Tiptoes.

Tall John Laxton, who decided to offer himself as a husband after he had been rejected for the nineteenth time by the armed forces said today he had received telephone calls from 60 women who want him to become their mate.

So many telephone calls were in fact made that the switchboard operator at the MacArthur Hotel, Broadway and Chesnut street, where Laxton lives, personally complained that he was doing three times the normal work at no increase in salary.

Most of the callers seemed to be attracted by Laxton's height, 6 feet 11 inches, which is responsible for his being turned down by the Army and Navy. One woman said she was going to divorce her husband who can only reach to five feet one even when he stands on his toes. She always did want to dance with a tall man, she said.

One telephone call came from a woman in Milwaukee, one from a woman in Los Angeles and one from a woman in Detroit. In each case the caller paid the toll.

Laxton says he definitely is going to marry but he doesn't know who his bride will be. His next move, he thinks, will be to send for pictures.

PROPOSAL TO END RAT STOPPAGE IN AREA TO BE RAZED

A proposal that the rat-stoppage program being carried on by the rat control section of the city's health division be abandoned in the area designated for slum clearance under the proposed $16,000,000 slum clearance bond issue was discussed yesterday by city officials meeting in Mayor Aloys P. Kaufmann's office.

The proposal was made by Elmer B. Klein, chairman of the General Council on Civic Needs, in a recent letter to the Mayor. Klein, who said he acts as agent for three properties on South Sixteenth street, wrote the Mayor that, in his opinion, "there is no point in forcing property owners to expend substantial funds on property which the city expects to condemn shortly."

Health Division officials attending the meeting pointed out that they cannot refrain from enforcing the ordinance in any specific area. They also pointed out that the area in which the rat-stoppage program now is underway extends eastward from Eighteenth street, while the slum clearance area runs westward from Fifteenth street. Most of the rat-stoppage work in the area between Eighteenth and Fifteenth streets has been completed, they said.

10 ARABS KILLED IN CLASH WITH JEWS NEAR JERUSALEM

JERUSALEM, Sept. 11 (AP)—Ten armed Arab irregulars were killed and a quantity of arms captured yesterday in a clash between Stern Group fighters and an Arab unit. The Arabs had infiltrated into Beth Iksa, a village about six miles northeast of Jerusalem, a Stern Group source said.

The Sternists said their surprise attack on the irregulars was designed to "prevent a truce breach by the Arabs." They explained that Beth Iksa is situated in the United Nations no man's land between Arab and Jewish truce lines and claimed the irregulars sought to erect fortifications in the village. They said they had no losses.

5084 MEN BORN IN 1927 SIGN IN DRAFT YESTERDAY

A total of 5084 men born in 1927 were registered in St. Louis and St. Louis county yesterday under the peacetime draft. Registration for 21-year-old men will be concluded today.

Monday and Tuesday will be registration dates for men born in 1928, and those born in 1929 are scheduled to register Wednesday and Thursday. Men born in 1930, before Sept. 19, will register ext Friday and Saturday.

TAVERN OWNER FOUND DEAD IN AUTO AT UNION, DELMAR

John Hostetler, a tavern owner, 5579 Delmar boulevard, was found dead, apparently of a heart attack, in his automobile early today at Delmar and Union boulevard.

The machine had run partly off the street, coming to a stop against a light standard. Hostetler's tavern is at 5262 Delmar. He was 48 years old. His wife, Dorothy, said he had not been ill.

FINED ON PEACE DISTURBANCE

Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Henry, who live in a rooming house at 4241 West Pine boulevard were each fined $25 today by Police Judge Joseph B. Catanzaro on charges of individual peace disturbance. Judge Catanzaro stayed the fines and placed the Henrys on probation when he learned they had no record of previous offenses.

Mrs. Betty Offill, a resident of the rooming house, testified that on Aug. 9, Henry had cursed her because she refused to call his wife to the telephone when he called from an outside address. At the time, she said, Mrs. Henry struck her and she hit Mrs. Henry with her shoe.

MAN, 82, ILL, WALKS INTO LAKE, DROWNS

First Ties Rope to His Ankle and Fastens It to Stake on Bank.

Frank Becker of Belleville, former foundry worker, was drowned yesterday when he walked into Stolberg's lake at the south end of the city after tying one end of a rope to his left ankle and fastening the other end to a stake imbedded in the bank. He was 82 years old and had been in ill health.

Deputy Sheriff Elmer W. Lacquet said Becker's body was found by two persons walking near the lake. The rope, Lacquet said, was apparently used to make recovery of the body easier.

Becker left three notes. The first, found under his cane, said: "Frank Becker in the pond." The second, found under his hat, said: "Frank Becker to Renners." Renners is an undertaking establishment in Belleville. The third, found under the shoe which he had taken off before wading into the lake, said: "Frank Becker."

SWINDLED OF $875 GIVEN AS 'SECURITY' TO FAST TALKERS

Mrs. Emma Hudson, a Negro, gave $875 as a token of good faith to two Negro women who promised to divide a large sum of money with her in a downtown department store yesterday. When they left and failed to return after three hours, she notified police.

Mrs. Hudson, who lives at 4580 Cottage avenue, said one of the women approached her and advised her to draw all of her money out of the bank. Banks, the woman said, were about to charge their depositors 5 per cent interest. Mrs. Hudson said she didn't keep her money in a bank. She had an account at the Post Office.

While the two were talking the third woman entered into the conversation and told them she had just found a large amount of cash. She said she would divide it with them if they could prove they were responsible persons.

As proof of her responsibility the first woman opened her purse and displayed a roll of bills. Mrs. Hudson, not to be outdone, went to the Post Office at Eighth and Olive streets and withdrew her savings. She returned to the store, gave the $875 to one of the women and they both left to get the money said to have been found to divide it with her. They never came back.

FATHER WHO TOOK BABY ON ROUND OF TAVERNS ARRESTED

George L. Carrothers, a chauffeur, 1909A Hickory street, was arrested early today after a cab driver said Carrothers made a round of taverns carrying his 20-month-old daughter Alice, then left the child unattended at home while he went after more drinks.

The driver, Lawrence Mauer, reported he picked up Carrothers, with the baby, shortly after midnight at Twelfth and Soulard streets. After visiting several taverns in the neighborhood, Carrothers asked to be taken home about 1 a.m., Mauer said.

The cab driver, at Carrother's suggestion, took the child into the house and put her to bed. Mauer said Carrothers then insisted on another round of taverns and when they returned at 3 a.m. the child was still unattended.

Carrothers, who was pronounced drunk at City Hospital, told police his wife left him last night. The baby, apparently in good health, is being cared for at the hospital.

YOUTH HELD IN $237 THEFTS IN 9 DAYLIGHT BURGLARIES

James D. Wooliver, 18 years old, who police said admitted stealing a total of $237 in daylight burglaries of nine South St. Louis homes since June 1, was held today at the Lynch Street Station under warrants charging him with burglary.

Wooliver, who gave an address in the 2900 block of Henrietta avenue, was arrested Thursday at Indiana and Ann avenues on the basis of a description given by a woman who found him in her home and became suspicious of his story he was checking the electric meter with a view of moving it outside.

At first he denied robbing any homes, police said, but after being questioned admitted the thefts.

Among the thefts he admitted, police said, was one at the home of Mrs. Myrle Medley, 1031A Morrison street. He said he entered it on June 17 while Mrs. Medley was in a rear yard, asked her two small children where she kept her money and took $34 from a dresser drawer they pointed out. At one place where Wooliver admitted obtaining $19, police said, occupants of the house explained they had not reported the theft because they believed a relative took the money.

$25 TAKEN IN BAKERY HOLDUP

Police were searching today for a robber who escaped with $25 yesterday in a bold daylight holdup of the Lickhalter Bakery, 427 North Broadway.

Mrs. Homer H. Schulte, manager, 5126 Delmar boulevard, said the man wearing a slouch hat, entered the store, pulled out a pistol and said, "Hand over the money in the cash register." When she complied, he fled west on St. Charles street on foot, she said.

51 PLACES OPEN TO REGISTER NEW COUNTY VOTERS

One-Day Special Listing Conducted to Save Trip to Election Board.

Fifty-one polling places in St. Louis county were opened at 9 a.m. today for a special one-day supplemental registration of persons eligible to vote in the election Nov. 2. They and the office of the Board of Election Commissioners, 7929 Forsythe boulevard, Clayton, will be open until 9 o'clock tonight.

John Q. Brown, chairman of the election board, said the supplemental registration was decided on to give unregistered persons eligible to vote an opportunity to register without going to the board offices. The last day for registration for the coming election will be Sept. 27 in the county.

After today registration will be accepted only at the board offices, which are open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Mondays through Fridays, and from 9 a.m. until noon on Saturdays. There were 143,129 registered in the county for the primary election last Aug. 3.

PAIR ROBBED OF $50, AUTO BY 2 ARMED YOUTHS

Andrew Phillips and his wife Leta, who operate a tavern at 13 North Broadway, were robbed of $50 early today by two youths who commandeered their automobile and forced them to drive to Riverview boulevard and Chambers road.

Both the youths, about 19 years old, were in the tavern when Phillips closed it. As Phillips and his wife started toward their automobile one of the men approached, drew a revolver and ordered them into the machine.

After driving to North St. Louis, the robbers forced Mr. and Mrs. Phillips to leave the automobile and drove off. They said they would leave the machine three blocks away, but it was not found. The Phillipses live at 4229 Shenandoah avenue.

CANDIDATE OF PROGRESSIVES SPENDS HOUR IN GEORGIA JAIL

ATLANTA, Sept. 11 (AP)—The Progressive party's candidate for Governor of Georgia, James A. Barfoot, spent an hour in the Atlanta jail yesterday rather than post $17 bond.

Police Capt. J. F. Brown had charged him with creating a disturbance and violating the city's anti-noise ordinance. Brown said Barfoot operated a sound truck in the Negro district "so loud it could be heard for blocks."

Barfoot, 34-year-old former professor of Education at the University of Georgia, was released and is to appear in recorder's court next week.

TICKET SCALPER FINED $25

Paul Houston, a Negro who told police he lived at 2313A Walnut street, was fined $25 by Police Judge George J. Greifner today when he pleaded guilty of selling tickets without a license.

Police testified Houston was arrested Aug. 29 at Grand boulevard and Dodier street after he sold them a $1.85 reserved grandstand seat ticket to the baseball game at Sportsman's Park between the Brooklyn Dodgers and Cardinal baseball teams for $7.

12 HELD IN RAID ON DICE GAME IN VALLEY PARK

Town's Deputy Marshal in Group—Man Had Told of Being Forced to Leave $1200 He Won.

Deputy sheriffs raided a former boathouse at Valley Beach in Valley Park early today after a resident of Fenton complained he had won $1200 in a dice game there last night and was forced at pistol point to leave without taking his winnings with him. Among 12 men arrested in the raid was a Valley Park deputy marshal.

Deputy sheriffs said when they entered a women's dressing room in the building at the beach they found 12 men around a table. A leather cup, four dice and a $1 bill were on the table, deputies said, and a number of other bills were hastily picked up by the men as the officers entered.

In the group was Samuel C. Boyer, described by deputies as co-owner of the place. Boyer had a pistol and a deputy marshal's badge in his pocket. City Marshal Gus Cox told reporters Boyer is employed as a private watchman and is not on the city payroll.

Others arrested said they were Fred C. Mound, co-owner of the place; Sherman S. Cook of Fenton; Lawrence V. Mosley, 8710 Rosalie avenue, Brentwood; Anton Sprock, Berger V. Medlock, Virgil C. Chadd and John A. Mueller, all of Valley Park; Raymond J. Richardson of Safe, Mo.; George L. Hutchins of Waynesville, Mo., and Robert H. Jones and Carl W. Daniels, both of St. James, Mo.

When they were taken to Clayton to be booked at the sheriff's office, they were found to have more than $3500 in their possession. They were released on $500 bond each, without charge, to appear Sept. 27 at the sheriff's office.

Deputies refused to disclose the name of the Fenton resident who made the complaint. He told them, they said, that when he started to leave with his winning a man placed a pistol against his side and told him to place the money on the table.

He did so, and then was permitted to leave.

Deputies said none of the group arrested in the raid had been identified as the man who threatened the complainant.

BABY BOY'S CIGAR SMOKING NOT SO 'CUTE' TO MOTHER

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Sept. 11 (AP)—Other persons may think it's "cute" to see 22-months-old Lawrence Phillips Jr. smoking a cigar—but his mother doesn't.

Mrs. Phillips said last night she was trying to break him of the habit "but it's worth a year of my life to put up with the screaming" when she tries to take a cigar away from him.

She said he acquired the habit from others—not from members of the family—who thought it humorous to see him puff on a cigar.

"As long as he doesn't see a cigar," she said, "He has no desire for one. But he comes into the restaurant where I work and other people give them to him.

"I think he'll outgrow it. He's just a little fresh right now. He's really a normal boy."

The Phillips home was flooded with letters of advice—some critical— after publication of a news article telling of the child's fondness for cigars. Telephone calls came from as far as Boston and Washington, the mother said.

A child psychologist, who requested that his name be withheld, suggested he be introduced to candy cigars to switch his taste from tobacco.

"There's nothing wrong with my baby except that he likes to smoke," Mrs. Phillips said. "And I don't like that."

HICCUPS OF ALTON MAN STOP AFTER SEIGE OF EIGHT DAYS

The hiccups which have racked C. J. Jacoby, secretary-treasurer of the C. J. Jacoby Furniture Co., Alton, for the last eight days stopped last night.

Jacoby began hiccuping about 24 hours after he stepped into a deep hole in the Mississippi river and was swept under several times. The accident happened as he was wading on a sand bar near Portage des Sioux. He was rescued by a friend.

Jacoby was taken to Alton Memorial Hospital when he could not stop hiccuping. A brother said he responded to treatment which consisted of complete rest, drugs and nourishment taken intravenously.

HUSBAND HELD IN STABBING OF WIFE'S ESCORT

Former Psychoneurotic Patient at Veterans' Hospital; Said to Have Been on 'Rampage.'

Paul Aronson of Kansas City was under treatment at the Veterans Hospital today for stab wounds in the left shoulder which were inflicted by James Caffee, 1002 Van Nostrand drive, Jefferson Barracks, at the Caffee home early yesterday. Caffee is held in jail at Clayton.

Deputy sheriffs said Mrs. Caffee told them her husband stabbed Aronson after the latter escorted her home at her request. Mrs. Caffee told deputies she had been visiting her mother, who lives at 2629A Sullivan, and asked Aronson, a friend of the family, to escort her home because Caffee had "been on a rampage" recently and threatened to harm her.

Caffee told deputies his wife was not home when he returned from work on Thursday, and the fight occurred when she came home several hours later with Aronson. Caffee said his wife wrote to Aronson frequently and refused to stop when he asked her to do so.

Deputy sheriffs said records at the Veterans Hospital showed Caffee was admitted on June 5 as psychoneurotic, and left on June 23 against the advice of physicians.

'SMOKE EATERS' TO EAT MELONS FOR SAVING A LOAD FRUIT

Firemen of Engine Co. No. 40, 717 North Eleventh street, who are known traditionally as "smoke eaters," are planning a change of diet this evening. The grateful owner of a watermelon truck that caught fire today at Thirteenth street and Delmar boulevard gave them eight melons after they extinguished the blaze before it caused any damage.

When firemen arrived they found straw in which the melons were resting burning brightly. Forming a line, they passed the 250 melons on the truck from hand to hand, unloading the entire load without so much as cracking a single one. The fire, attributed to a cigarette thrown into the straw by a passerby, was then extinguished quickly.

"There are 20 of us here at the engine house and we'll be able to take care of those melons without any trouble," one of the firemen said. "We're on 24 hours and off 24, so we'll have plenty of time to work on them."

4 ITALIANS REPORTED KILLED IN YUGOSLAV AREA IN WEEK

TRIESTE, Sept. 11 (AP)—Italian newspapers said today four Italian youths have been killed in Yugoslav territory in the last week.

Two of them were reported to have been machine-gunned by Yugoslavian frontier guards as they attempted to cross from Yugoslavia into the Yugoslav-occupied zone in the free territory.

The reports said the bodies of two other youths were found in the Yugoslav zone.

CHILDREN EAT RAT POISON

Rollin Amick, 4 years old, and his 3-year-old brother, Marion, children of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Amick, 1308 South Tenth street, were in a serious condition at City Hospital today suffering from the effects of rat poison which they swallowed at their homes yesterday.

Their grandmother, Mrs. Minnie Pigg, who took them to the hospital, told police she discovered them on the bathroom floor, eating the contents of a box of powdered rat poison.

I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles; that it will always fight for progress and reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight demagogues of all parties, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare; never be satisfied with merely printing news; always be drastically independent; never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Objection Overruled

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

Your editorial entitled "Objections by Mr. Nolte" asks the question, "Why not take the city's sewer engineers off of less urgent work and put them on this survey, thereby avoiding any extra planning expense?" Your editorial suggests that you would like to have an answer. As a former Director of Streets and Sewers for the city, and as a consulting engineer who has no financial interest in this proposed survey, I take this opportunity to answer this logical question.

The city has only a handful of civil engineers and draftsmen, who are overwhelmed with more work than they can do. Out of the small group who handle the various engineering problems of the city, there are only two civil engineers who have the necessary knowledge and experience to design this sewer for Northwest St. Louis.

Even if the city could employ additional engineers for this sewer survey and design, it would still not be economical to do so. There would simply be a large engineering department built up for the city which it would be difficult to eliminate when this specific job was completed.

During my administration as Director of Streets and Sewers from 1925 to 1933, the city had a great deal of this kind of work to do covering a period of years. We had the finest sewer designers in the country working under the supervision of E. R. Kinsey (the father of Milton M. Kinsey, the president of the Board of Public Service). This department was headed by W. W. Horner whose principal assistant was Hymen Shifrin.

When the design and construction of sewers in St. Louis practically came to a stop, these two engineers formed the consulting engineering firm of Horner & Shifrin and have this very type of sewer work in many other cities in the United States. They have an organization of designers and surveyors and other civil engineers who are thoroughly familiar with the problems of a relief sewer in Northwest St. Louis.

Should they be given this work, their large force could be immediately thrown into this much-needed sewer project and have all the preliminary work done prior to the time that funds would be available. The city would gain years by having these designs available now, which would be an impossibility if the city were to try to build up an engineering staff similar to the one we had under the $87,000,000 bond issue.

The engineering fee paid a private firm to do this sewer survey and design work would be saved many times over, through the skill and knowledge of the members of this firm, gained over the years right here in St. Louis. They are recognized authorities anywhere in this country, since Mr. Horner was the recent president of the American Society of Civil Engineers.

By employing this or a similar high-class firm, the people of St. Louis would have quick and accurate knowledge of the extent of their problem and what it would cost to have the problem solved. The city would gain by being able to dispense with the services of these civil engineers as soon as the job would be completed. If the city of St. Louis were to attempt to build up a large group of civil engineers for this large single project, even if it could obtain the engineers, which is doubtful, it would be practically impossible to eliminate this group when the need for their services came to an end.

To have this sewer study made quickly and the facts presented accurately and logically, there is only one solution and that is to employ a firm of competent civil engineers who can save our citizens thousands of dollars because of their intimate knowledge and experience.

Capitalism, a Flat World

A Tribute to Truman

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

In your editorial on President Truman's Labor day speech, "A Poor Beginning," it seems to me you are harboring a grudge rather than practicing true journalism.

I believe when one is running for an office he has a platform or ideals for which he intends to put forth his energy. The people "as a whole," to my way of thinking, is the laboring class. This subject and civil rights are two ideals Mr. Truman has pledged himself to support.

You remember when he came out for civil rights he was accused of using this for vote-getting. Yet it looks to me like he stuck his head in a hornets' nest.

Did it ever occur to you that the man might be sincere? It is said that what a man thinks in his heart comes out in his words and actions. This can be applied to him as well as you. Your words seem to express a selfish interest.

As for Democrats voting for the Taft-Hartley law, that has nothing to do with what Mr. Truman thinks is the truth. Democrats as well as Republican Representatives often vote for their own private interests. Under much pressure and bickering was price control removed, as you well know. Congress surely made no effort to go along with him on this subject.

As for his speeches not "striking a lofty note," we the people know sincerity when we hear it, and I must say your words only appeal to those who do not make their living by the sweat of their brow. Labor's struggle for freedom from greed and fear irks big business, but truth will prevail.

Rebuke for Meddlers

The visa division of the State Department, which has been operating pretty much as a separate and independent branch of the Government, has been given its comeuppance by a special investigating committee appointed by Secretary Marshall.

In mid-July three officials of the division seriously embarrassed the State Department and, indeed, the entire Government by declaring before a Senate committee that several hundred foreign agents have used the United Nations as a cover for subversive activities in this country. The estimate of "several hundred" was made by Robert C. Alexander, assistant chief of the visa division, who added that the Government was powerless to "send them back."

To investigate these lurid charges, Secretary Marshall appointed a committee consisting of Benjamin M. McKelway, editor of the Washington Star; James H. Rowe Jr., member of the Commission on Organization of the Executive Branch of the Government; and Marcellus C. Sheild, retired clerk of the House Appropriations Committee.

After hearing testimony for more than two weeks, this committee reports that it is "shocked by the manner in which these serious charges were made"; that the charges are with few exceptions without foundation, and that ample law exists to exclude or deport any agent of the United Nations or any other international organization whose presence or conduct is found to be dangerous or subversive. The committee added:

> The risk in permitting these people to come to the United States is the calculated risk implicit in the location within the United States of the United Nations headquarters.

It is a risk which Congress deliberately chose to take in passing the International Organizations Immunities Act. The United Nations Charter, furthermore, requires employes of the secretariat to refrain from actions which might reflect on their position as international officials. Those who fail to do so can be deported like any other visitor to the United States whose right to stay in the country is at an end.

Things have come to a strange pass when a major department of the Government feels it necessary to appoint an outside committee to defend its policies from attacks from subordinates within the department. This situation points up the need for a reorganization of the State Department so that its career personnel will be made more responsible to the wishes of the Secretary, who in turn is supposed to reflect the prevailing sentiment of the people.

The drop in wholesale prices as reported by the Department of Labor is six-tenths of 1 per cent. It will take a sharp-eyed Adam Smith to see the imperceptible beauty of that cold statistic.

Secretary Nelson's Sound Ruling

There is no doubt the Wallace party has a clear right to be on the Missouri ballot, and Secretary of State Nelson has affirmed that right. Except in the case of two candidates, the Wallaceites filed petitions with sufficient names to qualify their slate for inclusion on the November voting list. Thus Secretary Nelson broke up what had the appearance of a Democratic scheme to bar Wallace and his followers.

In anticipation of such a scheme, the Wallaceites prepared with particular care to meet the state's difficult statutory requirements concerning the qualification of a new political party. And they were armed with court decisions to buttress their case.

They were able to puncture the objection that only registered voters may sign petitions; they were able to contend that names of persons who voted in the primary could not be struck except by a showing that those persons had cast ballots for offices for which Wallace candidates have filed. The secrecy of the ballot would prevent such a showing. Moreover, since no presidential candidates or electors were voted on in the primary, there could be no conflict for the offices of President and Vice President.

Objections to placing the Wallaceites on the ballot were made by Bert Koester, Democratic collector of Cole county, whose interest could be nothing but political. His attorney, H. P. Lauf, says he has not decided whether further legal action will be taken. He would be well advised to let the matter die. Many thousands of Missourians who are either indifferent or hostile to the Wallaceites would still bitterly resent any tricky device to keep them off the ballot.

The political significance of the decision, of course, probably is bad news for Mr. Truman. The Wallacite votes may well wipe out the margin by which the Democrats had hoped to carry Missouri.

An Arkansan who paid $1.40 for a chicken found $1.15 in its gizzard. That practically incorporates the money-back guaranty in the product.

Close Squeak for F.D.R.

Charles Evans Hughes' death recalled how narrowly that great American missed the presidency in 1916. Not Hughes but some of his entourage failed to cultivate Hiram W. Johnson, then Governor of California. The result was that Woodrow Wilson carried the Golden State by 3777. That thin margin gave Wilson California's electoral votes and won him the electoral college, 277 to 254.

It is not widely known that Franklin D. Roosevelt had a close squeak in his race for Governor of New York in 1928—a squeak on which turned his political career. Warren Moscow tells the story in his exceedingly readable book, "Politics in the Empire State."

Al Smith, Democratic presidential nominee in 1928, wanted F.D.R. to balance out the ticket. But Roosevelt argued that he needed the curative waters of Warm Springs. Moreover, he and his confidant and leg-man, Louis McHenry Howe, figured that 1928 was "too early" on the political timetable. They thought Hoover would be re-elected in 1932 and that 1936 would be the earliest year for another Democrat to go from Albany to the White House.

Against his judgment, Roosevelt yielded to the importunings from the wearer of the Brown Derby. His Republican opponent for Governor was Albert Ottinger. According to Warren Moscow, Ottinger was a capable State Attorney General, but "unfortunately endowed with the Napoleonic complex that afflicts some short men." The campaign had hardly started before Ottinger had snubbed or offended most of his Republican running mates. One of these was Hamilton Ward, nominee for Attorney General.

Ward's friends are credited with a plan whereby Republican votes for Roosevelt were traded for Democratic votes for Ward. In Erie alone Ward ran 20,000 votes ahead of Ottinger. The plan worked and Roosevelt won the governorship by a mere 26,000, a hairline margin for the Empire State.

Had Ottinger been less offensive to his colleagues, he undoubtedly would have won. And had F.D.R. lost, the Roosevelt chance for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1932 would have been scant indeed. But it went the other way. The founder-to-be of the New Deal was put in line for four elections to the White House and "a place in history alongside Lincoln, Jefferson and Washington." Thus did a lot hang by a little in a curtain-raising campaign.

Who Killed George Polk?

Four months after the body of George Polk, C.B.S. correspondent, was found floating in the filthy harbor water of Salonika Bay, the American Overseas Writers' Association feels compelled to offer a reward of $10,000 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of his murderer.

The organization, which retained William J. Donovan, former head of the Office of Strategic Services, to push the investigation of the killing, obviously is not satisfied with official Greek silence and unofficial Greek stories that Polk was a victim of the very Reds he was on his way to meet. Nor can very many other Americans be satisfied that the mystery has been cleared up.

In announcing the reward, Gen. Donovan told the Greek authorities "they had failed to explore earnestly and carefully all the possibilities" of the case. Yet he had addressed himself personally to the Minister of Justice, the Foreign Minister, the Prime Minister and even King Paul. The Greek Minister of Public Order agreed with criticisms of the investigation, and promised to make it a matter of personal responsibility. Why then has there been no action? Only words? Do the Greeks, even as they accept our gifts, believe that we can be put off with words? Do they believe that we really do not care very much when an American citizen is murdered?

Gen. Donovan says the case is now up to the Greek Government. So it is. But it is also up to the American Government. Perhaps the Greeks would have taken a more realistic interest in the Polk affair long ago if official American inquiries had been as determined and continuing as private inquiries. Washington should make it plain to Athens that it expects this case to be cleared up, and cleared up beyond all doubt.

Such interest is the minimum protection which the Government owes to all Americans abroad. Violence against any one of them must be sure of inevitable punishment.

Civil Service vs. Stemmler et al.

Formal charges of violating the civil service amendment have been lodged against City Counselor Stemmler and eight of his assistants. After an investigation, Personnel Director Scearce is convinced that all nine gave or accepted political contributions. Their defense will probably contend that the gifts were all voluntary, and that the law tolerates such gifts.

Whatever verdict the Civil Service Commission may reach, a few conclusions are already clear. First, administrative officials are not operating the merit system as zealously as they did in the beginning.

Second, voluntary contributions, as well as solicited gifts and the outright "lug," undermine the civil service. Voluntary gifts presently come to be expected and finally become a necessary tribute to pay for holding a city job.

Third, the Personnel Director and the Civil Service Commission are serving their intended functions by bringing the city administration to book.

The FBI Enters Illinois

The FBI is going into the Illinois scandals. United States District Attorney Howard Doyle at Springfield says he has been advised that a full-scale investigation will be conducted into reports of systematic kickbacks by road building contractors to state officials on highway contracts.

If these reports are true, and they are current in many places, the highway contracts produce crooked money on a scale comparable to that which finds its way from commercialized gambling and other protected lawbreaking into greedy official hands. Kickbacks ranging from 1½ to 3 per cent are estimated to have netted a graft of from $500,000 to $750,000 in the last 20 months.

If this is a true description of the situation, then federal taxpayers in every state in the union have been defrauded. They have been defrauded because the United States Public Roads Administration pays 50 per cent toward the cost of constructing many highways. Every kickback would represent a cost to the Federal Government not based on construction.

While the FBI investigates Illinois road contracts, federal authorities should look into the use of other United States funds by state administration in Illinois. It is plain that the citizens of Illinois are being cheated on costs of state government and is time that we find out how much citizens of other states may be paying unnecessarily without knowing it.

A Builder Speaks Up

Although himself a home-builder, Harold Alan Keats, the new national commander of Amvets, has resigned from the National Association of Home Builders. "After five years," he said, "housing is still the No. 1 problem to millions of American veterans and other citizens." And for this he believes the association's evasive tactics and economic double-talk to be largely to blame.

It is the No. 1 organization in the national real estate lobby. It was among the 10 groups most open-handed in spending money to influence the last Congress. Its reported expenditures ran to $131,640—or about $65,000 more than was reported by the National Association of Real Estate Boards, the other leading agency of the lobby. And this money was spent to promote what Keats calls "the shortsighted and selfish attitude which, with the enthusiastic help of Congressman Jesse Wolcott of Michigan, is largely to blame for the miserable housing record of the Eightieth Congress."

The home-builders of the United States may say that it is impossible to provide shelter on reasonable terms under present conditions. That is exactly why they should not stand in the way of those who, through suitable legislation, are trying to change conditions. Builders like Mr. Keats know this. They want help in their effort to help those who look to them for shelter.

Those slot machines in Illinois could also be called one-arm undertakers.

HE'S GOT TO CATCH HIM FIRST
—From the Providence (R. I.) Evening Bulletin.

How Hunters Should Behave

The Mirror of Public Opinion

More and more farmers are keeping hunters off their property, and no wonder, writer remarks; the visitors too often frighten weight off the cattle, break fences, leave gates open, hog the game and commit other nuisances; suggests sportsmen should also be gentlemen.

Art L. Wallhausen in the Enterprise-Courier, Charleston, Mo.

More and more gunners are finding it more and more difficult to find suitable hunting grounds not dotted with familiar "No Shooting," "No Hunting," "No Trespassing" or "Posted, Keep Out," signs.

And in most cases a few thoughtless, careless or irresponsible gunners are responsible for the unwelcome signs, and for the attitude of the landowner.

For instance, one local farmer in one evening counted an even 30 dove hunters in his relatively small pasture. "It sounded like a young battle," he said, adding that "the shooting made his cattle very nervous."

Another cattleman who is currently feeding out quite a few hefty white face cattle, was finally driven to posting his land last week. "There are hundreds of doves around the pond and feed lot night and morning, but the barrage of shotgun blasts scatters the cattle all over the place. Believe it or not," he added, "you can run at least two pounds off of every steer just by chasing that animal across a field."

Pig on Two Legs

So another choice shooting spot has been closed for the season.

One could mention a few other common reasons for closing the gates on hunters—leaving them open, for instance, is always in order. Clipping fences or breaking them down—aw, what's the use? The list is as varied as the size and weight of gunners who invade the countryside.

The game-hog gunner is another familiar reason for closing the gates on all sportsmen and hunters. You know the type . . . shoots at anything alive whether in season or not . . . overshoots the bag limit if possible . . . blasts away at the last bird in a covey even though requested to "leave a few birds for seed."

The same guy who ordinarily exhibits perfect manners seems to go hog wild as soon as he dons his hunting jacket. Numerous other examples could be mentioned but these will suffice as just a few more reasons why more and more "No Hunting" signs are tacked up year after year on more and more farms.

If Farmers Came Gunning

Just a bit of ordinary common sense and courtesy will go a long way toward bettering relationships between sportsmen and farmers. In the first place, ask permission to hunt. Get the lay of the land, and if the man says, "Wish you boys would stay out of that lower 40 where the cattle are," then stay out.

The city gunner would be the first to scream to high heaven if a half-dozen fellows opened his front door, trudged through the house, upset his furniture and shot out the lights—just for target practice. No fun, you say.

Well, the average farmer is pretty much like the average city guy and gunner when it comes to being a fairly decent and liberal sort of fellow. Most of them, however, are kinda like us town gunners in that they prefer to choose their company, so it is only a matter of common courtesy to ask permission to enter a man's woods or fields, and then act like a gentleman.

When Economists Can't Agree

From the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin

The other day somebody said that the most pressing job confronting all hands today was to raise the economic literacy of the people. If you translate this into English, it means that citizens in general ought to have a better idea of what makes a healthy business community tick.

It's a splendid thought. Every wage raise eventually shows up in a higher cost of living. And anyone who has a hand in setting prices should reflect that he may kill the goose that lays those gold eggs.

But the worker still has to pay the grocery bills with something besides a short lecture on economics, while an enterprise that doesn't show a profit is not long for this wicked world.

The fact is, it would be much easier to follow the expert's advice and get hep to what's cooking on the inflation front, if authorities on economics agreed among themselves. As things stand, the eager student of such matters doesn't know which book to follow. It's a little as if he wanted to brush up on arithmetic and found one author said two and two make five and another set the correct total at three.

Peering into the future and forecasting developments on this basis is about as reliable a venture as consulting a palmist. Right after V-J day the country was supposed to run head-on into a major depression. That meant the danger was deflation.

What we got was the direct opposite of what had been predicted by nearly all the economic literates. Events, in their perverse way, insisted on upsetting the whole theory. That is, of course, very rude of reality.

It used to be said that the historic inflations of the past, like the Mississippi Bubble or the shinplaster currency during the Revolution, happened because somebody printed up too much irredeemable paper money.

Modern thinkers, for some reason, would prefer to say that these classic collapses occurred because there was an acute shortage of knee pants, shoe buckles and powdered wigs. While governments have had control of money since time out of mind, this emphasis on production relieves the bureaucrats of all responsibility, and passes the buck to labor and capital.

The idea that we should all be part-time economists passes the buck to the people at large on the ground that they haven't been doing their homework. It should be passed right back to the dealer.

PROGRESS AGAINST LEPROSY.

From a Melbourne dispatch to the Christian Century.

The many lepers among the aborigines in northern Australia may look with fresh hope to the three-mile-square island in Darwin's huge harbor where a new treatment is being developed for their dread disease.

At present there are only 94 patients on the island. But scattered through the 500,000 square mile region of the north are thousands of lepers hiding as far as possible from doctors lest they be separated from their friends and families and "imprisoned" in the leprosarium. The new treatment may change their fears.

Doctors have obtained very encouraging results by linking with diasone the almost traditional chaulmoogra oil injections. It appears that they will be able to cure or at least arrest the disease. If the further tests now being made are successful, they will mark the beginning of the end of the territory's most serious medical problem.

NO HIGHWAY, by Nevil Shute. (William Morrow and Co., 346 Pages, $3.00.)

James Hilton in the New York Herald Tribune.

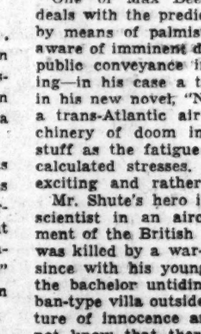
One of Max Beerbohm's short stories deals with the predicament of a man who, by means of palmistry, suddenly becomes aware of imminent disaster threatening the public conveyance in which he is traveling—in his case a train. Mr. Nevil Shute, in his new novel, "No Highway," makes it a trans-Atlantic air liner, while his machinery of doom involves such scientific stuff as the fatigue point of metals after calculated stresses. The result is just as exciting and rather more plausible.

Mr. Shute's hero is Mr. Honey, a "pure" scientist in an aircraft research department of the British Government. His wife was killed by a war-time V-2; he has lived since with his young child, a girl, amidst the bachelor untidiness of a small suburban-type villa outside London. He is a mixture of innocence and intellect. He does not know that there are such things as electric water heaters for the kitchen, yet in his laboratory office he can quietly work out a mathematical formula which, if believed and acted upon, must enforce the grounding of all air liners of a certain type after a certain number of flying hours.

But can it be believed in? What is there to substantiate it except a few pages of abstruse mathematics (of which Mr. Honey's superiors are doubtful), a practical test which in the nature of things cannot prove anything until several months have passed, and a recent tragic accident in Canada of which imperfect evidence survives? Yet the danger, if it exists, is real, immediate and terrific. So what should be done? You issue urgent instructions that will bankrupt a great air line and hand over all its business to foreign competitors? Or don't you?

* * *

Mr. Shute's problem, it will be seen, is administrative as well as scientific—the administrator being the "I" of the story, who stakes his whole future on the chance that Mr. Honey is right—a decision all the harder to make because Mr. Honey's interests have at times wandered over the scientific borderline into such dubious fields as automatic writing and the prophetic measurements of the Great Pyramid. He is, indeed, as one gets to know him better, a honey of a man, this Mr. Honey, and his creator seems to be saying that there are perhaps more things in heaven and earth than are dreamt of by our scientists—even our research scientists.



Nevil Shute

One thing more certain than fatigue in metals is the absence of fatigue in reading Mr. Shute's novels. He has the knack of leading the reader quietly yet breathlessly from one suspense to another. The plot of "No Highway" is ingenious, even for its author, who has invented many such in his time; it builds absorbing as well as literate entertainment, and probably no author now writing can make better fictional use of scientific technology.

"No Highway" is first rate yarning, and Mr. Honey is Mr. Shute's most endearing character to date.

Passionless Prose

LOVE IN DISHEVELMENT, by David Greenwood. (Creative Age, 277 Pages, $2.75.)

A young man and his girl are so worldly wise and so thoroughly superior to bourgeois conventions that they don't even discuss the facts of life with each other. When Stella has a baby (Earl is out west at the time) she still treats it as a strictly personal matter and it is not until the last page that Earl realizes that he is biologically if not morally responsible. The novel is deftly written but has no pulsation, verbal or otherwise. Everybody concerned is unbelievably "civilized"; so there are no quarrels, no reconciliations and no passion.

QUEUILLE FORMS RIGHT-OF-CENTER FRENCH CABINET

Premier Completes Government He Hopes Will Solve Nation's Economic Troubles.

PARIS, Sept. 11 (UP)—Premier Henri Queillile today formed a new government—slightly to the right of center—with which he hopes to save France from economic collapse.

He announced tonight he had succeeded in forming a cabinet after day-long conferences which followed the National Assembly's confirmation of his appointment last night by a vote of 351 to 196. He planned to present the cabinet to President Vincent Auriol immediately.

Warmed-over Program.

On Tuesday he will present his program to the Assembly and the vote on it will decide whether his new government will stand or fall. Except for minor details, it will be a warmed-over version of the economic and financial programs prepared by former Premiers Andre Marie and Robert Schuman.

To adherents of Gen. Charles de Gaulle, Queuille tendered a vague promise to consider the general elections they have demanded. He said the question of elections would be taken up with the Assembly after the country's financial difficulties are solved.

De Gaullists Abstain.

This apparently was not enough to win the support of the De Gaullists, but they refrained from voting against Queuille in the Assembly balloting last night, most of them registering abstentions. Their parliamentary leader previously had asserted the group would vote for Queuille. Most of the negative votes were cast by Communists.

Demands for elections were voiced again yesterday by De Gaulle as he started a political tour of southeastern France and Corsica. He is scheduled to make almost 100 speeches in eight days. In an address at Avignon, he said: "I am ready to assure the destiny of the country. I am sure of the country's choice when it is given a chance to express itself."

To bring order out of the nation's financial plight, Queuille said he planned economies in both the civilian and military establishments of the government; revision of subsidies; reorganization of nationalized enterprises; and raising of an additional 80,000,000,000 france of new revenue to balance the budget.

VILLAGE STILL IN DEEP WATER TRYING TO BAIL OUT OF DEBT

Pearl Harbor's problem of retiring $110,000 worth of bonds on its water system remained unsolved today. United States District Judge Fred Wham yesterday continued until Oct. 6 a hearing to appoint a commission to operate at the dying St. Clair county village's waterworks.

Suit to appoint the commission and seek an accounting of expenditures and receipts of the water plant, which resells water supplied by the East St. Louis Interurban Water Co., was brought by the Chicago Policemen's Annuity and Benefit Fund, which holds $50,000 in bonds, and the Catholic Aid Association of St. Paul, Minn., which has $30,000 worth. The Lutheran Brotherhood of Minneapolis, Minn., holds the remaining $30,000 worth of bonds.

The village water board went out of operation recently with the attempted resignation of Mayor John T. R. Godlewski and three members of the village board of trustees. The village has voted to dissolve itself, but Illinois law bars that until all debts are paid. Mrs. Clara L. Malone, board member, said the water system has not been run in a business-like manner, and that some meters have not been read for over a year.

LINDENWOOD LINE TO GET RADIO BUSSES NEXT WEEK

Trial of radio-equipped busses on the Lindenwood line will begin Monday, it was announced today by the Public Service Co. After 10 days on this line, the experiment will be transferred to the Carondelet line.

Music for passengers has evoked an "overwhelmingly favorable" response on the Cherokee, Natural Bridge, Delmar and Kingshighway lines, the company reported, adding that a final decision as to whether the entertainment shall become a permanent feature here will be made after the sixth test.

The programs consist of two marches and two vocal numbers an hour, the remainder being "background" music in melodic category, with two-minute news broadcasts every half-hour, and commercial announcements of 20 to 30 seconds' duration every five or 10 minutes.

EX-ENVOY PEARSON CANADA'S NEW EXTERNAL AFFAIRS CHIEF

OTTAWA, Sept. 11 (AP)—L. B. Pearson, 51 years old, former Canadian Ambassador to the United States, was appointed Minister of External Affairs yesterday.

He takes over the post held by Louis St. Laurent, newly elected leader of the Liberal party, who will become Canada's acting Prime Minister on Monday.

Announcement of the appointment was made at a press conference by retiring Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King. King, who sails Monday for Britain, said he plans to resign as Prime Minister as soon as he gets back—probably early in November.

AUTO-AIRPLANE STOP LIGHT

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, Sept. 11 (AP)—It's the only one in Alaska and maybe in the world—a stop light to keep airplanes and automobiles from tangling at an intersection.

The light is out at Merrill Field, where the Palmer highway passes an airstrip. Sometimes cars are stopped for two blocks, waiting for the planes to land or take off.

FLEESON

High Democrat Hopes in Illinois And Minnesota

Special Effort to Be Made in Senate Races.

By DORIS FLEESON

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.

RECENT developments have caused Democrats to add Illinois and Minnesota to their list of states marked for special effort in the hope of regaining control of the Senate.

That control hinges on an overturn of four seats. The Democrats are doubly optimistic: Their incumbents up this year are largely southerners so they need worry about only a few states and those few are chiefly border states, normally Democratic.

Illinois authorities have barred the Progressive party which leaves the liberal internationalist, Paul Douglas, free to concentrate on the Chicago Tribune protege, Senator Brooks, without Wallace thunder from the far, far left.

Labor will take a leading role in the new drive to put over Douglas, as Brooks voted for the Taft-Hartley act. President Truman will also go into the state.

Minnesota Situation.

Minnesota's Democratic Senate nominee, Mayor Hubert Humphrey of Minneapolis, won his case for special attention on the basis of polls showing him 10 points ahead of the incumbent Senator Ball, while the third-party nominee, Elmer Benson, trailed with only 3 per cent.

It had been assumed here that Ball was weakened by his anti-labor activities and growing isolationism. He is also unpopular in Republican quarters because he supported Roosevelt against Dewey in 1944. But the Democratic National Committee had expected that Benson, a former governor, would cut so heavily into the usual Democratic vote that Humphrey could not win.

With proof of Benson's weakness, they will give Minnesota more attention. It has not yet been determined what part the President might play. Humphrey has been cool to him and did not favor his renomination.

But the Republicans are letting bygones be bygones in Ball's case. Harold Stassen, who has dissented firmly with the young man he himself first sent to the Senate, is speaking for him now and is being urged to double his efforts. It is understood here that Stassen has also persuaded Gov. Dewey that Ball's might be the crucial vote which would enable the Republicans to organize the Senate in January so that Dewey will also appear in Minnesota.

Labor's Position.

Hence, Humphrey may need some heavy artillery too. He has strong labor support as Ball is even more anti-labor than Brooks, but the left-wingers in the state are pro-Benson.

It is generally conceded here that labor is much more enthusiastic about putting its money into congressional contests, especially against Taft-Hartley supporters, than it is about the presidential contest. This is hard, perhaps unfairly so, on the President but it increases Democratic optimism about the Senate.

There is little feeling that the Democrats can look forward to much House success. They are giving special attention to the under-100 districts in which either party wins by a very narrow margin, but they make no claims.

WATER SUPPLY TO DUPO, COLUMBIA AREAS RESUMED

The water supply to the East Side communities of Dupo and Columbia was resumed at 6:30 p.m. yesterday after a 28-hour disruption of service caused by a break in a 10-inch feeder line from East St. Louis.

Before repairs had been made in the break, which occurred at the Canal Bridge on Illinois Highway 3, the Missouri Pacific Railroad had transported 20,000 gallons of water by tank car to Dupo for emergency use. Schools had been closed in Dupo and a distillery shut down in Columbia because of the water shortage.

Mayor Delmar E. Valine of Dupo said: "It looks as though water is either lapping at our doors or we have nothing to drink." His reference was to three floods and two water line breaks that have occurred in the last several years.

ERIC JOHNSTON IN MOSCOW 'TO TRY TO SELL SOME MOVIES'

MOSCOW, Sept. 11 (AP)—Eric A. Johnston, president of the Motion Picture Association of America, arrived in Moscow by air today.

"I have come here to try to sell some pictures," he told reporters at the airport. No new American movies have been shown in the Soviet Union for some time.

He added that he hopes to see Prime Minister Joseph Stalin. He last saw Stalin on a trip to Russia in 1944, when Johnston was president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. Johnston was met at the airport by United States Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith.

PHONE UNIONS HINT AT NATION-WIDE 'DEMONSTRATION'

Bell Workers Seeking Rise Consider Mass Action Like October 1945 Strike.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11 (AP) Rival telephone unions getting set for new wage talks with the Bell telephone system hinted today a nation-wide "demonstration" would be called to enforce their pay demands.

Delegates from the CIO Telephone Workers Organizing Committee, the Independent Communications Workers of America and several other unaffiliated unions claiming to represent a total of 375,000 workers said after a meeting yesterday they were considering a mass demonstration like the four-hour strike of October 1945.

They will hold another joint-action conference Sept. 24—eight days after negotiations are due to start with companies in the Bell system.

Sept. 17 Walkout.

The CIO Association of Communication Equipment Workers already has set Sept. 17 for a cross-country walkout by 25,000 Western Electric Co. installation men.

The CIO phone union—which split away from the independent CWA group after a long, costly strike in the spring of 1947—has pledged "the maximum support consistent with the law" to the Western Electric walkout. Lawyers are studying the Taft-Hartley Act to determine just how far the CIO phone workers can go in extending that support.

The big question is whether it would violate their contract to refuse to cross ACEW picket lines.

To make the threatened walkout most effective, the other telephone unions would have to cooperate.

The CWA is the largest single union in the A. T. & T. system. As a standing practice, its 230,000 members do not cross picket lines in a "bona fide" strike. But CWA officers have not yet ruled on the dispute between Western Electric and the ACEW—which was one of the unions which pulled out of the CWA about 15 months ago.

13-Cent Demand Indicated.

The rivals unions planned joint action for the same general wage demands without disclosing the exact amount they are seeking. But a spokesman for the joint action committee, pointing out that third round of wage increases had averaged about 13 cents an hour, indicated a similar amount would be satisfactory to the phone workers.

The joint action committee said the purpose of its program is "to win for telephone workers wage increases at least equal to the national wage pattern."

A resolution adopted at yesterday's meeting pledged all of the unions "to use any and all methods available to the trade unionists of this country in winning the 1948 wage battle."

From local branch officers, it was learned that all units of the CWA have been put on notice to prepare for possible strike action.

EX-KAMIKAZE PILOT TO STUDY IN U.S. ON DEAD G.I.'S BEQUEST

TOKYO, Sept. 11 (AP)—Robert Nishiyami, 23 years old, a former kamikaze pilot, left by plane today to learn the American way of life.

His education for four years will be financed by a dead American soldier, Robert Johnstone of Dowington, Pa.

Johnstone, who died in the Philippines, bequeathed his $10,000 G.I. insurance for the education in American ways of one of the Japanese enemy.

Nishiyami will study at Pennsylvania's Lafayette College. He will major in liberal arts.

"I wish I had known him," he said of his benefactor as he left Haneda airport. "If his body has been returned to America I must hasten to his grave. He had so much greater vision than we Japanese in the hysterical days of the war."

The Japanese pilot who had pledged his life to his country in a suicide dive on an American warship said farewell to his wife, Helen, a Stanford graduate, and his 2-year-old daughter, Rhoda.

When he completes his education, Nishiyami said he wanted to return to Japan as a teacher, even though the pay is small.

"I want to share my opportunity with others," he said. "I believe that is what he would have wanted."

Nishiyami has been assistant manager of an American Air Force billet in Tokyo.

Gloria De Haven Seeks Divorce.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 11 (AP)—Actress Gloria De Haven sued Actor John Payne for divorce yesterday. They were married in 1944. She alleged cruelty and asked for division of community property and custody of their children, Kathleen, 2, and Thomas, 6 months. She requested Payne be given the right to visit the children.

Belgian Landowners Order U.S. To Evacuate Military Cemetery

BRUSSELS, Sept. 11 (UP)—Land owners have ordered war graves authorities to evacuate an American military cemetery "within eight days," but the Belgian Government announced that the land will be condemned before the notice expires.

American officials received a legal notice to evacuate the cemetery, at Neuville-en-Condroz, 15 miles south of Liege, where some 10,000 soldiers are buried. The land was requistioned during the Battle of the Bulge in 1944.

The legal summons said: "American authorities are requested to hand over the ground as they originally found it. Failing this, the applicants will at the expense of the United States Government, take the necessary measures to have the ground put back in its primitive state." The owners were reported to have taken the action because the Belgian Government failed to pay indemnities which have been due for nearly four years.

Conrad Seyfert of the Belgian Ministry of Foreign Affairs said the incident arose because the United States Army used more ground than originally requisitioned, due to heavy casualties. He said, "We intend to expropriate the companies who, for the sake of profit only, succeeded in bringing shame on Belgium."

Exhumations were scheduled to begin at Neuville Sept. 13. Some of the bodies will be repatriated and others will be buried in a permanent European cemetery.

13 BILLIONS FOR 1948 FARM CROPS INDICATED, SAYS U.S.

Production Tops 1946 Record, Is 135 Per Cent of 1923-32 Average—Corn Leads.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11 (AP)—Official forecasts of bumper 1948 harvests—both in volume and value—brightened food prospects today for consumers and farmers alike.

The Department of Agriculture's latest crop survey indicates that farmers may get about $13,388,000,000 for this year's production of wheat, corn, cotton, tobacco, peanuts and rice. Last year these crops were valued at $12,287,517,000.

The department's forecast yesterday noted that production of all crops this year tops the record set in 1946 and is 135 per cent of the 1923-32 average.

Meat Price Cut Called Likely.

Although the tally sheets made no breakdown in the figures to show what the record output will mean to the consumer, Agriculture Department spokesmen have said that meat supplies will become more plentiful next year with more feed grains available for livestock. Such an increase could be expected to bring some reduction in prices.

Here is how the Department sized up this year's harvest: (Cash estimates are unofficial):

CORN — 3,528,815,000 bushels, more than a billion bushels above the output last year, with a value at the farm of about $6,740,000,000 as compared with $5,432,785,000 in 1947. It will be the largest corn crop on record.

COTTON—A 15,219,000-bale crop worth about $2,785,000,000. Such a return would be half a billion dollars above last year's and break the record of $2,348,526,000 set in 1919.

PEANUTS—2,302,405,000 pounds as compared with last year's crop of 2,187,985,000. At the Government support price this figures about $249,000,000 worth—which would break the record return of $227,606,000 last year.

RICE—A 76,993,000-pound crop as against 1947 production of 79,345,000. At the Aug. 15 average price to farmers, the new crop would bring in $197,000,000. Last year's crop brought a record $218,523,000 return.

TOBACCO—1,787,723,000 pounds as compared with 2,107,763,000 in 1947. At the Aug. 15 average price to farmers, this would mean a value of about $847,000,000. Last year's crop was worth $912,169,000. The record of $1,046,442,000 was set in 1946.

WHEAT — 1,284,995,000 bushels. Last year's production of 1,364,919,000 bushels set a record value of $3,155,233,000. This year's crop, based on the Aug. 15 price, would be worth $2,570,000,000. The wheat crop would be the second largest in history.

Record Missouri Corn Forecast.

The Missouri corn yield was forecast at 44 bushels an acre, five bushels above the record high and far above the 24.5 bushel average of last year.

The report placed the crop at 196,240,000 bushels, largest since 1923, and double that of last year —98,441,000 bushels. The crop made a 10 per cent improvement in August.

WOMEN'S POLITICAL VIEWS LIKE MEN'S, GALLUP POLL SHOWS

Even Less Disagreement Than Usual Is Found This Year.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

PRINCETON, N.J., Sept. 11 — Men and women show little difference in their political views, with even less disagreement between the sexes than usual this presidential year, according to a recent survey by the American Institute of Public Opinion (Gallup poll).

Asked which candidate they would vote for if the election were held today, 49 per cent of the men and 48 per cent of the women said Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, the Republican nominee. President Harry S. Truman, the Democratic candidate, was the choice of the same percentage of men and women — 36½ — while Henry A. Wallace, former Vice President who is the Progressive party candidate, is preferred by the same number of men and women—5 per cent. More women, 10½ per cent, than men, 9½, were undecided.

A survey of voters by age groups showed that regardless of the voter's age, about the same percentage favored the various candidates. In recent elections the tendency has been for the Democratic party to be of greater appeal to younger voters.

SENATOR MARTIN DENOUNCES DEMOCRATS AS 'BUNGLERS'

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Sept. 11 (UP) — Senator Edward Martin (Rep.), Pennsylvania, today bitterly denounced the Democratic party and its leadership for "incompetent bungling and fumbling" of American foreign policy. It was the Democrats' appeasement policy that "put Joe Stalin in the driver's seat in Berlin," Martin told a meeting of Pennsylvania Republican committeemen.

"If it had not been for that appeasement of godless Russia, we would not be sitting on a keg of dynamite today with the fuse slowly burning," Martin said. "We won the war but the Democratic leaders in secret agreements gave away the victory and the peace to appease Joe Stalin."

Martin referred to President Truman's recent speeches as "electioneering tirades" in which "he repeats over and over that the Republican party and the Eightieth Congress are to blame" for inflation.

Martin admitted that the price of food "is higher than ever" and that we have inflation. He said, however, not all the blame could be placed on the costly ERP and defense program, both of which were "bipartisan."

FRED G. BAREIS, RETIRED STOCKYARDS MANAGER, DIES

Funeral services for Fred G. Bareis, retired general manager of the St. Louis National Stockyards at National City, will be held at 9 a.m. Monday at St. Elizabeth's Catholic Church, 2419 Ridge avenue, East St. Louis. Burial will be in Mount Carmel Cemetery.

Mr. Bareis died at St. John's Hospital here Thursday of a lung infection resulting from pneumonia last spring. He was 71 years old and lived at 613 North Twenty-third street, East St. Louis. He had worked for the National Stockyards for 54 years prior to his retirement in 1944.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Nonie C. Bareis; a son, Circuit Judge Edward F. Bareis of Belleville, and two daughters, Mrs. Donald Byrne and Mrs. Everett Herbel, both of Affton.

CIO-PAC IN NEW YORK BACKS TRUMAN, BARKLEY

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Sept. 11 (AP)—The New York state CIO Political Action Committee today indorsed the Truman-Barkley ticket. The committee voted its support of the Democratic national slate at the closing session of a conference attended by approximately 600 delegates representing a claimed 900,000 CIO members in the state.

GUAM PREPARES FOR TYPHOON

GUAM, Sept. 11 (AP)—A storm with winds up to 45 miles an hour in its center threatened Guam today.

American Navy personnel here were battened down expecting typhoon winds some time within the next 24 hours.

SYMPHONY TO START FRIDAY CONCERTS HALF HOUR EARLIER

Subscribers' Poll Shows Most Favor 2 Rather Than 2.30 O'Clock Schedule.

When the St. Louis Symphony opens its current season next Oct. 15, it will start its Friday afternoon programs at 2 o'clock rather than at 2:30 as it has done in recent years.

The idea of starting the Friday afternoon concerts earlier was adopted after a poll of the 1200 subscribers had been taken. Four out of every five who filled in and returned the ballots sent them by mail favored the 2 o'clock schedule.

Sunday afternoon concerts will continue to be given at 3:30 p.m. as they have in the past. Sunday, however, is a day of leisure and most persons can regulate their hours to suit themselves.

On Friday, most of the patrons felt, they would be able to get home in time to prepare the family dinner at a more seasonable hour if they attended the concerts one-half hour earlier. They would also avoid the worst of the evening traffic rush.

UNITED AIR LINES DROPPING EXTRA FARE ON DC-6S

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11 (AP)—United Air Lines announced yesterday it will drop the 10 per cent extra fare on DC-6 flights beginning next Tuesday. Fares had been raised generally 10 per cent on major airlines Sept. 1, with all except American Air Lines retaining the premium for its DC-6 "luxury" service.

A spokesman for Trans World Airline, which uses Constellations in competition with United and American between New York and California, said there was no decision to announce immediately. It appeared likely, however, that T.W.A. would be forced to drop the extra fare.

United needs Civil Aeronautics Board permission to make a fare change in less than 30 days, but this presumably will be granted in view of the competitive situation.

United will retain the 5 per cent discount for round-trip fares which became effective Sept. 1, thus making its round-trip fare less than American's. Later American said it would ask the CAB to permit it to cut round-trip fares 5 per cent.

American will also put into effect Monday a "family" special fare for Mondays, Tuesdays and Wednesdays under which a husband may take his wife or children at half fare or a mother may take her minor children at half fare.

2 HOMES BUILT FOR DISABLED VETERANS BY G.I. STUDENTS

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 11 (UP) —Two permanently disabled veterans moved into new homes in a residential section today—thanks to a plan conceived by labor and industry leaders and the hard work of 116 G.I. vocational students.

There's also a new home for a paralyzed Army Air Force lieutenant, awaiting an operation at Cushing General Hospital, Framingham, Mass. About one year ago, a group of union and management men in the housing industry conceived the idea of building homes —free—for permanently crippled World War II veterans. They bought the land, drew up building plans and financed the project. For the actual construction work, they hired 116 veterans studying at the Bok Vocational-Technical School under the G.I. Bill of Rights.

Today, the first of the homes were opened for Wallace H. Conner, 22, a blinded Navy veteran, and Robert Simmins Sr., 22, a paraplegic ex-marine. The third home will be occupied by Daniel Ratchup, an ex-Army flyer, in about 10 days.

Tomorrow's Events

BOARD APPROVES DORMITORY PLAN FOR MISSOURI U.

Curators Okay $4,000,000 Project at Columbia, Reject Bids on Rolla Building.

A $4,000,000 dormitory program on the University of Missouri campus at Columbia was approved yesterday by the Board of Curators meeting at Hotel Jefferson here, David W. Hopkins, vice president of the board, announced. Bids on a new dormitory at the Missouri School of Mines and Metallurgy at Rolla were rejected as too high. Taken under advisement by the curators were bids on the proposed Memorial Union Building on the Columbia campus.

The curators also made provisions for the issuance of $1,750,000 in bonds to match part of the $2,465,000 in state funds which have been allocated by the legislature for the dormitory projects. The board has called for bids on the bonds. They will be opened at 11 a.m. on Oct. 8 at a meeting of the curators here, Hopkins said.

The board considered 31 bids on the six proposed buildings for the two campuses.

Hopkins said no action was taken by the curators on the five School of Mines professors who were transferred to Columbia but who have not reported for duty. Their positions at Rolla have been filled. Three of the five have obtained new positions, not in the university, and the other two expect to make other connections.

Hopkins said that the building projects at Columbia will be financed partially by the funds accumulated and by net revenue from the present dormitories. The projects include a women's dormitory to house 300 girls, the ground floor of which already has been completed and is being used as a campus cafeteria; and two additional units to Defoe Hall, men's dormitory. The capacity of the men's dormitory will be increased to house 690 students.

Hopkins said the lowest bid on a conventional dormitory building on the School of Mines campus was $554,440. He said that this meant the total cost, with furnishing would exceed $660,000, which the board considered too high. He said that if the project was undertaken at this time a bond issue service charge of $27 per month would have to be assessed against students in addition to the cost of their room and board.

The Rolla dormitory appropriation of $262,000 made by the legislature does not expire until Dec. 31, 1949. Hopkins said that the board will consider the project later, and if it is not built by that time an extension will be asked. The funds allocated by the legislature must be matched. The bonds to be issued for the campus projects will be retired through extra bond service charges to students, Hopkins said.

GENERAL'S TACTICS THWARTS 'FOE' IN REICH WAR GAMES

GRAFENWOEHR, Germany, Sept. 11 (AP)—A wartime combat general saved the United States First Infantry Division from "annihilation" yesterday in Army maneuvers.

Three days after a mythical "aggressor" force had driven west toward the Rhine river from the direction of the Czechoslovak border, the American division was in serious trouble.

Then Maj. Gen. Frank Milburn, a corps commander in World War II, threw his 26th Regiment into the hole. The mythical opposing force made the mistake of allowing him to move his artillery into the line, and the 26th pushed ahead to straighten the line. At the same time, a reinforced battalion of British paratroopers swung up on the flank and provided strong support for the 26th.

The war games umpire then called a halt and the First Division was lined up in perfect formation on commanding high ground along an eight-mile front. The aggressor's early gains thus were wiped out.

However, it was merely a temporary respite for the defenders.

When the maneuvers resume Monday the full weight of six divisions—on paper—will be flung at Milburn's units and he will have no other choice but to retreat as gracefully as possible.

The division was seeking to sacrifice itself before the weight of six divisions from the east to prove that ground would be lost only at great cost of time, men and money.

MRS. HARRY M'CAFFERY DIES

Mrs. Elicia Hynes McCaffery, 88 years old, died yesterday from infirmities of age at her home, 5893 Etzel avenue. She was the widow of Harry C. McCaffery, former postal clerk and and at one time first baseman of the old St. Louis Browns baseball club.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Grace O'Mara, with whom she lived, and two sons, Dr. James J. McCaffery, a dentist, and Virgil McCaffery, cashier of the St. Louis Probate Court. Funeral services will be Monday morning at St. Rose's Church, with interment in Calvary Cemetery.

DIVORCE AND TEARS FOR SUSAN PETERS, ALSO ADOPTED SON

Testifies From Wheel Chair She and Husband Disagreed on Almost Everything.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 11 (AP)—Susan Peters, movie actress, broke into tears as she was granted a divorce yesterday from actor-producer Richard Quine.

The 27-year-old actress recently made a movie comeback after a hunting accident paralyzed her from the waist down.

She won an uncontested decree following her testimony from a wheel chair that she and her husband had arguments and "disagreed on almost everything."

"Then my husband would refuse to speak to me for days and I became so emotionally upset I couldn't eat," said Miss Peters.

She alleged cruelty.

She got custody of their adopted child, Timothy Richard, 2, and was awarded $300 a month for support of the boy. As for herself she asked only for $1 a month token alimony, which was granted.

Miss Peters and Quine, 28, were married here Nov. 7, 1943, and separated last March 1.

She was accidently shot in the back on a hunting trip on New Year's day, 1945.

TEMPERATURE 180 IN DEATH VALLEY EVERY SEVEN YEARS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11 (AP)—Save this for the next heat wave. It may make you feel better. The Army today announced the results of some studies it has made in California's Death Valley.

Go there in July and sit on the ground, said the Army, and you're in "the hottest place in the North American continent."

Observations over 36 years indicate that on one day every seven years the desert floor heats up to a maximum temperature of 180 degrees. It's much cooler five feet above ground—only 125 degrees.

On July 10, 1913, Death Valley thermometers—presumably set at least five feet off the ground level —registered 134. That's the highest reading ever reported for the area.

For that whole week—July 7 through July 14 — the maximum temperature stayed above 127.

The study was prepared by Arnold Court, meteorologist in the Quartermaster General's office, for presentation to the American Meteorological Society.

TAYLOR AT 3D PARTY RALLY ON EAST SIDE SEPT. 21

Glen H. Taylor, running mate of Henry Wallace on the Progressive party ticket, will address a rally of the party in East St. Louis Tuesday evening, Sept. 21, in the ball room of the Broadview Hotel.

A spokesman for the party said Taylor requested that a stop in Illinois be included in his speaking itinerary so that he could discuss the violence encountered by other Progressive party speakers in the southern part of the state early this month.

SENTNER TO BE CALLED TO TESTIFY ON REDS

House Group Announcement After Woman's Testimony Is Heard.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Sept. 11 (AP)—An Evansville woman told a congressional subcommittee yesterday she heard William Sentner, district president of the CIO United Electrical Workers, admit he was a Communist. The woman, Mrs. Marjorie Boland, was a surprise witness as a House labor subcommittee opened an investigation of allegations that Local 813 of the union is Communist-dominated.

Representative Landis (Rep.), Indiana, who is conducting the investigation, said Sentner definitely would be called to Washington to testify before the Labor Committee.

Mrs. Boland said she lives in an apartment across the street from the hall of Local 813, with windows at the same level as those of the union hall.

She testified that she frequently heard speeches by Sentner and James Payne, business agent of the local.

She quoted Sentner as saying, in a speech she said she believed was made after the war ended: "The working man does not get a break in this country as he does in Russia."

She said that about two months ago she heard Payne say, "Until we change this form of government and get rid of capitalists and get men in who understand the working man's problems, we can't hope to get the things we want."

Mrs. Boland said union members asked Sentner whether he was a Communist She said he answered, "Yes, I am."

The subcommittee hinted also that four union members who refused to testify before it in open hearings might be subpenaed to appear later at closed-door hearings in Washington.

Sentner, an avowed Communist, was suspended for life from membership in St. Louis Local 1102 last May but his reinstatement was ordered by the executive board of District 8. His suspension was based on the ground he had used his official position to further the interests of the Communist party.

ROBERT D. COBB, RETIRED COTTON BELT OFFICER, DIES

Robert D. Cobb, general auditor for the St. Louis Southwestern (Cotton Belt) Railway Co. before his retirement about 20 years ago, died of a heart attack yesterday while vacationing at Chautauqua, N. Y. He was 82 years old.

Mr. Cobb became general auditor in 1918 when he came to St. Louis from Tyler, Tex., where he had been secretary of the railroad's subsidiary line, the St. Louis Southwestern Railway Co. of Texas. He and his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Harris Cobb made their home at the Forest Park Hotel.

In addition to his wife, he is survived by a son, Robert Harris Cobb, 364 Jefferson road, Webster Groves, and a sister, Mrs. Claude D. Hall 1355 McCutcheon road, Richmond Heights. Funeral services will be held Monday afternoon at the Lupton undertaking establishment, 7233 Delmar boulevard, with burial in Bellefontaine cemetery.

A PHILOSOPHER
Once wrote "Nothing can be more useful to a man than a determination not to be hurried." This is good advice which most of us can use to good advantage and this weekend is a good time to start practicing. We suggest a drive to the airport and lunch or dinner in the AIRPORT RESTAURANT. A variety of entrees are offered and the food is carefully and deliciously prepared. Then take a stroll about the airport. You'll find it a welcome relief from the hustle and bustle of everyday life.

Cardinals Keep Pennant Ember Alive on Musial's 200th Hit of Year

Pollet Rides Over Five Errors to 11th Victory; Brazle Goes Tonight

By Bob Broeg

When Stan Musial's two hundredth hit of the season sneaked over second base into center field, driving home the winning run in the ninth inning last night, the Cardinals finally had managed to outslug an organization castoff who has troubled them all year—Fairmount City's Johnny Wyrostek.

In a season of magnified Redbird outfield problems, a 29-year-old athlete the Cardinals twice let get away has picked on St. Louis pitching in such a manner as to enable the last-place Reds to win nine of the two clubs' 20 games. Wyrostek seems to delight in rubbing it in.

The Cardinals picked the East Side kid off the sandlots and then in those happier days when they had surplus outfielders — or thought they did, anyway—permitted him to go to Pittsburgh. The Pirates found Johnny wanting, too, and the Redbirds regained him in another deal.

On to Phillies, Then Reds.

Subtractions were much more frequent than additions as the war ended and supposed super-talent poured back out of the armed services. So Wyrostek was sold to Philadelphia. The only reason the Phillies permitted the 6-foot 2-inch 180-pound player to move to Cincinnati last winter was because they wanted master shortstop Eddie Miller.

Wyrostek has been handicapped by foot injuries this season, but he's a favorite in Cincinnati, playing brilliantly afield and having hit 16 home runs, even though he owns only a modest .269 batting average. And repeatedly he has kept the Cardinals from using the Reds as a stepping stone.

In the opener of this three-game series Johnny collected three hits, bringing his average against the Redbirds to .366. And driving in three runs Wyrostek whacked his sixth homer off home-town pitching. No, Ferdinand, none was off Dickson.

Dyer "Gamble" on Northey.

Wyrostek, of course, bats left-handed, and he was hitting against a southpaw, a cunning one, Howard Pollet. By coincidence, the Cardinals' shaky outfield situation prompted Manager Eddie Dyer to start Round Ron Northey against a lefthander for the first time this season. That was big news only because the Redbirds haven't had three outfielders able to hit, run and throw. And Dyer worried whether Northey would bat home enough teammates to make up for the enemy runs his defensive deficiencies would yield.

Round Ron waddled in too late for a short fly ball that fell for a run-scoring single in the visitors' first inning. But the experiment furnished a pleasant result, for Northey tagged Ken Raffensberger for three singles. And, as mentioned, Musial's hit beat Wyrostek—the Reds, that is—by a 6-5 score.

As the Cardinals gained a half game on the idle first division field by breaking a batting slump with 15 hits, Pollet pitched more impressively than the score would indicate. In recording his eleventh victory against six defeats, the lefthander allowed only seven hits, walked just two batters and struck out five.

Birds Make Fans Jittery.

For a time it seemed the Redbirds would fritter the game away. They overcame the first run Wyrostek batted in by scoring once in the home half as Musial and Enos Slaughter, slicing Raffensberger's slow stuff to the opposite field, doubled and tripled to left in succession. But after Northey's single and Nippy Jones's tenth homer produced two runs in the second, Pollet wobbled a bit—and the Cardinals' defense almost collapsed.

A club that hadn't committed an error in six games boxed the ball something awful the middle three innings, erring five times. But after Pollet gave up three hits in a two-run fourth, an inning in which Musial threw wild and Slaughter fumbled, he started a big double play.

And in the sixth he worked out of trouble after Jones persisted in giving Wyrostek and the Reds another chance. The first baseman fumbled the batter' one-out grounder and then spoiled Pollet's pickoff play by throwing wild to second. However, the pitcher stopped power hitters Hank Sauer and Ted Kluszewski.

That Wyrostek Fellow Again.

The Redbirds bounced ahead in the seventh on Jones's double, Red Schoendienst's single and Marty Marion's second of three safeties, a two-base hit. But Wyrostek got in Pollet's way once more in the eighth, and the score again was tied.

Fairmount City's favorite had opened the productive fourth with a single, and this time after Grady Hatton drew a two-out walk he lined a curve to the pavilion roof. So Pollet joined Harry Brecheen, Ted Wilks, Ken Burhardt (now with the Reds) and George Munger (twice) as victims of Wyrostek's home-run sting.

There was a happy ending, however. Harry Gumbert, the Reds' reliable relief ace, had gone to the rescue of a departed jinx, Raffensberger, in the eighth. And in the ninth singles by Bill Baker and Marion set up the two-out moment in which Musial, who twice had failed with men in scoring position, could strike the game-winning blow.

Lefthanders Johnny (13-13) Vander Meer of the Reds and Alpha (7-6) Brazle of the Cardinals probably will be the opposing pitchers tonight.

Attendance was 10,683.

New Jersey Club Beats Florida For Legion Title

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 11 (AP)—Trenton, N. J., last night won the national championship of American Legion junior baseball's 14,000 teams, defeating Jacksonville's teen-agers from Florida, 4-1, at Victory Field.

Slender Donald Minnick, Trenton's 17-year-old righthander, made his season's record 15 vivtories without defeat as he limited Jacksonville to six hits. He struck out three and did not issue a single walk.

Twice when Minnick was in a little trouble, Trenton's fast infield choked off Jacksonville threats with double plays.

Don Bessent, who had won 21 games for Jacksonville, allowed nine hits and walked three batters. He struck out five.

Trenton got one of its runs on a Jacksonville error but pushed two across on a third-inning double by Left Fielder Louis LiMato.

Jerome (Dizzy) Dean, former St. Louis Cardinal hurler, pitched for batting practice before the championship game and passed out the trophies.

Don Hunter, second baseman whose Omaha team was eliminated earlier, won the tournament's batting championship with a .397 average through regional, sectional and final play.

Trenton had reached the final of the legion tournament three times in the last four years, but this was the first time it had won the title. Jacksonville was making its first bid. Jacksonville's previous defeat in the double elimination tournament was by Belleville, Ill., 10-8 in 10 innings Tuesday.

Fox bowlers had team high single of 1061 and team high three of 2985. Ray Jung had 628 high three and Frank Mataya a high single score of 242.

Yankee Doodle Business

FRANK SHEA, pitcher for the Yankees, came near standing on his head as he tried to duck away from a ball delivered by Earl Caldwell of the Red Sox which struck him on the knee. BIRDIE TEBBETTS, Boston catcher, went to his hands and knees trying to make the catch. The hitting of Shea with the pitch helped set the stage for Joe DiMaggio's game-winning grandslam homer in the tenth inning. The umpire is ART PASSARELLA.

Joe DiMag Keeps Yanks in Race With Grandslam in 10th; Blow Ends Red Sox String at Nine

NEW YORK, Sept. 11 (AP)—Sparked by the greatest present Yankee of them all—Jolting Joe DiMaggio—the New York Yankees have declared themselves back in the American League pennant race.

DiMaggio rekindled the pennant hopes of the defending world champions in Boston yesterday with a tremendous grandslam home run that brought the Yanks an 11-6, 10-inning victory over the league-leading Red Sox.

The Yankee Clipper socked his game-wrecking blow in the tenth inning off Earl Caldwell, fourth Boston pitcher. The blast ended a nine-game Boston winning streak.

Caldwell dug his own grave by walking Gus Niarhos and hitting pitcher Spec Shea with a pitched ball to start the tenth. He fanned pinch-hitter Charley Keller, walked Tommy Henrich and struck out rookie Hank Bauer, but he couldn't get by DiMaggio.

Bang, Bang, There She Goes.

DiMaggio worked the count to 2-2, one of the strikes being a long foul that missed being a homer by inches. Then he poled Caldwell's next offering into the center field bleachers, 420 feet away from home plate, to break it up.

The defeat cut the Red Sox lead to two and one-half games over the Yanks.

Until DiMag unloaded, the flag aspirations of the Yanks were mighty dim. The Bombers entered the Hub Wednesday night a game and a half off the pace and took two straight beatings to tumble three and a half games behind.

A third straight licking by the Sox and the Yanks could just about forget the pennant and start concentrating on holding second place against the onslaught of the third-place Cleveland Indians.

Yesterday the Yanks followed the pattern of their two previous losses to the Sox. They built up a quick lead against Jack Kramer only to crumble before another murderous Boston counter drive.

The Yanks gave their ace righthander, Vic Raschi, a 6-2 advantage going into the sixth inning. But Raschi, who has never beaten Boston, folded up in this frame as the Sox rallied for three runs. Shea, slaughtered Wednesday night, took over and stopped the uprising, but he yielded the tying run in the eighth.

Shea cooled off the Sox the rest of the way and picked up his ninth victory on DiMaggio's thirty-fourth homer of the season and 298th of his career. DiMaggio also boosted his pace-setting runsbatted-in total to 134.

Indians Stay in There.

The Indians remained a game behind the Yanks by blitzing the Detroit Tigers, 10-1. Lefty Gene Bearden limited the visiting Tigers to six hits in posting his fourteenth victory. Bearden also singled, doubled and drove in two runs as the Tribe whacked three Tiger pitchers for 14 hits. Joe Gordon chipped in with his twenty-fifth homer to help the rookie along.

Connie Mack's fourth place Athletics took a twilight-night doubleheader from the Senators in Washington, 6-9 and 3-0. The A's hammered Sid Hudson for 17 hits in the opener and won out with a four-run ninth inning rally. Phil Marchildon stopped the Nats on three hits in the second game that was called at the end of eight innings to permit Philadelphia to catch a train for Boston. The defeats extended Washington's losing streak to 10 games.

Pep Too Good For De Marco

NEW YORK, Sept. 11 (AP)—Willie Pep today will be offered a December date at Madison Square Garden to defend his world featherweight title against Sandy Saddler, his No. 1 challenger.

Sol Strauss, acting promoter of the Twentieth Century Sporting Club, said he would give Pep his choice of open Garden dates for a bout with Saddler.

"We are interested in Pep only for a title fight with Saddler," said Strauss, "I think it would sell out the Garden. I know Lou Viscusi (Pep's manager) won't want to go too soon. But he can have his pick if he'll fight Saddler."

Pep's excursion into the lightweight division last night was a success as he gave Roughhouse Paddy de Marco a convincing boxing lesson. De Marco, a rugged slam-bang fighter who twice beat Terry Young, was in over his head despite a 5¼ pound advantage.

Referee Arthur Donovan and the two judges found Pep an easy winner. So did the Associated Press score card which had it 8-2 for the champ.

If Pep is slipping, as some have whispered since his close call in a plane crash, he did not show it against De Marco. A master boxer, quick to seize on an opening and alert to every sliding defensive move, Pep refused to trade punches in De Marco's rushing and flailing street-brawl style.

The only time he slugged with Paddy was in the ninth. Obviously annoyed because De Marco opened an old cut over his left eye, Pep tried to knock out the 20-year-old kid from Brooklyn. In a wild exchange, he was tagged flush on the jaw by a De Marco right hand. It slowed him up but there was no hint of a knockdown.

The crowd of 9817 paid $29,869.

Bodne Sells Stock in Boxing Tournament

NEW YORK, Sept. 11 (AP) — Ben B. Bodne, a hotel owner and oilman announced last night that he had sold his stock and retired as president of the Tournament of Champions, Inc.

Organized last April, the T. of C. promoted the Tony Zale-Rocky Graziano middleweight title fight in Newark in June. Currently it is promoting the Zale-Marcel Cerdan title fight scheduled for Sept. 23 in Jersey City. On the same card Jersey Joe Walcott will meet Gus Lesnevich.

Bodne said the scope of the T. of C. "has become so extensive" that he was no longer able to give the time necessary to its operations.

Tennis Tourney Opens.

St. Louis Team 1-0 Winner in Softball Meet

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Sept. 11 (AP)—The Kansas City, Kan., team defeated the John Deere Tractors of Des Moines, Ia., and Smacks of St. Louis edged Storz of Omaha, both by a 1-0 score, in the first round of the western regional softball tournament last night.

The Smacks run came in the third when Jim Thelliman's triple drove in Bill Carroll. W. Chock of Smacks limited Storz to one hit, while his mates were getting three off B. Crain.

Wally Palcher's double brought home Joe Ryan for Kansas City's run in the fourth inning of the second game. L. Clark of Kansas City pitched a three-hitter and J. Morris of Des Moines allowed five safeties.

Smacks will play the White Front Caseys of Springfield, Mo., this afternoon. The Des Moines team will meet Storz and Kansas City, Kan., will play the winner of the Smacks-White Front game tonight.

The winner of the double elimination tournament will go to the national tourney at Portland, Ore., next week. The regional finals will be played tomorrow. Competing are the state champions of Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska and Iowa, and the metropolitan St. Louis titlists.

$40,000 Race Postponed.

WESTBURY, N.Y., Sept. 11 (AP)—The $40,000 Nassau two-mile pace scheduled last night at Roosevelt raceway was postponed until tonight because of rain.

Browns Bow to Tribe, 4-1; Gromek Hurls Four-Hitter

CLEVELAND, Sept. 11 — The Browns were defeated by the Cleveland Indians in the first game of a doubleheader here this afternoon.

The score was 4 to 1, the Browns making only four hits off Steve Gromek, Cleveland righthander who gained his eighth victory of the season.

Cliff Fannin yielded only six safeties, but the Tribe bunched two in each of their scoring innings, the first and third.

Fannin, who previously had pitched two low-hit games against the Indians, was off to a shaky start. Mitchell singled in the first and Tucker tripled. After two passes filled the bases, Cleveland's second run scored on Boudreau's fly to Lehner.

In the Indians' third, Clark singled and scored on Gordon's double. The latter took third on Zarilla's fumble and tallied on Keltner's long fly to center.

The Browns' first hit off Gromek was Lehner's single in the fifth. In the sixth Bobby Dillinger singled to run his consecutive game hitting streak to 22 games. Priddy doubled to drive in a St. Louis run.

About 30,000 attended.

Dillinger Hits In 23 Straight

CLEVELAND, Sept. 11—Bob Dillinger beat out an infield grounder in the third inning of the Browns' second contest here this afternoon to make it 23 straight games in which he has hit safely. Bob Lemon, seeking his twentieth victory, was the Indians' pitcher.

Al Gerheauser, a southpaw recently recalled by the Browns from Toledo, yielded three first-inning runs. Mitchell and Clark singled, and, after Boudreau's sacrifice, Gordon walked, filling the bases. Keltner singled one run across and Walt Judnich drove in two mates with a single.

In the Cleveland third there was a double by Gordon and a single by Tucker, but Gerheauser prevented a score, with the help of a double play in which Judnich fouled to Kokos, whose throw to Partee doubled Gordon attempting to score.

Valley Takes No Action on Denver

Faculty representatives of members of the Missouri Valley Conference, meeting at Hotel Sheraton today, took no action on the application of Denver University for admission to the group.

Commissioner A. E. Eilers issued the following statement:

"Missouri Valley Conference announces it is studying the possible admission of Denver University into the conference. The faculty representatives met with the representatives of Denver and discussd mutual problems. No action on the expansion of the Missouri Valley Conference was taken at this time."

Conference schools were represented 100 per cent by faculty men and athletic directors, Eilers said.

Chicago Sweep

CLEVELAND, Sept. 11 — The Browns used 15 bases on balls and eight hits to gain a 10-7 victory over the White Sox last night, giving them a sweep of the three-game series in Chicago and their fourth victory in succession—their longest winning streak of the year.

Zack Taylor's men trailed, 4-6, after five innings, but counted two runs in each the sixth, seventh and ninth frames. Al Zarilla drove in two mates with a double after three walks had loaded the bases in the seventh. Losing hurler was Glen Moulder, former Brownie, and Fred Sanford, third of four St. Louis hurlers, was the victor.

Louise Brough Opens U.S. Meet With Victory

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 11 (AP)—Louise Brough of Beverly Hills, Calif., opened the defense of her women's singles title with an easy, straight-set triumph today as the national tennis championships got under way after a 24-hour rain-enforced delay.

The U.S. and Wimbledon champion needed only 26 minutes to crush Charlotte Decker of Washington, D.C., 6-1, 6-1, in the first match of the lengthy inaugural program.

Miss Decker, a newcomer to the championships, held her service once in each set as her only reward for the trip from the nation's capital.

Most of the seeded players in the men's singles division, including top-ranked Frankie Parker of Los Angeles, were not scheduled to appear today, having drawn byes in the second round.

The top-seeded defending women's champion was joined in the second round by Nancy Chaffee of Ventura, Calif., the nation's first ranking girl player, who eliminated Mrs. Eleanor Cushingham of Hollywood, Calif., 6-1, 6-3.

Dorothy Head of Alameda, Calif., the country's seventh ranking feminine star but unseeded here, breezed into the second round with a 6-1, 6-2 decision over Mrs. Sissy Madden Leach of Jamaica Plains, Mass.

U.S. Horse Wins St. Leger

B. Tarquin Beats Best Of Britain

DONCASTER, England, Sept. 11 (AP)—Black Tarquin, owned by William Woodward of New York, today won the St. Leger Stakes. Alycidon was second and Solar Slipper third.

Third favorite at 15-2, Black Tarquin satisfied Woodward's ambition to win an English classic, for this was the third jewel in British racing's triple crown.

Bred in the United States, Black Tarquin was shipped to England as a yearling. The colt's sire was Rhodes Scholar and his dam, Vagrancy.

My Love, a French-bred colt which won the English Derby, was the favorit at 7-4 in this richest race in British history, worth 15,368 pounds ($61,472).

Ward's 62 Leads in Idaho Golf Tourney

COEUR D'ALENE, Idaho, Sept. 11 (AP)—Amateur Marvin (Bud) Ward shot an eight under par 62 yesterday to lead a field of 96 professionals and amateurs at the end of the first round in the $2500 Coeur D'Alene open at the Hayden Lake course.

Ward equalled his own record for the course with a 32 on the first nine and a sparkling 30 for the home nine. A five-foot putt that failed to drop cost him a new record.

Professionals Jim Turnesa of Elmsford, N. Y.; George Bolesta, Tampa, Fla., and Fred Hawkins of Antioch, Ill., matched 66s with amateurs Dale Andreason, Glenview, Ill, and Walter McElroy Vancouver, B. C., in a five-way tie for second place.

22 Tuna, Weighing 11,319 Pounds Boated as the U.S. Wins in International Match

WEDGEPORT, Nova Scotia, Sept. 11 (AP)—United States anglers won the fifth international tuna match yesterday by boating two of the giant bluefins.

That accomplishment sent the United States point total to 4530. Cuba, winner of the last two matches, was second with 3222 points and Great Britain third with 3029. Argentina, making its debut in international angling, also boated two fish, but the South Americans finished last with 2138 points.

During the 1943 match 22 tuna were caught that weighed an aggregate of 11,319 pounds. Americans boated eight fish during the three days and lost another of 609 pounds by disqualification.

Cuba and Argentina each landed five and the British Empire team four. The British, however, won the distinction of getting the largest fish—a 746 pounder by Col. Leslie E. Sadler of Chagford, Devon, England, on the opening day.

The Cubans moved into second place on a fish that actually was boated after the closing cannon. Federico Mejer of Havana, hooked his fish shortly before the cannon sounded but by the rules was permitted to fight the fish until he either lost it or boated it.

After an hour and 50 minutes of struggling, he brought a 621-pounder to gaff. That was the largest fish of the day and brought the Cubans a 200-point bonus. They edged the British by 193 points for second place.

Joe Peeler of Catalina Island, Calif., boated a 596-pounder for the United States team and Lou Marron of Brielle, N.J., got one of 537 pounds.

Carlos Badaracco of Buenos Aires, landed both of the Argentine fish. His catches were of 279 and 221 pounds, respectively.

After the close of the day's competition, the United States team was awarded the Abtlon B. Sharp trophy. Sharp, Boston sportsman, and Harold Connolly, Nova Scotia Minister of Industry, presented the cup to B. Davis Crowinshield of Palm Beach, Fla., captain of the United States team.

4-1 Combination Pays $399.60 in 'Daily Double'

Seven lucky bettors who played the "4-1" combination in the daily double pool at Fairmount Park last night came off with $399.60 for their $2 investment. It was the biggest double of the fall meeting of Madison Raceway, Inc. The seven were the fortunate ones out of a crowd of 3945, which passed $74,879 through the mutuel windows.

Scotch Reel, with Harry Pyle in the sulky, was No. 4 in the first race and came through to victory at $30 for $2. Major Grattan, driven by Harold Boring, won the second at $11.20 for $2.

Carroll Dale, driven by Neil Boardman, scored his third and fourth victories of the meeting by grabbing both ends of the divided pace. The payoff in each case was $5.20 for $2. The two firsts brought Boardman's total to seven.

Worthy Baldwin ($7.80) won the first heat of the other feature, but Charley Our Boy Braden ($10.80) grabbed the second.

Two previous winners, Miss Bovee and Poison I.V., will tangle in the divided trot, one of tonight's features, while the divided pace will bring together True Neil, Derby Dan and Doctor Hart, all of which have won at the fall meeting.

Jany Betters Record.

CASABLANCA, Sept. 11 (AP)—Alex Jany, French swimming champion, broke the 300-yard world record here yesterday, the French news agency reported. He swam the distance in 3:03 minutes. The previous world record had been established in April, 1935, in Chicago by J. Medica in 3:04.4.

Rockets Tally in Last 4 Minutes To Defeat Colts

NEW YORK, Sept. 11 (AP)—The Chicago Rockets, hitherto long on the yardstick and short on the scoreboard, were in the All-America Football Conference record books today with their second victory in as many seasons.

They upset the favored and overconfident Baltimore Colts last night, 21-14, before 14,642 fans who rattled around in huge Soldier Field, Chicago.

It was the first Rocket triumph since they turned the trick against the same club last Nov. 7 for their only 1947 victory in 14 starts, and it gave "rookie" pro coach Ed McKeever his first success in three starts. The two losses were marked by an inability to score, rather than to gain.

The Rocket resurgence meant that only the Brooklyn Dodgers have still to win their first game in the conference's third season. The Dodgers went down last night at Los Angeles against Coach Jimmy Phelan's Dons, 17-7.

Last night the Rockets shot into a 14-0 halftime lead, saw the fired-up Colts come back to tie it up in the second half, then sent Sam Vacanti across from a yard out in the last four minutes to win.

Vacanti was one of the league's outstanding forward passers last year, and his work so far this season earned him the starting call over the highly-touted ex-Notre Dame star, Angelo Bertelli.

At Los Angeles, 35,246 fans saw Glenn Dobbs reassume the starring role he monopolized in 1946 when he led the conference in just about all departments. Last year he was hampered by playing from the T instead of his accustomed single wing. Now Phelan uses him in his familiar style of play, and it paid off last night.

Dobbs passed to End Len Ford for 28 yards and the first touchdown, went 51 yards off a lateral to set up a field goal, then punched the middle for 17 yards for the second touchdown.

Brooklyn drew whatever solace there was from the statistics. The Dodgers outdowned the winners, 15-8, and outpassed the Dons, 160 yards to 103.

Two Boxers Set Down By Montreal Officials

MONTREAL, Sept. 11 (AP)—Johnny Greco, Canadian welterweight champion, and Larry Cisneros of Los Angeles were suspended yesterday by the Montreal Athletic Commission for their poor showing in a bout last Thursday.

The two appeared before a special meeting of the commission and announcement of the suspensions was made by Chairman Dave Rochon.

The bout was stopped in the fourth round by Referee Maurice O'Connell and declared "no contest."

Wrestling Results.

Wrestling results at Kiel Auditorium last night resulted as follows:

Enrique Torres won from Bill Longson. Longson disqualified by Referee C. Schwartz for refusal to break.

Babe Zaharias, 235, Pueblo, Colo., defeated Joe Millich, 219, St. Louis, with body block in 13:25.

Warren Bockwinkel, 242, St. Louis, defeated Natie Brown, 232, Washington, D. C., with body block in 13:05.

Ray Gunkle, 231, Indianapolis, defeated Al Galento, 228, San Francisco, with body block in 9:09.

Al Lovelock, 231, Houston, Tex., and Bobby Managoff, 235, Chicago, wrestled to a 30-minute draw.

RITA JOHNSON UNCONSCIOUS; POLICE INQUIRY STALLED

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 11 (AP)—Detectives trying to learn how Rita Johnson was critically injured apparently were stymied today until the blonde actress recovers consciousness.

She still was in critical condition. If she recovers she presumably can explain what Detective Lt. M. A. Stephenson said appeared to be an accident last Monday night.

At t taehhmtii pl.rN,n,nnef

At that time her friend, actress Mary Ainslee, stopping by to take Miss Johnson to a cocktail party, discovered Rita had bruised her head. The actress explained only that "the hair dried fell on me," before she became unconscious.

BERLIN, CREDIT NEWS DEPRESS STOCK LIST

NEW YORK, Sept. 11 (UP)—New troubles in Berlin and tighter credit rules brought a decline into the stock market during the past week. The week of four days—cut by the Labor day holiday—sandwiched two declines between advancing markets. Prices rose on Monday on glowing industrial news, broke Wednesday and Thursday on Berlin and credit, and rallied technically on Friday after another setback.

At the lows the market was at its worst since mid-August. The Friday recovery which came late in that session did little to cut the losses, although it did lift stocks up 1 to 3 points from their lows of the day.

The net loss for the market as a whole amounted to around two billion dollars in value of all listed shares. It was the widest break since the week ended Aug. 13, when the over-all loss was just about the same.

Sales for the four days exceeded last week's five-day total and averaged 990,000 shares daily against last week's average of 775,000 shares.

Selling was touched off in the Wednesday session on the Berlin news. On Thursday the market had to contend with the Federal Reserve ruling, raising member bank reserve requirements. The market itself is not worried about credit but the trading element feared that stiffer credit might set off a business recession if carried further.

COTTON UNCHANGED, 60C UP

NEW YORK, Sept. 11 (AP)—The cottotn market was firm today with trading quiet. A carryover of Friday's textile mill buying and some commission house replacement demand encountered only limited hedge selling.

Dealers reported that a considerable portion of the 1948 cotton crop was moving into Government loans and as a result selling from the South was held to a minimum.

Expectation of increased buying against future export sales and predictions for a pickup in textile business contributed to the upward movement.

Futures closed unchanged to 60 cents a bale higher than the previous close.

M.I.T. Scientists Disclose Pictures Taken With Powerful Electron Microscope.

TORONTO, Sept. 11 (AP)—Pictures showing tiny dots that may be polio virus moving inside a nerve were disclosed yesterday by two research scientists. If these dots actually are the virus, a new way possibly will be opened to learn how infantile paralysis virus gets into the body, and how it moves along nerve pathways to do damage.

The photographs were taken by Dr. E. Derobertis and Dr. Francis O. Schmitt of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, with a powerful electron microscope. They were shown, with a report of the work, to the Electron Microscope Society of America.

At intervals, the M.I.T. scientists took pictures of the sciatic nerve of a monkey which had been infected with polio virus. Tiny, oval dots could be seen in the tubule of the nerve, an inner portion of the nerve which may be hollow.

"We do not claim that these particles that appear as dots in the nerve tubule are necessarily the polio virus, but the pictures do suggest that they are the virus or else are intimately connected with it," Dr. Derobertis said.

A great handicap in polio research is that the polio virus is much smaller than most disease organism. The electron microscope can magnify things 50,000 to 100,000 times.

Viruses are smaller than bacteria. They have to take something from living tissue to reproduce. Bacteria are self-sufficient.

21,000 FARMS ELECTRIFIED IN ILLINOIS BY REA IN 1947

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Sept. 11 (UP)—State Agriculture Director Arnold P. Benson reports that 85 per cent of Illinois farms have electric lights today.

Benson said that 21,000 farms were added to Rural Electrification Administration co-operative lines last year. "If aluminum can be made available that many more Illinois farms will be given service in the year ahead," he said.

Two years ago only 57.5 per cent of the farmers had electricity, compared with 85 per cent today. Benson addressed the closing session of the convention of the Association of Illinois Electric Co-operatives yesterday.

CATTLE PRICES UP ON WEEK, HOG MARKET ALSO BETTER

NATIONAL STOCK YARDS, Ill., Sept. 11—The St. Louis Livestock Exchange Saturday reported 100 cattle and 50 received and carried over until Monday. Hogs 400; barrow and gilts steady to 25c lower than Friday; top $29. Packing sows steady, $27. Pigs 160-lb, down, top $28. No sheep or lambs.

NATIONAL STOCKYARDS, Sept. 11 (USDA weekly review of the livestock market.)—Prices of cattle advanced unevenly on a light supply of cattle which was less than half the number received during the corresponding week last year. Steers closed 25@50c higher, heifers and mixed yearlings as well as cows 50c@$1 higher and some up more. Bulls were strong to 50c higher, vealers closing $1 under the previous Friday. One load of choice 1024 lb. steers brought $37.25, majority of good steers $30@35, medium to low good $24@30, common and medium $20.50@23.25. Good 1291 lb. Oklahoma steers cashed at $30.35. Medium and good replacement steers sold from $23.25@27, common kinds around $18.50@19. Choice 981 lb. mixed steers and heifers topped at $38.50. Good heifers and mixed yearlings largely $29@32, common and medium $20@27; good cows varied from $21@23 and slightly above, common and medium cows for the week largely $18@21; canners and cutters $15@18; medium and good bulls bulked at $21@23; a few at $23.25@23.50 with cutter and common $18@20. Choice vealers closed at a top of $31; good and choice for the week mostly $26@30, common and medium $17@26 and culls around $12@15.

Hog weights over 180 lbs. closed the week 25@85c higher, lighter weights 75c@$1.50 higher and sows 50c to mostly $1 higher. Top price reached $29.50 Wednesday with a peak of $29.25 all the sessions. For the week, bulk of 190 to 270 lbs. sold at $28.75@29.25; 280-325 lbs. $27@28.75; 160-190 lbs. $27@29; 130-150 lbs. $24.50@27.50 and 100-120 lbs. $21.50@24.50. Sows ranged from $21.50@27, mostly $22 upward.

Spring lambs closed $1@1.50 higher for the week, slaughter ewes 50c lower. Spring lambs topped late at $25.25 with bulk of good and choice for the week at $24.50@25.75, medium and good $21.50@24.50; throwouts mostly $18@20, feeding lambs up to $21. Bulk of slaughter ewes brought $9@10 with no choice grade offered.

LIVESTOCK ELSEWHERE

CHICAGO, Sept. 11 (AP) — Nominal quotations ranging from $25.25 to $29.25 prevailed in hogs today. Cattle and sheep also were quoted nominally steady.

Heavy arrivals at the end of the week forced hog prices down around 25 cents as compared with a week ago. The decline came in the face of a firm wholesale pork market.

In contrast with hogs, cattle responding to the firming in wholesale meat prices. Practically everything ended the week higher than last weekend. Continued small receipts helped the advance. Firming wholesale prices were attributed to cooler weather and end of the vacation season.

Slaughter steers mostly gained $1 to $1.50 during the week, although the advance on choice to prime types was limited to 25 cents. Top for the week was $41.50. Trading was active at the best prices with weekend demand much broader than normal.

Slaughter spring lambs gained $2, closing at $26.75 to $27. A much broader demand came from all sources, negating the influence of moderately increased receipts.

VEAL AND LAMBS.

Veal and lamb quotations on the St. Louis market as reported by the "St. Louis Daily Market Reporter."

Veals, good to choice, $27@31; common to medium, $16@26; culls, $12@15.

Lambs, spring, good to choice $25.50@26.25; medium to good, $22.50@24.50; cull to medium throwouts, $12@21; ewes, $7.50@10.

SEPTEMBER CORN UP DESPITE BIG CROP

CHICAGO, Sept. 11 (AP)—The shorts in September corn didn't get any encouragement today out of the Agriculture Department's forecast for a record-breaking new corn crop. Instead, the shorts found themselves again buying on a rising market. September spurted a couple of cents.

Action of September did not have much influence on the new crop months. They sold at slightly lower levels most of the day, although the Agriculture Department's crop forecast hardly was news here. For some time it has been agreed that the record crop was "made."

Wheat did quite well, particularly the July, 1949, delivery. Reports circulated of a small pick-up in domestic flour business. Oats were slightly easier much of the session, largely on the Agriculture Department's crop estimate, which raised output by 22,963,000 bushels.

Soybeans and lard continued their recovery, which has been influenced by strengthening in fats and oils prices. It was also said that soybeans appeared to be running into a good demand from industries.

Wheat closed ⅝@2¼c higher, corn was ⅝c lower to 2⅜c higher, oats were ⅝c lower to ¼c higher, rye was ½c higher and soybeans were 5½c to 7c higher.

In addition to the crop estimate, some early selling came into oats on reports that the domestic variety was meeting some competition in New England from Canadian imports. Although receipts are light each day, the trade knows there are large supplies of oats back on farms.

The Agriculture Department's forecast on corn did not constitute anything new. New crop corn futures are selling around 20 cents a bushel under the estimated government loan level here. Previous short sellers gave support to the September delivery.

Weather over the corn belt this morning was clear just about everywhere. The official forecast predicted scattered showers for the western portion of Iowa and southwestern portion of Minnesota tomorrow. Elsewhere in the corn belt, weather was expected to be clear.

U.S. Horse Wins St. Leger

B. Tarquin Beats Best Of Britain

DONCASTER, England, Sept. 11 (AP)—Black Tarquin, owned by William Woodward of New York, today won the St. Leger Stakes. Alycidon was second and Solar Slipper third.

Third favorite at 15-2, Black Tarquin satisfied Woodward's ambition to win an English classic, for this was the third jewel in British racing's triple crown.

Bred in the United States, Black Tarquin was shipped to England as a yearling. The colt's sire was Rhodes Scholar and his dam, Vagrancy.

My Love, a French-bred colt which won the English Derby, was the favorit at 7-4 in this richest race in British history, worth 15,368 pounds ($61,472).

Ward's 62 Leads in Idaho Golf Tourney

COEUR D'ALENE, Idaho, Sept. 11 (AP)—Amateur Marvin (Bud) Ward shot an eight under par 62 yesterday to lead a field of 96 professionals and amateurs at the end of the first round in the $2500 Coeur D'Alene open at the Hayden Lake course.

Ward equalled his own record for the course with a 32 on the first nine and a sparkling 30 for the home nine. A five-foot putt that failed to drop cost him a new record.

Professionals Jim Turnesa of Elmsford, N. Y.; George Bolesta, Tampa, Fla., and Fred Hawkins of Antioch, Ill., matched 66s with amateurs Dale Andreason, Glenview, Ill, and Walter McElroy Vancouver, B. C., in a five-way tie for second place.

22 Tuna, Weighing 11,319 Pounds Boated as the U.S. Wins in International Match

WEDGEPORT, Nova Scotia, Sept. 11 (AP)—United States anglers won the fifth international tuna match yesterday by boating two of the giant bluefins.

That accomplishment sent the United States point total to 4530. Cuba, winner of the last two matches, was second with 3222 points and Great Britain third with 3029. Argentina, making its debut in international angling, also boated two fish, but the South Americans finished last with 2138 points.

During the 1943 match 22 tuna were caught that weighed an aggregate of 11,319 pounds. Americans boated eight fish during the three days and lost another of 609 pounds by disqualification.

Cuba and Argentina each landed five and the British Empire team four. The British, however, won the distinction of getting the largest fish—a 746 pounder by Col. Leslie E. Sadler of Chagford, Devon, England, on the opening day.

The Cubans moved into second place on a fish that actually was boated after the closing cannon. Federico Mejer of Havana, hooked his fish shortly before the cannon sounded but by the rules was permitted to fight the fish until he either lost it or boated it.

After an hour and 50 minutes of struggiling, he brought a 621-pounder to gaff. That was the largest fish of the day and brought the Cubans a 200-point bonus. They edged the British by 193 points for second place.

Joe Peeler of Catalina Island, Calif., boated a 596-pounder for the United States team and Lou Marron of Brielle, N.J., got one of 537 pounds.

Carlos Badaracco of Buenos Aires, landed both of the Argentine fish. His catches were of 279 and 221 pounds, respectively.

After the close of the day's competition, the United States team was awarded the Abtlon B. Sharp trophy. Sharp, Boston sportsman, and Harold Connolly, Nova Scotia Minister of Industry, presented the cup to B. Davis Crowinshield of Palm Beach, Fla., captain of the United States team.

4-1 Combination Pays $399.60 in 'Daily Double'

Seven lucky bettors who played the "4-1" combination in the daily double pool at Fairmount Park last night came off with $399.60 for their $2 investment. It was the biggest double of the fall meeting of Madison Raceway, Inc. The seven were the fortunate ones out of a crowd of 3945, which passed $74,879 through the mutuel windows.

Scotch Reel, with Harry Pyle in the sulky, was No. 4 in the first race and came through to victory at $30 for $2. Major Grattan, driven by Harold Boring, won the second at $11.20 for $2.

Carroll Dale, driven by Neil Boardman, scored his third and fourth victories of the meeting by grabbing both ends of the divided pace. The payoff in each case was $5.20 for $2. The two firsts brought Boardman's total to seven.

Worthy Baldwin ($7.80) won the first heat of the other feature, but Charley Our Boy Braden ($10.80) grabbed the second.

Two previous winners, Miss Bovee and Poison I.V., will tangle in the divided trot, one of tonight's features, while the divided pace will bring together True Neil, Derby Dan and Doctor Hart, all of which have won at the fall meeting.

Jany Betters Record.

CASABLANCA, Sept. 11 (AP)—Alex Jany, French swimming champion, broke the 300-yard world record here yesterday, the French news agency reported. He swam the distance in 3:03 minutes. The previous world record had been established in April, 1935, in Chicago by J. Medica in 3:04.4.

Rockets Tally in Last 4 Minutes To Defeat Colts

NEW YORK, Sept. 11 (AP)—The Chicago Rockets, hitherto long on the yardstick and short on the scoreboard, were in the All-America Football Conference record books today with their second victory in as many seasons.

They upset the favored and overconfident Baltimore Colts last night, 21-14, before 14,642 fans who rattled around in huge Soldier Field, Chicago.

It was the first Rocket triumph since they turned the trick against the same club last Nov. 7 for their only 1947 victory in 14 starts, and it gave "rookie" pro coach Ed McKeever his first success in three starts. The two losses were marked by an inability to score, rather than to gain.

The Rocket resurgence meant that only the Brooklyn Dodgers have still to win their first game in the conference's third season. The Dodgers went down last night at Los Angeles against Coach Jimmy Phelan's Dons, 17-7.

Last night the Rockets shot into a 14-0 halftime lead, saw the fired-up Colts come back to tie it up in the second half, then sent Sam Vacanti across from a yard out in the last four minutes to win.

Vacanti was one of the league's outstanding forward passers last year, and his work so far this season earned him the starting call over the highly-touted ex-Notre Dame star, Angelo Bertelli.

At Los Angeles, 35,246 fans saw Glenn Dobbs reassume the starring role he monopolized in 1946 when he led the conference in just about all departments. Last year he was hampered by playing from the T instead of his accustomed single wing. Now Phelan uses him in his familiar style of play, and it paid off last night.

Dobbs passed to End Len Ford for 28 yards and the first touchdown, went 51 yards off a lateral to set up a field goal, then punched the middle for 17 yards for the second touchdown.

Brooklyn drew whatever solace there was from the statistics. The Dodgers outdowned the winners, 15-8, and outpassed the Dons, 160 yards to 103.

Two Boxers Set Down By Montreal Officials

MONTREAL, Sept. 11 (AP)—Johnny Greco, Canadian welterweight champion, and Larry Cisneros of Los Angeles were suspended yesterday by the Montreal Athletic Commission for their poor showing in a bout last Thursday.

The two appeared before a special meeting of the commission and announcement of the suspensions was made by Chairman Dave Rochon.

The bout was stopped in the fourth round by Referee Maurice O'Connell and declared "no contest."

Wrestling Results.

Wrestling results at Kiel Auditorium last night resulted as follows:

Enrique Torres won from Bill Longson. Longson disqualified by Referee C. Schwartz for refusal to break.

Babe Zaharias, 235, Pueblo, Colo., defeated Joe Millich, 219, St. Louis, with body block in 13:25.

Warren Bockwinkel, 242, St. Louis, defeated Natie Brown, 232, Washington, D. C., with body block in 13:05.

Ray Gunkle, 231, Indianapolis, defeated Al Galento, 228, San Francisco, with body block in 9:09.

Al Lovelock, 231, Houston, Tex., and Bobby Managoff, 235, Chicago, wrestled to a 30-minute draw.

RITA JOHNSON UNCONSCIOUS; POLICE INQUIRY STALLED

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 11 (AP)—Detectives trying to learn how Rita Johnson was critically injured apparently were stymied today until the blonde actress recovers consciousness.

She still was in critical condition. If she recovers she presumably can explain what Detective Lt. M. A. Stephenson said appeared to be an accident last Monday night.

At t taehhmtii pl.rN,n,nnef

At that time her friend, actress Mary Ainslee, stopping by to take Miss Johnson to a cocktail party, discovered Rita had bruised her head. The actress explained only that "the hair dried fell on me," before she became unconscious.

BERLIN, CREDIT NEWS DEPRESS STOCK LIST

NEW YORK, Sept. 11 (UP)—New troubles in Berlin and tighter credit rules brought a decline into the stock market during the past week. The week of four days—cut by the Labor day holiday—sandwiched two declines between advancing markets. Prices rose on Monday on glowing industrial news, broke Wednesday and Thursday on Berlin and credit, and rallied technically on Friday after another setback.

At the lows the market was at its worst since mid-August. The Friday recovery which came late in that session did little to cut the losses, although it did lift stocks up 1 to 3 points from their lows of the day.

The net loss for the market as a whole amounted to around two billion dollars in value of all listed shares. It was the widest break since the week ended Aug. 13, when the over-all loss was just about the same.

Sales for the four days exceeded last week's five-day total and averaged 990,000 shares daily against last week's average of 775,000 shares.

Selling was touched off in the Wednesday session on the Berlin news. On Thursday the market had to contend with the Federal Reserve ruling, raising member bank reserve requirements. The market itself is not worried about credit but the trading element feared that stiffer credit might set off a business recession if carried further.

COTTON UNCHANGED, 60C UP

NEW YORK, Sept. 11 (AP)—The cotton market was firm today with trading quiet. A carryover of Friday's textile mill buying and some commission house replacement demand encountered only limited hedge selling.

Dealers reported that a considerable portion of the 1948 cotton crop was moving into Government loans and as a result selling from the South was held to a minimum.

Expectation of increased buying against future export sales and predictions for a pickup in textile business contributed to the upward movement.

Futures closed unchanged to 60 cents a bale higher than the previous close.

M.I.T. Scientists Disclose Pictures Taken With Powerful Electron Microscope.

TORONTO, Sept. 11 (AP)—Pictures showing tiny dots that may be polio virus moving inside a nerve were disclosed yesterday by two research scientists. If these dots actually are the virus, a new way possibly will be opened to learn how infantile paralysis virus gets into the body, and how it moves along nerve pathways to do damage.

The photographs were taken by Dr. E. Derobertis and Dr. Francis O. Schmitt of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, with a powerful electron microscope. They were shown, with a report of the work, to the Electron Microscope Society of America.

At intervals, the M.I.T. scientists took pictures of the sciatic nerve of a monkey which had been infected with polio virus. Tiny, oval dots could be seen in the tubule of the nerve, an inner portion of the nerve which may be hollow.

"We do not claim that these particles that appear as dots in the nerve tubule are necessarily the polio virus, but the pictures do suggest that they are the virus or else are intimately connected with it," Dr. Derobertis said.

A great handicap in polio research is that the polio virus is much smaller than most disease organism. The electron microscope can magnify things 50,000 to 100,000 times.

Viruses are smaller than bacteria. They have to take something from living tissue to reproduce. Bacteria are self-sufficient.

21,000 FARMS ELECTRIFIED IN ILLINOIS BY REA IN 1947

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Sept. 11 (UP)—State Agriculture Director Arnold P. Benson reports that 85 per cent of Illinois farms have electric lights today.

Benson said that 21,000 farms were added to Rural Electrification Administration co-operative lines last year. "If aluminum can be made available that many more Illinois farms will be given service in the year ahead," he said.

Two years ago only 57.5 per cent of the farmers had electricity, compared with 85 per cent today. Benson addressed the closing session of the convention of the Association of Illinois Electric Co-operatives yesterday.

WHOLESALE COMMODITY INDEX UP FIRST WEEK IN LAST SIX

NEW YORK, Sept. 11 (AP) — The Associated Press composite of 35 wholesale commodity prices made its first Friday-to-Friday advance in six weeks yesterday.

The index stood at 186.36, against 185.53 a week earlier and 194.35 a year ago. It is based on the year 1926 as 100.

Touching a new 1948 high at 179.47 was the industrials component. Others advancing were grains and cotton, livestock and food. Textiles dropped to a new 1948 low at 156.85.

The staple price index and its components, for Sept. 10, a week earlier and a year ago, follow:

	Sept. 10.	Week Ago.	Year Ago.

CATTLE PRICES UP ON WEEK, HOG MARKET ALSO BETTER

NATIONAL STOCK YARDS, Ill., Sept. 11—The St. Louis Livestock Exchange Saturday reported 100 cattle and 50 received and carried over until Monday. Hogs 400; barrow and gilts steady to 25c lower than Friday; top $29. Packing sows steady, $27. Pigs 160-lb, down, top $28. No sheep or lambs.

NATIONAL STOCKYARDS, Sept. 11 (USDA weekly review of the livestock market.)—Prices of cattle advanced unevenly on a light supply of cattle which was less than half the number received during the corresponding week last year. Steers closed 25@50c higher, heifers and mixed yearlings as well as cows 50c@$1 higher and some up more. Bulls were strong to 50c higher, vealers closing $1 under the previous Friday. One load of choice 1024 lb. steers brought $37.25, majority of good steers $30@35, medium to low good $24@30, common and medium $20.50@23.25. Good 1291 lb. Oklahoma steers cashed at $30.35. Medium and good replacement steers sold from $23.25@27, common kinds around $18.50@19. Choice 981 lb. mixed steers and heifers topped at $38.50. Good heifers and mixed yearlings largely $29@32, common and medium $20@27; good cows varied from $21@23 and slightly above, common and medium cows for the week largely $18@21; canners and cutters $15@18; medium and good bulls bulked at $21@23; a few at $23.25@23.50 with cutter and common $18@20. Choice vealers closed at a top of $31, good and choice for the week mostly $26@30, common and medium $17@26 and culls around $12@15.

Hog weights over 180 lbs. closed the week 25@85c higher, lighter weights 75c @$1.50 higher and sows 50c to mostly $1 higher. Top price reached $29.50 Wednesday with a peak of $29.25 all the sessions. For the week, bulk of 190 to 270 lbs. sold at $28.75@29.25; 280-325 lbs. $27@28.75; 160-190 lbs. $27@29; 130-150 lbs. $24.50@27.50 and 100-120 lbs. $21.50@24.50. Sows ranged from $21.50@27, mostly $22 upward.

Spring lambs closed $1@1.50 higher for the week, slaughter ewes 50c lower. Spring lambs topped late at $25.25 with bulk of good and choice for the week at $24.50@25.75, medium and good $21.50@24.50; throwouts mostly $18@20. Feeding lambs up to $21. Bulk of slaughter ewes brought $9@10 with no choice grade offered.

LIVESTOCK ELSEWHERE

CHICAGO, Sept. 11 (AP) — Nominal quotations ranging from $25.25 to $29.25 prevailed in hogs today. Cattle and sheep also were quoted nominally steady.

Heavy arrivals at the end of the week forced hog prices down around 25 cents as compared with a week ago. The decline came in the face of a firm wholesale pork market.

In contrast with hogs, cattle responding to the firming in wholesale meat prices. Practically everything ended the week higher than last weekend. Continued small receipts helped the advance. Firming wholesale prices were attributed to cooler weather and end of the vacation season.

Slaughter steers mostly gained $1 to $1.50 during the week, although the advance on choice to prime types was limited to 25 cents. Top for the week was $41.50. Trading was active at the best prices with weekend demand much broader than normal.

Slaughter spring lambs gained $2, closing at $26.75 to $27. A much broader demand came from all sources, negating the influence of moderately increased receipts.

VEAL AND LAMBS.

Veal and lamb quotations on the St. Louis market as reported by the "St. Louis Daily Market Reporter."

Veals, good to choice, $27@31; common to medium, $16@26; culls, $12@15.

Lambs, spring, good to choice $25.50@26.25; medium to good, $22.50@24.50; cull to medium throwouts, $12@21; ewes, $7.50@10.

SEPTEMBER CORN UP DESPITE BIG CROP

CHICAGO, Sept. 11 (AP)—The shorts in September corn didn't get any encouragement today out of the Agriculture Department's forecast for a record-breaking new corn crop. Instead, the shorts found themselves again buying on a rising market. September spurted a couple of cents.

Action of September did not have much influence on the new crop months. They sold at slightly lower levels most of the day, although the Agriculture Department's crop forecast hardly was news here. For some time it has been agreed that the record crop was "made."

Wheat did quite well, particularly the July, 1949, delivery. Reports circulated of a small pick-up in domestic flour business. Oats were slightly easier much of the session, largely on the Agriculture Department's crop estimate, which raised output by 22,963,000 bushels.

Soybeans and lard continued their recovery, which has been influenced by strengthening in fats and oils prices. It was also said that soybeans appeared to be running into a good demand from industries.

Wheat closed ⅜@2¼c higher, corn was ⅝c lower to 2¾c higher, oats were ⅝c lower to ¼c higher, rye was ½c higher and soybeans were 5½c to 7c higher.

In addition to the crop estimate, some early selling came into oats on reports that the domestic variety was meeting some competition in New England from Canadian imports. Although receipts are light each day, the trade knows there are large supplies of oats back on farms.

The Agriculture Department's forecast on corn did not constitute anything new. New crop corn futures are selling around 20 cents a bushel under the estimated government loan level here. Previous short sellers gave support to the September delivery.

Weather over the corn belt this morning was clear just about everywhere. The official forecast predicted scattered showers for the western portion of Iowa and southwestern portion of Minnesota tomorrow. Elsewhere in the corn belt, weather was expected to be clear.

NORTH KOREANS URGE U.S., SOVIET TROOPS TO LEAVE

Letter Says It Is Absurd to Say Such a Withdrawal Would Lead to Civil War.

SEOUL, Sept. 11 (AP)—The Soviet-sponsored North Korean Government demanded today that the United States and Russia withdraw their troops from Korea.

The demand was made in a letter to the United States which was broadcast over ahe Pyongyang radio. The letter decried the division of the country into Russian and American zones and scouted the possibility of civil war in the divided nation.

The letter was drafted at a meeting of the new North Korean Peoples' Council which last night heard Premier Kim Il Sung, a fugitive from South Korea where he is wanted for murder and arson, outline his platform.

Kim threatened "fierce fights to re-establish and consolidate" the North Korean Government in South Korea, where the United Nations-sponsored Government rules the American occupation zone.

Riots ensued in South Korea in May when the U.N.-sponsored South Korean election was held. North Korean Communists were blamed for the rioting and the subsequent deaths and injury to hundreds.

The Russians proposed in the autumn of 1947 that the armed forces of both countries be withdrawn. Last May they notified the North Korean government that they were ready to leave when the Americans pulled out.

The United States and the new republic of Korea, which is the southern half of the country, have agreed that withdrawal of American troops will be made gradually as the republic increases the strength of its army. The republic's army is now believed to be numerically weaker than the army of the northern government.

The United States today turned over property and credits worth millions of dollars to South Korea.

Some $250,000,000 worth of rehabilitation supplies was written off as a gift to the new republic and distributed in South Korea as one part of the agreement.

Another part, covering the settlement of a $25,000,000 Foreign Liquidation Commission loan, provided that part of it be liquidated as payment for the Seoul buildings the United States State Department will use.

WORLD FEDERALISTS CALL FOR GLOBAL REFERENDUM ON CONSTITUENT ASSEMBLY

LUXEMBOURG, Sept. 11 (UP)

THE second annual convention of the World Federal Government Congress ended last night with an appeal for a world referendum to pave the way for a world constituent assembly at Geneva, Switzerland, in 1950.

The convention adopted the "Luxembourg declaration" which staked all hope for peace on the ability of a constituent assembly to provide for a world legislature and powers to enact world laws. In the referendum, there would be one vote for each 1,000,000 inhabitants.

Creation of a world government is the only means of ending war, Lord Beveridge, author of a British social security plan, told the congress. He said he thought the federalists' crusade for a world government had a chance of success just because it was not trying to go too fast.

MARSHALL SEES VANDENBERG AND BRITISH ENVOY

Sept. 15 and the General Assembly session opens there six days later.

The chief issues in the Berlin dispute are reported to be Russia's demand for the veto in decisions affecting Berlin's currency and the Soviet blockade of Berlin. The Western powers have held out for majority rule on the currency question.

RUSSIANS REPORTED INCREASING POLICE

BERLIN, Sept. 11 (UP) — Russian authorities reported today to have dispatched 5000 German police specially trained in Soviet camps to strategic positions in eastern Germany to put down disorders.

The British-licensed newspaper Telegraf said unrest caused by confiscation of foodstuffs prompted the Russians to take precautions. It said the heavily armed police, recruited from among German war prisoners, would be garrisoned at several towns on an arc before Berlin to the east.

Telegraf said a group of these troops are scheduled to arrive Monday at a reception camp at Fuerstenwalde, 30 miles east of Berlin.

(The Associated Press account said the newspaper claimed the police were members of the "Free German Army" reported to be led by Field Marshals Friedrich von Paulus and Walther von Seydlitz, who were being repatriated. The two field marshals were captured at Stalingrad with several hundred thousand men.)

A new arrangement for moving limited quantities of mail by rail between Berlin and western Germany roused speculation that a crack had been made in the Soviet blockade of Berlin. But G. B. Thompson, British rail transport chief here, said the shift was a minor technicalty, providing a direct route for mail between the Hamburg area and Berlin, and was of no significance as regards the blockade.

British railway headquarters in Hanover reported the British Military Government had issued orders to arrange for a mail train to leave for Berlin tonight. A consign of mail had crossed the zonal border from Berlin to the British zone yesterday.

Thompson said neither was a through train. He said mail coaches were switched across the frontier to be coupled onto trains in the opposite zone. He added that occasional mail cars had been shunted across the border ever since the blockade was imposed nearly three months ago.

North of Blockade Point.

The mail train that crossed the Russian zonal border yesterday entered the British zone at Vorsfelde, 10 miles north of the Russian blockade point at Helmstedt, British zone railway officials said. Thus it did not travel over the blockaded international Helmstedt line, but along a northerly route.

Circumventing the Soviet blockade, the British-American airlift hit a new record yesterday by flying in approximately 5000 tons of supplies under virtually perfect flying conditions. The planes made 714 flights.

Meanwhile, both British and American authorities in Berlin ordered military and civilian police to take special precautions against the possibility of disorders on sector borders during a scheduled Communist demonstration in the Soviet sector tomorrow.

Authorities said they doubted that any incidents would spread into the western sectors during the demonstration but that police would be prepared to cope with any unexpected developments.

They stressed that there will be no lines of police guarding the western borders. Instead, they said, police squads will be held in reserve to preserve order if the demonstrations slip over into the western sectors.

"Answer" to Anti-Reds.

The Communist press of Berlin has publicized the scheduled demonstration as a "monster" answer to the 200,000 anti-Communists who gathered before the burned out Reichstag building in the British zone Thursday, leading to a Russian-German clash in which one German was shot and killed and 22 injured.

Special trains are being run into Berlin from the Soviet zone, bringing delegations to join the demonstration, and other delegations are coming from as far away as Yugoslavia, the Communist press said.

The Soviet military administration's official newspaper accused the Western Allies of "inciting" Berliners against Russia and Communism. The entire Communist press railed against anti-Communists in the most abusive terms it has yet used. It warned that Thursday's street fighting might have "serious consequences."

The obvious aim was to build up tomorrow's Communist counter-rally and intensify Communist demands that Berliners kick out the elected anti-Communist city government.

The Russian-licensed news agency ADN reported last night that a German-led spy ring "supported" by American and British authorities, had been smashed in eastern Germany with the arrest of 15 agents.

The report said all the arrested agents were under orders from Kurt Schumacher, Social Democrat leader in western Germany, and had "the fullest support of American and British occupation authorities." It hinted that Schumacher's Social Democrats operated an underground throughout the Russian zone.

Schumacher, in Hannover, declined to make any statement on the Soviet agency's charges.

German press reports said Soviet authorities have warned all German newspapermen working for western sector news agencies and newspapers that they will be arrested if caught in the Soviet sector.

"There is a price of 150 Soviet marks on your head," the warning said. "A reward in that amount is being offered to every policeman who brings a west sector newspaperman into Soviet headquarters."

The Soviet propaganda chief in Germany, Col. Serge Tulpanov, called on Germans and "all anti-Fascists" to join the Soviet Union to prevent another war.

"Those who do not want to become victims of a new war must be strong fighters for democracy," he told delegates of European countries at a two-day meeting sponsored by the Soviets for "victims of Fascism." He blamed the western powers for the Berlin and German crisis.

CHECKING 'NEW TWISTS' IN ATOM ESPIONAGE HUNT

Open Hearings May Be Delayed—Gen. Groves Hints at Wartime Leaks to Russia.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11 (AP)—Congressional spy investigators said today "new twists" in their atomic espionage hunt may postpone public hearings another week. The hearings—postponed for a week once before—were supposed to start up again next Wednesday.

"We are checking testimony in connection with this new spy case," Chairman J. Parnell Thomas (Rep.), New Jersey, told reporters. "We still are aiming at Wednesday but there is a possibility of a week's postponement. We've had to call in additional witnesses to verify testimony. A lot depends on whether we will have to call in more of them."

"Another committee member said testimony the committee has been getting behind locked doors this week has produced "new twists" that require a thorough checking "so we won't go off half-cocked in the open hearings."

Results so Far.

About all the committee claims to have dug up on atomic spying so far is testimony that:

1. More than a ton of uranium compounds and some 25 pounds of pure uranium metal were shipped from this country to Russia during the war. Uranium is a vital component of the atom bomb.

2. Some atomic scientists leaked information to Soviet agents.

Lt. Gen. Leslie R. Groves, wartime chief of the Manhattan atom bomb project, hinted to reporters yesterday there might have been some leaks to Russia. He said obviously not every last one of the 600,000 employes on the project had the "utmost integrity."

Gen. Groves Testifies.

Grove spent two hours with the committee yesterday but batted down all questions about what took place in the closed-door session. Now retired, he is vice president of Remington-Rand in charge of advanced research.

Members said three other persons formerly connected with the Manhattan project also testified, plus a scientist called in for expert information about certain documents related to the bomb.

Groves told reporters one thing was sure—he didn't ship any atomic materials to Russia and wouldn't have done so "under any circumstances." He said he had no recollection that any such shipments were made during the war, but added that he wasn't the one who would have had the power to authorize them.

Inquiries in Recess.

Both the spy investigation and an inquiry into whether Communists dominate the CIO fur workers union and the fur industry were in recess for the weekend.

Representative Max Schwabe (Rep.), Missouri, chairman of a labor subcommittee prying into the union's operations, told reporters he will recommend contempt action against any witness who refuses to say whether he is or ever has been a Communist.

Up to now, the subcommittee has been hearing representatives of management. Fourteen witnesses have been asked whether they were Communists and 14 have denied it.

Union witnesses will be heard next week, probably starting Thursday. The same question will be put to them. The union president, Ben Gold, is a member of the Communist party's national executive committee.

Complaint of Employer.

Yesterday a New York furrier protested that mass union picketing is becoming "an instrument of insurrection" in the hands of Communistic labor leaders.

The complaint came from Harry Bloom, second vice president of the Associated Fur Manufacturers, Inc., and chief management negotiator in the drafting of the industry's latest contract with the union.

He denounced the practice of various unions which combine to picket a single business firm. The Taft-Hartley law he said, should be amended to limit picketing to the specific unions involved in a labor dispute.

Bloom told Congressmen that the tactic of massing union strength against one employer is part of "the plans of Communism."

"Unless you do something about it, you're going to have trouble in every city of the land," he warned, pounding angrily on the table. "If you don't correct that, you'll have revolution."

AUTO HITS TRAIN, DRIVER HURT

Raymond Schnarre, 30 years old, suffered severe cuts of the face and head last midnight when the automobile he was driving ran into a Gulf, Mobile & Ohio freight train near his home at 2100 West Nineteenth street, Granite City.

He was taken to St. Elizabeth's Hospital in Granite City.

Meat-Cutting Expert Eyes Prices, Gives Butchers Bit of Hot Tongue

Former Adviser to OPA Calculates Charges Are 10 to 25 Pct. Too High Due to Improper Trimming.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 11 (UP)—The trouble with meat is that nobody cuts it right, according to the man who cut up a cow for the OPA.

There's one kind of meat that the animal walks with and there's another kind that holds him together, Walter Balsom said. They are both fine as long as they're not kept on the same piece of beef. When they are, a lot of meat gets wasted.

When you try to cook the two kinds of meat together, one gets done and the other doesn't and goes into the garbage.

"The butcher should have trimmed the cheaper meat off and sold it that way," he said.

Cheaper meat, says the man who used to tell the OPA how meat should be cut and now tells Safeway Stores the same, is more work to cook.

"But it has an equally important place in the diet," he said. "Inexpensive cuts are just as rich as the costly ones in vitamins, minerals and proteins."

Trimming off cheaper meats, fat and bones would give the housewife 25 cents more meat for her dollar, Balsom said. He asserted the butcher wouldn't lose money, either, because pleased customers would keep coming back.

"Most butchers trim the meat after weighing," he said. "If they'd trim it before they weigh it, people could get meat for 10 to 25 per cent less."

He took an 89-cent-a-pound rib roast, hacked off the extra fat and bones and calculated that, for the usable meat the buyer got, the roast cost $1.24 a pound.

He took a 95-cent porterhouse steak, at $1.07 a pound. Minus extras, it was 73 cents worth, a price that included 22 cents of hamburger.

A leg of lamb with a long bone shank cost $4.04. If he hadn't paid for the bone, it would have been $3.61.

ONE OF 4 MISSING U.S. PILOTS IS FOUND IN SOUTH FORMOSA

MANILA, Sept. 11 (UP)—One of four American fighter pilots missing since Wednesday on a training flight has been found in southern Formosa, where he was forced to make an emergency landing, Air Force officials at Clark Field said today.

A spokesman said the pilot has been returned to Clark Field. His name was withheld and there was no announcement as to whether he was injured. The spokesman said his plane, a P-47, was badly damaged.

The four planes were reported missing after they ran into a storm while on a flight from Clark Field. All available aircraft have been thrown into the search for the other three pilots.

REMAINS OF INFANT BAKED IN OVEN FOUND; WOMAN HELD

BOONSBORO, Md., Sept. 11 (AP)—The remains of a baby which the Washington county medical examiner said "apparently was baked in an oven either before or after death" were found last night by State police in the home of a 33-year-old woman. Police said they were holding the woman for questioning.

Detective Sgt. J. J. Cassidy and State Police Sgt. W. W. Corbin found the infant's body in a bedroom. They went to the house on a "tip" by relatives.

The officers said the woman and her 10-year-old daughter were in the three-room apartment. The woman told them her husband had been dead eight years.

YOUTH KILLED IN CRASH OF MOTORCYCLE, AUTO

Pevely (Mo.) Youth Was Passenger on Bike—Its Driver Hurt.

Kenneth Helenschmidt, 19 years old, of Pevely, Mo., died last night at St. Anthony's Hospital of head injuries suffered yesterday afternoon when a motorcycle on which he was a passenger collided with an automobile and then hit a parked truck on Highway 61 near Pevely, Mo.

The driver of the motorcycle, Willard G. Dickemann of Barnhart, Mo., suffered head and back injuries and was taken to St. Anthony's Hospital.

Ernest J. Ramey of Festus, Mo., driver of the automobile, told highway patrolmen he and the motorcycle both were northbound. He said he started to pass the motorcycle and it swerved suddenly in front of him. Ramey's car struck a parked automobile after colliding with the motorcycle.

Suffers Broken Leg, Head Injuries When Hit by Auto.

Chris Swanson, 1519 South Seventh street, suffered head injuries and a fractured right leg early today when he was struck by an automobile when crossing South Broadway in the 1300 block. He was taken to City Hospital.

The driver, Arie F. Casey, 4509A Fair avenue, told police Swanson stopped as though to let the automobile pass, and then stepped suddenly in its path.

Joseph Scaglione, 10 years old, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dominic Scaglione, 5544 Plover avenue, suffered injuries to his head and left leg and fractured ribs on the left side yesterday when he was struck by a motorcycle when crossing West Florissant avenue at Adelaide avenue. George Mudge, 1445 Warren street, who was riding the vehicle, told police the boy stepped from the curb into the street and he was unable to avoid striking him.

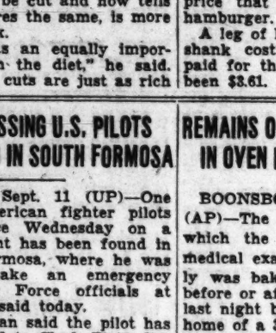
OUT OF THIS WORLD



The catchall for castoffs, the old-fashioned attic with its accumulations of generations. There was the Morris chair and grandma's plush sofa with the springs popping through the fabric; trunks that bulged with the silk and satin social life of another era; magazines and papers with yesterday's news gathering dust and age; rounding featherbeds; the headless elegance of the old dress form; cobwebs high in the dim rafters and on the roof the cozy patter of spring rains.

The old-fashioned attic has gone with the horse and buggy. It is out of this world. Today's householders have neither the space nor the inclination to accumulate possessions for which they have no use. SALESMEN WANTED

UNITED STATES CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Will appoint salesmen to call on business and professional men in St. Louis, southern Missouri and central Illinois. The work is permanent with earning opportunity of from $7000 to $12,000 yearly. The work is on a liberal commission and bonus basis with a $75 weekly minimum guarantee during training period. Applicants should be preferably between thirty (30) and fifty (50) years of age. Due to concentrated prospects a territory covers small area, however a car is necessary. Successful applicants will be given a complete course of field training by our district manager. Good references must be supplied at the time of interview in St. Louis. For appointment, write F. C. Zeigler, United States Chamber of Commerce, First National Bank Building, Chicago 3, Ill., giving sales experience.

EXTRA MONEY
Full or Part Time
$75-$125 Weekly

You can earn that kind of money and you don't need any experience if you can work from 6 to 9 each evening, Monday through Friday. This a proven plan operating here and in other principal cities. No experience necessary as we completely train you, but must have good appearance and be willing to work. College students acceptable. Let us show you how our part-time workers earn more money in their spare time than on their regular full-time jobs.

It's Worth Investigating

Apply 507 Carleton Bldg. Monday, Sept. 13, 6 p.m. only, no other time.

A NATIONALLY known paint manufacturer has an immediate opening for an outstanding salesman, between the ages of 27 and 37, to travel a nearby territory, handling an established dealer trade. RUSSIANS ASSAIL U.S. POSITION ON ITALIAN COLONIES

Soviet Radio Says Marshall's Decision Not to Attend Paris Session Violates Treaty.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11 (UP)—Russia has fired the opening gun in a campaign to make propaganda capital out of the problem of Italy's prewar colonies, some diplomatic sources said today.

The State Department had no official comment, but these other observers said they saw signs of a renewed verbal onslaught against the Western powers in Russia's latest note on the Italian question. The text of the Russian note was announced by the Moscow radio last night. The note said Russia has no objection to a meeting of Big Four representatives in Paris Monday to see if some agreement could not be reached on the disposal of the Italian colonies. But it accused the United States, among other things, of violating the Italian peace treaty.

A week ago the Soviet Union suggested to the United States, Britain and France that the four foreign ministers meet on the colonies question before Sept. 15.

Criticism of Marshall.

The Russian note said both Britain and France had agreed to a council meeting, but added the "refusal of the United States to send her Secretary of State (George C. Marshall) to the meeting makes impossible a meeting of the council of Foreign Ministers as such and thus violates the Italian peace treaty."

The note accused the United States of a "completely arbitrary and unacceptable" act in suggesting in its note to Russia Sept. 8 that a council of the four Foreign Ministers themselves would not be of much use if the Russians had no new proposals to put forward.

Russia's proposal for the Big Four meeting was announced first by the Moscow radio. Later a note to the governments concerned suggesting that the meeting be held yesterday—Sept. 10.

Secretary Marshall told the Soviet Union last Wednesday that the United States could not possibly be ready for such a meeting before Monday. And he said that he himself could not be present, but that he would send a "duly qualified representative." It was reported that Lewis W. Douglas, Ambassador to Britain, will be named to represent Marshall at Paris.

Marshall also said in his note that he didn't think the conference would do much good in view of nearness of the Sept. 15 deadline—unless the Russians had some new conciliatory proposals to offer. There was no hint of any in their original note.

What Treaty Provides.

Under the terms of the Italian peace treaty, the foreign ministers of the Soviet Union, United States, England and France must agree on the disposal of Italy's former African empire by Sept. 15 or turn the problem over to the United Nations.

Russia reportedly favors the return to Italian control of all its prewar colonies. Britain objects to this. The United States policy on the issue is still secret, but it was believed to lie somewhere between the Russian and British extremes.

The foreign ministers considered the Italian colonies problem at length last year and then referred it to their deputies. The deputies sent fact-finding commissions to Africa and held many conferences, but finally gave up. They handed the whole question back to their chiefs without agreement.

Flashes of Life

Hope Chokes on One.

HOLLYWOOD—Comedian Bob Hope choked on one of 'em.

Bob was gagging at an after-dinner rehearsal for his N.B.C. winter radio show when he gasped for breath. Other members of the cast tried vainly to help him, then called Hollywood Emergency Hospital.

Dr. Nicholas M. Ribo removed a fish bone from Hope's throat. Bob recovered his composure and the rehearsal went on.

Drinking Party.

CHICAGO—Chicago's Municipal Court judges are throwing a drinking party Sept. 23 but not one of them will touch a drop.

The party was suggested by the city's traffic expert, Franklin M. Kreml, to demonstrate the reliability of chemical tests for intoxication.

Kreml wants to prove that so-called drunkometer tests are accurate enough to stand up in court. He told a meeting of judges:

"I would like to bring four to six subjects before the judges' meeting, have them drink good hard liquor in varying amounts, then have a qualified toxicologist analyze the results."

"A splendid idea," Chief Justice Edward S. Scheffler exclaimed. The other judges agreed and the date was set.

Big Salmon Shipment.

KETCHIKAN, Alaska, Sept. 11 (UP)—More than $7,000,000 worth of canned salmon, the largest single load ever to leave southeastern Alaska, will be shipped from here next week. About 310,000 cases will be aboard the Chief Washakie, a Liberty ship, when it leaves for Prince Rupert, B.C.

NEW CREDIT RULES ON AUTO SALES LISTED

Federal Reserve Board Regulations to Go Into Effect Sept. 20.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11 (AP)—These new Federal Reserve Board rules for buying automobiles on the installment plan will go into effect Sept. 20:

A down payment of one third the cash price must be made on pre-1938 models, used or new 1949 models or other new cars.

For 1938-48 model cars the down payment must be either one third the cash price or one third the "average retail value."

If the balance after the down payment is over $1000, 18 months will be allowed for full payment. The period will be 15 months if the balance is less than $1000.

"Average retail value" is determined by checking official price guides which the Reserve Board listed along with its announcement of the new installment regulations. To make up for price differences in various parts of the country, the board specified these areas for each guide:

States east of the Mississippi river—American Auto Appraisal, Market Analysis Report. Arizona, California, Idaho, Nevada, Oregon, Utah, Washington — Kelley Bluebook Official Guide. Idaho, Oregon and Wisconsin only—Northwest Used Car Values. Wisconsin only—Official Wisconsin Automobile Valuation Guide.

All areas may use these guides: Bluebook (executive edition), Redbook National Used Car Market Report, National Automobile Dealers Association Official Used Car Guide; effective Oct. 1, the Official Automobile Guide (price edition) and Official Automobile Price Guide (price edition).

If the guides list overdrives or automatic transmissions as extra equipment, that is to be included as part of the car's value, but that does not apply to radios or heaters.

5 AMERICANS AMONG 103 EVACUEES FROM HYDERBAD

MADRAS, India, Sept. 11 (AP)—An official spokesman said today 103 evacuees from Hyderabad, including five Americans, arrived in Madras yesterday. He said others from the interior might arrive today or tomorrow.

India has asked the Nizam of Hyderabad to allow Indian troops to be sent to Secunderabad, asserting conditions have deteriorated in the state. Prime Minister Nehru said yesterday the troops will march into the princely state, which has refused to join India, regardless of opposition.

John M. Smyth, Chicago, Dies.

CHICAGO, Sept. 11 (AP)—John M. Smyth, president of the Chicago furniture firm bearing his name, died Thursday night. He was 66 years old. He was the son of the founder of the 81-year-old firm, one of the largest furniture stores in the country.

U.S. TROOPSHIP EVACUATES 8000 ON VOLCANIC ISLAND

Another Army Vessel on Way to Help Remove Filipinos From Camiguin.

(Pictures in Everyday Magazine.)

MANILA, Sept. 11 (AP)—Many of the 20,000 Filipinos who had remained on the volcanic isle of Camiguin were evacuated on a United States Army troopship today from the ominous shadow of erupting Mount Hibokhibok.

The mile-high volcano still blew out dangerous but not deadly gases, and geologists saw a possibility of a new and violent eruption, but for the moment at least the situation appeared to be in hand.

A second Army transport was on its way to the island to help evacuate refugees.

The 17,812-ton transport Gen. William Weigel picked up 8000 at the east coast of Binoni and the south coast of Sagay and removed them to nearby Mindanao island.

Island authorities said the two transports and other smaller craft would have the island cleared of inhabitants by Tuesday. Dehydrated food was flown to the hungry islanders by an American Navy flying boat which took off from Manila, 450 miles away.

The evacuation was ordered when acidic ash began raining down late Thursday. Alfredo Cruz, a Filipino on Camiguin, said in a message to Manila that the ash burned the skin and inflamed the eyes, noses and throats of inhabitants. Along with the ashes came the gases. A sulphuric smell hung over the island.

Landslides Thursday night and yesterday morning plugged up the new crater on the east slope which had been letting the pent-up gases escape, but a new crater opened on the west side.

CHARGES AGAINST 2 BOYS, 9, DROPPED AFTER RENO FIRE

RENO, Nev., Sept. 11 (AP)—Arson charges have been dismissed in the cases of two small Negro boys accused of setting a fire Aug. 15 that killed five persons and injured 137 others. District Attorney Harold Taber said the youngsters, each 9 years old, were freed on his recommendation.

This, he said, was based on a Nevada statute which says children between the ages of 8 and 14 are incapable of committing a crime unless they had clear knowledge of its wrongfulness.

Taber said also there was no evidence to corroborate statements by the boys that they started the fire when playing with matches in the basement of the old downtown building.

FRANZ LEHAR SERIOUSLY ILL

VIENNA, Sept. 11 (AP)—Franz Lehar, composer of "The Merry Widow" and other operettas, is seriously ill at his home in Bad Ischl in the American occupation zone of Austria.

Two Viennese specialists, rushed to the bedside of the 79-year-old composer, termed his condition "very serious." The nature of his illness was not disclosed.

CHRONIC LIARS MAKE NO DENT ON TESTING DEVICE

Tripped Just as Easily as Normally Truthful, Researchers Say.

BOSTON, Sept. 11 (AP)—Chronic liars are not able to deceive Fordham University's lie detector one bit more than truthful persons, when the latter are trying to lie.

How this detector caught the lies of both kinds, all boys up to the age 19, was reported to the American Psychological Association today by Drs. Joseph F. Kubis and Fabian L. Rouke, respectively of Fordham and of City College, New York.

The Fordham tests were made to find out just how much a lie detector can be trusted.

The Fordham detector works by reading the amount of electric current flowing from the palms of both hands while a person is answering questions.

Pairs of boys were left in a room with one quarter. They were instructed that one should steal the silver piece, and afterward both should deny guilt. Half the boys so used were delinquents and chronic liars. The others were truthful.

The questions were a mixture on emotional things, interspersed with two repetitions: "Did you take the quarter," to which answer had to be No. The truth could be told in all other answers.

The results showed conclusively that these boys and young men were able to fool the detector once, but, if they were questioned several times, the fluctuating currents in their palms betrayed their lies. For a single set of questions the results of the detector were virtually no better than chance.

With two questionings the accuracy rose to 70 per cent, and with more repetitions went well above 90 per cent.

NATIONAL LEADER SPEAKS AT ILLINOIS LEGION MEETING

CHICAGO, Sept. 11 (AP)—James F. O'Neil, national commander of the American Legion, said yesterday that "if democracy cannot stand the test of comparison with Communism, then democracy does not deserve to prevail."

"The choice confronting you and the world in this decade of decision is clear," he told the thirtieth annual convention of the Legion's Department of Illinois. "It is either the Marshall plan or the Molotov plan. It is either Christian democracy or pagan Communism."

In another address, Gov. Dwight Green told the delegates of the benefits granted veterans in Illinois.

The Legion auxiliary yesterday nominated officers for the coming year. Nomination is tantamount to election. The election will be held Sunday. Mrs. Walter J. Hoffman of Park Ridge was nominated for president. Mrs. Rohland Peterson of East St. Louis was elected chaplain of the Legion Auxiliary's 40 and 8. The retiring president of the 40 and 8 auxiliary, Mrs. Fanny Ulirich of Alton, was elected to the national board.

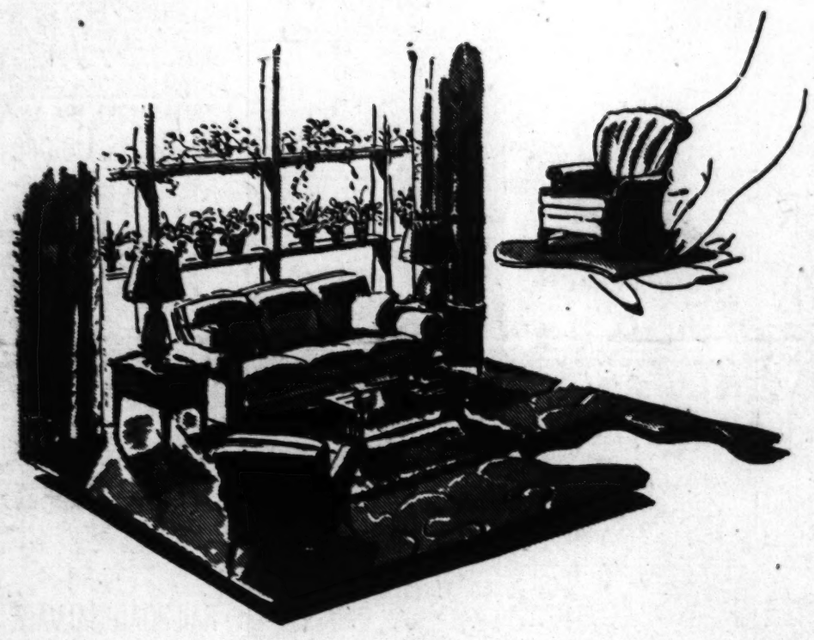
THE ADVENTURE OF CHANGE



When the leaves turn and the air is crisp and tang-y, one gets the urge to be on the move, to make changes. Once upon a time, autumn meant a change in living quarters. One moved into town or out to the suburbs; one moved out of a flat or apartment into a pin-bright, spanking-new houses of one's own.

Just now, changes of this kind are limited. However, there are many things that can be done for a summer-faded, outworn or outgrown home or flat. Possibilities are endless when it comes to re-doing, and Want Ad columns can lead to the adventure of change.

They'll Be Missed

Farewell, Summer Radio Productions

By Goodman Ace
Substituting for John Crosby

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.

THE days grow perceptibly shorter and the summer hiatus in radio comes all too swiftly to a close. All too soon all of the winter replacements will be back.

GOODMAN ACE

My radio, having rested its husky speaker with 13 weeks of s o f t, soothing, $2500 package shows, has already started giving out with those big laughs once again from the $25,000 star - studded, super-dooper Hoopers.

Farewell, Robert Shaw Chorale. So long, R.F.D. America. Goodby, Let's Talk Hollywood. Au revoir, Jane Pickens show. Auf wiedersehn, An Evening with Romberg. R.I.P., Rexall Summer Theater.

The top 15 will all soon be back from their vacations, and we're just dying to know where they've been, and what they did, and how cheap he was doing it. Aren't you? Of course you are.

★ ★ ★

ANNOUNCER: "Well, Bob (Jack, Fred, Edgar, Charlie, Red, Archie, Eddie, Phil, George, Bing, Al, Amos—check your favorite), how did you spend your vacation?"

Bob: "Well, I had a room in a hotel that was so small that—(a) the mice were hunchbacked; (b) the bellboys were midgets; (c) it cost me a nickel every time I tried to get in."

And my radio will blow a tube with house-shaking belly-laughs; and I will walk busily around my room straightening the pictures on the walls.

Just why the radio moguls decided the people don't want to laugh in the summer time, I don't understand. Also I don't always understand what it is the people in the studios of the winter replacement shows are laughing at.

★ ★ ★

LAST YEAR—toward the end of a certain winter replacement's season—I remember the comedian had just told a joke about a woman with two heads. This got the big laugh it so richly deserves. Then the comedian, who was broadcasting that week from a midwestern town instead of his home base, Hollywood, ad libbed: "Gee, how did we write that joke in there—and George isn't even here with us." This private little quip about his writer not being with him brought an even bigger laugh than the original two-headed woman joke.

During the last war—I beg your pardon, during World War II—Bob Hope once did a broadcast from a camp deep down in Georgia. He called on a soldier in the audience to come up on the platform. As the soldier approached the mike, Bob said, "You look like Barney Dean."

Well! My radio never got over that one.

Every once in a while, during Album of Familiar Music, I hear a recurrent chuckle—a hang over from that big laugh the night Bob Hope said the soldier looked like Barney Dean.

★ ★ ★

PERHAPS I should explain. I happen to know Barney Dean. He was once a stooge for Crosby and Hope, but he was a very funny chap, and pretty soon they had him doing odd writing jobs on their pictures. Nice fellow, Barney. But I'm sure that deep down in Georgia they wouldn't know him from one of their governors.

As a matter of fact, I remember, after the laugh had died down—oh, say, about two or three hours later, it seemed—Bob said to the audience, "What are you laughing about? You don't even know Barney Dean."

Well! The laugh that got was not only bigger than the first one. It was bigger than Don Wilson's!

★ ★ ★

LET ME tell you one more. On the Morey Amsterdam show there was a joke the other Saturday evening, and, as radio jokes go, it was pretty good. In it Morey told somebody that when he was a child, his father wanted him to be a pharmacist, and his mother wanted him to be a musician. And when he grew up he pleased them both. So on cue somebody asked him "What did you do?"

Morey was supposed to reply, "I hung around drug stores and whistled at girls."

But Morey lost his place in the script. Instead he replied, "I hung around cigar stores and whistled at girls."

That didn't bother the audience. They knew the joke was over and how they laughed!

I can't see it. Maybe with television I'll be able to.

Meanwhile, welcome back winter replacements. Where have you been? What have you been doing? What's old?

Try and Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

A SMALL bookseller in Cleveland ordered a quantity of new titles from the Baker and Taylor Co. They answered, "Regret we cannot fill your new order until payment has been made on the last one." The bookseller replied, "Please cancel. Cannot wait that long."

IRVING HOFFMAN tells of the Hollywood star who returned from Europe with a couple of undeclared bottles of perfume carefully hidden among her unmentionables. A customs inspector had just about finished examining her baggage when his hand roamed to the danger zone of the valise. Her small daughter clapped hands excitedly and burst out, "Oh, Mummy, he's getting warm, isn't he?"

BANQUETED in Hollywood by the Friars, George Jessel thanked his friends for the success he had achieved. "I haven't got much today," he said, "but what there is is clear profit. I was born with nothing at all, and a few days later even some of that was taken away from me. Somebody stole my blanket . . ."

A CANDIDATE for the Edinburgh police force was asked, "How would you disperse a crowd quietly and quickly?" He answered, "I'd pass the hat." They made him a sergeant right off the bat.

What Am I Saying!

THE man who spends his money like water often finds it difficult to liquidate his debts. There's no water, of course, in a permanent wave, or in watered stock, but both of them have sunk many a man.

SHIPWRECKED MEN SEEK NEWS OF COMRADES

Three men (lower right), stranded on a beach near Cape Spencer, Alaska, after the fishing tender Caledonia ran aground Monday, scrawled this "How others" message in the sand to inquire about seven companions from whom they became separated. The Coast Guard cutter Citrus rescued all 10 in the party yesterday.

RESCUING FILIPINOS FROM VOLCANIC ISLAND

Camiguin islanders (above), with all the personal belongings they can carry, line the beach awaiting rescue from their volcano-ravaged homeland in the southern Philippines. Below, the refugees stream aboard the freighter Eugene Lykes standing offshore. Most of the island's 45,000 residents have been evacuated by rescue ships and those remaining were being removed today as Mount Hibokhibok threatened new eruptions.

My OPINION

By MARTHA CARR

Dear Martha Carr:

IN so many of the letters written you there are complaints against the mother-in-law. I would like to say a few words in praise of them instead. I live in a court where most of us haven't been married so very long. It is disgusting to listen to the girls picking their husbands' mothers to pieces. Their own mothers come out several times each week. If the mother-in-law comes to see her son for an hour it is terrible. She is butting in. I have met a few of the mothers-in-law and have found them far above their sons' wives. I think most of the trouble is caused by jealousy on the part of the girls. I love my mother-in-law. She is the one who gave me my fine husband. If some of the girls who are so complaining would spend their time taking care of their homes and minding their own affairs they wouldn't have so much time to pick the mothers-in-law to pieces, and their husbands would be much happier. No one likes to have his mother found fault with all the time. If a girl will just treat her husband's mother right she will find she has a friend worth having. Mothers-in-law can be pretty wonderful people but daughters-in-law should try to be wonderful too. READER.

Dear Martha Carr:

MY SON is to be married soon. He is going to rent his suit and the three who are to stand up with him are also having to rent theirs. This means they are all going to have to buy black shoes. Does my son have to pay for the rental of the suits and also for the shoes? I have always heard the bridesmaids' dresses are paid for by the bride, so suppose the bridegroom must have to pay for his attendants' clothing also.

MRS. J. H. C.

If your son is going to the expense of renting suits for himself and the wedding party and buying all of them shoes, he might as well buy himself a suit, dispense with all attendants, and be done with it! He is under no obligation to either buy or rent suits or shoes for anyone but himself. If you are under the impression the bride pays for her attendants' dresses you have been misinformed. My "Guide for the Bride" will tell you who pays for what, and also answers those other questions so puzzling to those about to be married. If you will mail me a stamped, self-addressed envelope I'll send this booklet to you.

Modern Marriages

By Dr. Paul Popenoe

WILD OATS are the subject of today's lesson. Not the Avena fatua of the botanists, but—well, the other kind—you know.

Beverly brings the subject up: "I have heard people say that if a man hasn't sewed his wild oats before marriage, he will sow them after marriage," she states. "Just what does that mean, if anything; and is it true, Dr. Popenoe?"

It is one of those half-truths, or maybe 10 per cent truths, that can be misinterpreted and misapplied disastrously, Beverly. If a woman assumes that it is an advantage to marry a man who has been licentious and promiscuous, if she assumes that he is more likely to be honorable, loyal and well-behaved after marriage, she is likely to get an unpleasant surprise.

★ ★ ★

SCIENTIFIC STUDIES confirm everyday observation—the man who has adhered to high standards of personal conduct before marriage is the man who is more likely to adhere to high standards of personal conduct after marriage. Of course, the same is true of women.

Who started the idea that you mention, about wild oats? I suspect it may have begun with cases like that of Alexander, whom I knew long ago. He was tied to his mother's apron strings, had never gone out with girls at all. Finally he married—on the rebound, you might say, from the shock of his mother's death.

★ ★ ★

HE FOUND HIMSELF quite unprepared to accept the responsibilities of adult life. Attempting to reassure himself, attempting (in vain) to prove to himself that he was "a real man," he sought feminine companionship of lowest moral standards and formed many mistaken ideas.

Struck by the contrast between his timidity before marriage and his later callous disregard for his wife, people said, "She should have married a man who had sewed his wild oats before she met him." What she really should have done was to marry a man who had grown up before he married—and grown up decently.

Wild oats are never a profitable crop. Ask any farmer.

QUESTION: Girls seem to prefer work, rather than to marry.

Answer: Depends on whom they would have to marry! United States Department of Labor reports that only eight out of every 100 women in the labor force are working "solely because they like to work."

Q. There is a big demand for school teachers, and I'd go into that profession if I thought it would give me a fair chance of finding a husband.

A. It will if you go into home economics, and teach in a small community, not a large city. Rural schools offer good opportunities for matrimony.

Q. You know perfectly well that no woman really enjoys home-making.

A. The women themselves don't know it. Only 8 per cent of women told the Canadian Institute of Public Opinion that they found home-making uninteresting. That doesn't mean that they don't want to do some other things, too.

They'll Do It Every Time

Leader, Not A Dictator, As Teacher

By Angelo Patri

OUR conception of education must change, and with that change will come the new school, the one we have been working for now for more than a quarter of a century.

Education means fitting one for life, that is of HIS life, the activities he will enjoy, the relationships with people and things about him. Education for that goal is not confined to books. Book learning is only a part of it. The greater part lies outside the books, among people. This implies a sort of school, a kind of teaching that is unknown in most of the schools of the country.

★ ★ ★

IN THIS COUNTRY'S beginning the people were farmers who raised most of what they used. The families were large and the children helped to do the necessary work on the place, and so supplemented their education gained from books. This no longer is possible, but we are continuing the schools of 200 years ago. They, natually, are failing to educate the children to fit them for the life they are to lead. The results can be read in every newspaper in the country.

School must become an extension of community life. The activities, the interests of the community must enter the school; and the school must reach out into the home if education is to be worth its name. This means a new view of education to most parents and teachers who were trained in the old schools where quiet obedience to orders, lessons learned "by heart" were the whole of education. That won't work any more.

★ ★ ★

HANDS ARE the instruments we have for gaining a knowledge of our world. The hand is closely associated with the mind, and the two must work together to enrich the thinking and ability of the learner—be he two, 20 or 80 years of age. Deny children the use of their hands, and they are denied the full enrichment of their being.

Children must learn early to read, to count, to talk clearly, to write plainly. So far we are at one with the old school. Reading is basic to an education, but reading can be active. The things read about can be of personal interest to the child and he can do something about what he reads and so enrich his mind and body. Doing something about what is learned is the heart of the matter.

To do anything well the worker must be free to use his own mind, to initiate effort, and to complete his project. For this he does not need a dictator but a leader. There lies the difference, the great difference between the old school and the new. A leader is needed in the teacher's chair, and we are not training leaders. We'd better start now before the children get away from us completely.

Economical Menus for Tomorrow

By Meta Given

DID you know that you can keep from crying when grinding horseradish or chopping a lot of onions for pickle making by folding a big square of cheese cloth double and big enough to cover your eyes and nose? Dip the cloth in hot water and wring it out tight and tie over your face to look like a surgeon. One can see through the cloth and the gas which produces the tears is kept out of the eyes.

Did you know that you can keep rice, macaroni, noodles and jelly from boiling over by rubbing a little sweet flavored fat on top inside of the cooking kettle about two inches down?

That an inverted custard cup or an old tea cup without a handle put inside the casserole or deep pan for a deep dish pie will suck up the juice and prevent it from running over? The cup also serves to hold the pastry up level so it will brown uniformly and beautifully. When the pie is cut and the edge of the cup is lifted up, the juice flows down into the fruit to make the desired juicy filling.

Deep Dish Peach Pie.

Five and one-half cups sliced fresh juicy peaches, one and one-half cups sugar, one-fourth teaspoon vanilla, rich biscuit dough.

Grease a six-cup casserole with butter. Put a custard cup or teacup inverted into the casserole. Add half the peaches, then sprinkle in the sugar and drizzle on vanilla and then add rest of the peaches. Have a rich biscuit dough made using one and one-half cups flour, one-third cup shortening, three-fourths teaspoon salt and two-thirds cup milk. Mix in usual way and roll out to one-fourth inch thickness, keeping shape circular, oval or rectangular depending on shape of casserole or baking dish. Fit dough over top of peaches, trim and flute around the edge. Cut vents in the center to form a design. Bake in a hot oven (450 F.) for 20 minutes, then lower temperature to moderate (350 F.) and continue baking until peaches are soft or for about 15 minutes longer. Remove to cake rack and cool to lukewarm. Serves five to six.

Low Cost Menus.

SUNDAY

BREAKFAST — Fruit cup of melon balls, diced pears, plums and grapes, scrambled eggs, blueberry muffins.

DINNER—Cushion style stuffed pork shoulder (raisin bread dressing), buttered lima beans and left-over corn, date-apple-marshmallow Waldorf salad, bread and butter, deep dish peach pie.

SUPPER—Tuna fish salad sandwiches, potato chips, cream cheese cookies.

Cream of Celery Soup

Ingredients: One-half cup finely cut celery (use narrow top stems below leaves), two cups water, leaves from one bunch celery, four tablespoons butter or margarine, four tablespoons flour, two cups milk, one and one-fourth teaspoon salt, freshly-ground pepper (to taste).

Method: Put the finely cut celery in the bottom of a medium-sized saucepan and add the water. Now place leaves in saucepan carefully so they will float on top. Bring to a boil and simmer until celery is cooked, about 10 minutes. Meanwhile melt butter or margarine, add flour and blend well; remove from range and add milk slowly, stirring until smooth after each addition. Skim out celery leaves from saucepan, leaving the finely cut celery slices at bottom; press liquid from leaves back into saucepan with a spoon or fork. Add celery and liquid to white sauce along with salt and pepper and mix well. Return to range and stir constantly over moderate heat until soup thickens and boils. Serve hot. Makes four servings.

A "campaign director" for the Wallace party is dispatched from New York City to the plains of Nebraska. It will be explained to the new boy, of course, that the windmill isn't an electric fan for cows.

My Day

Some Liberal Candidates

By Eleanor Roosevelt

NEW YORK.

IN addition to the presidential side of the coming elections, I have a special interest in some of the candidates running for Congress and state offices. Among them is Chester Bowles, running for Governor of Connecticut.

Mrs. Roosevelt

Mr. Bowles can speak with authority on price control and the way to prevent inflation. When we had OPA we did not have all we wanted, perhaps, but at least all of us were treated on the same basis, rich and poor alike. We received an equal ration, and prices in wartime did not equal those we have had since the theory of returning to the old methods of no control at all was accepted and given a fair trial both by Democrats and Republicans.

Connecticut has an opportunity to vote for a Governor who is a real liberal and who is capable of thinking through the problems that face us today. I hope Mr. Bowles wins.

★ ★ ★

IN MINNEAPOLIS, there is a young man who has proved himself a good mayor, and now is looking toward Washington. He is Hubert Humphrey, and he is running for the Senate seat now occupied by Joseph H. Ball. He showed courage at the Democratic convention, and leadership and organizing ability as well. He might infuse new life into a Congress that certainly needs it, and he would certainly stand for more liberal domestic policies than his opponent.

There are many other Democrats, such as Paul Douglas and Adlai Stevenson, who are running for office in Illinois—one for Governor and one for Senator. Both of them are liberals.

Mr. Stevenson had a very long and unique experience in preparing for the first United Nations General Assembly meeting in London. He learned what negotiation with other nations meant, and it certainly will help him in the national scene where patience and the art of negotiation must be practiced much as it is practiced in the international field.

★ ★ ★

IN CALIFORNIA, Chet Holifield is a young liberal who deserves our support. And, of course, I have a special interest in Helen Gahagan Douglas, who has made a great success as a congresswoman and who has done it through her constant interest in such things as affect the daily lives of the people.

These are just a few candidates picked at random who should inspire those who care enough about our Government to get out and work in the coming elections. There are many more, and everyone who looks around his own locality probably will find them and feel the urge to work for them. If we want to have a hand in shaping the future, it is only through work at home that we can hope to have any influence at all.

Contract Bridge

By Ely Culbertson

THOUGH many players do not realise it, the exact level at which a slam try is made is of great significance. Let's analyze an actual case:

South, dealer.
North-South vulnerable.

NORTH
♠ A K 8 4
♥ 9 5
♦ Q 10 6 3

WEST
♠ 10 2
♥ Q J 7 2
♦ J 9
♣ K J 8 4 3

EAST
♠ 9 7 5
♥ K 10 6 4
♦ K 2
♣ Q 10 8 2

SOUTH
♠ Q J 6 2
♥ A 8 3
♦ A 8 7 5 4
♣ 6

When this deal occurred in a high-stake rubber game, the bidding went:

South	West	North	East
1 ♦	Pass	1 ♠	Pass
2 ♠	Pass	4 ♦	Pass
4 ♠	Pass	5 ♣	Pass
6 ♠	Pass	Pass	Pass

East opened a heart, and there was no play for the slam contract.

Before analyzing the actual bidding, let's set down an alternative sequence:

South	West	North	East
1 ♦	Pass	1 ♠	Pass
2 ♠	Pass	3 ♣	Pass
3 ♠	Pass	4 ♦	Pass

In Sequence 1, South is given a difficult problem when North's five-club bid comes around. Previously, over North's jump raise in diamonds, South has signed off at four spades, disclaiming any active interest in a slam. Notwithstanding this sign-off, however, North has pushed forward to the five-level, thus announcing clearly that he is strong enough to go past the four-spade game level—"and how about it, partner?"

In view of such coaxing from across the table, South cannot be censured for taking the final step and jumping to six spades, since either a five-diamond or a five-spade bid there would be a super sign-off.

Now observe the slight but significant difference in Sequence 2. North still indicates his slam-mindedness, and mentions the same three suits, but he at no time goes to a bidding level that would encourage South to stretch a little. Thus, South cannot justifiably bid more than four spades over four diamonds—and North passes.

Take My Word for It

By Frank Colby

QUESTION: I note that some commentators pronounce the first syllable of "Comintern" and "Cominform" as "koe," to rhyme with "foe." Why?—A. de G.

Answer: Why? As Samuel Johnson said to an indignant woman who had demanded an explanation for an absurd error in his dictionary: "Ignorance, madam. Pure ignorance." Comintern is formed from Communist International. Cominform is from Communist Information (Bureau). Therefore, the first syllable should be "kom," as: KOM-in-tern; KOM-in-form.

Q. Can you give us a more refined term to replace "burp the baby"? How about "alleviate the baby"?—Mrs. L.M.C.

A. Alleviate is inaccurate. It means "to make easier to be endured; to lessen." My assistant, Dr. Etaoin Shrdlu, recommends: "Harumph! Ah . . . one should approach such—ah—biological functions with extreme delicacy. I should say, 'eructate the infant.' Harumph!" I fear, though, that American babies will continue to be burped in the traditional manner.

Q. In a recent magazine I have read the word "fofurraw." It does not appear in my Merriam-Webster's.—L.C.G.

A. The customary spelling is "fofarraw." It means "gaudy wearing apparel." From Ruxton's "Far West" (1848): "Thus equipped, with both his better halves attired in all the glory of fofarraw, he went his way rejoicing." Fofarraw (FOE-fuh-raw) is of unknown origin.

Q. A co-worker insists on dictating the word pursuant as "per-SWAHNT." Make him stop it, will you?—M. G.

A. Co-worker, stop it! Better say: per-SYOO-unt; or: per-SOO-unt.

Q. How do you pronounce the word adult? Is the accent on the first or second syllable?—Mrs. F.J.I.

A. The dictionaries sanction both uh-DULT and AD-ult. It's a matter of choice. I prefer AD-ult as the noun, uh-DULT as the adjective.

Q. Last spring, at a commencement exercise, the main speaker pronounced baccalaureate as "BAK-luh-reet." Wrong? — Mrs. A.E.T.

A. Wrong. The only sanctioned pronunciation is: BAK-uh-LAW-ree-it.

Season scrambled eggs with a little Worcestershire sauce, as well as salt and freshly ground pepper; then serve with creamed dried beef and mushrooms for Sunday morning breakfast. To make this a company meal start with a fresh fruit cocktail, add popovers, lots of good strong coffee and home-made peach or plum preserves.
